

Dear Melissa

I am writing to you in confidence that the contents of this letter will hopefully make your day a whole lot better and inform you just how important you are to a lot of people like myself. I know it's a very delicate subject to be delving into and I truly respect how personal it is to you, I understand that you are going through a difficult time at the moment. I think we can all agree that 2016 has shown us that anything can happen and because of this a lot of people like you and me have suffered in our own way. I know it's quite odd for a nobody like me to be concerning myself with the life of a celebrity like yourself but you are important to me...because you are one of my role models.

I have many role models, all from different backgrounds and occupations and I care for each and every one of them, in fact I consider them as family. I love your work not only as an actress but as a role model to so many people, so many people who care about you. Out of the millions of fans that look up to you, adore you and would give anything to be like you I want to be the one to inform you just how important you are, not only on the big screen but as a real person. Whatever problems you are facing right now all I can do is offer my best wishes that you'll make it through them, after all what else does that 'certain symbol' on your chest stand for other than hope?

You are an amazing person Melissa and if this document makes your day better or even just brings a smile to your face It will mean the world to me.

Thank you Melissa

Remember...Stronger Together!
