

RLA WEEK 9 Homework

On the Roman calendar, March 15 was called the "ides of March." The term "ides" was used to describe the 13th or 15th day of each month, depending on the number of days in that month. Our word "calendar" comes from the Latin word "kalends." In Latin, a "kalendarium" is an account book and kalends, the first day of the month, is the day many bills are due to be paid.

Light	Lighter	Lightest	Important	More important	Most important afraid	More afraid	Most afraid	Interesting	More interesting	Most interesting
Amazed	More amazed	Most amazed	Larger	Larger	Largest
Busy	Busier	Busiest	Offended	More offended	Most offended
carefully	More carefully	Most carefully	Old	Older	Oldest
Cheap	Cheaper	Cheapest	Orange	More orange	Most orange
Greyish	More greyish	Most greyish	Outraged	More outraged	Most outraged
Close	Closer	Closest	Political	More political	Most political
Complete	More complete	Most complete	Simple	Simpler	Simplest
Dangerous	More dangerous	Most dangerous	Sleepy	Sleepier	Sleepiest
Dark	Darker	Darkest	Small	Smaller	Smallest
Difficult	More difficult	Most difficult	Surprising	More surprising	Most surprising
Dirty	Dirtier	Dirtiest	Surprised	More surprised	Most surprised
Friendly	Friendlier	Friendliest	Tired	More tired	Most tired
Funny	Funnier	Funniest	Tiring	More tiring	Most tiring
Good	Better	Best	Upset	More upset	Most upset
Hard	Harder	Hardest	Useful	More useful	Most useful
Hot	Hotter	Hottest	White	Whiter	Whitest
Hungry	Hungrier	hungriest	wide	wider	Widest

Fill in the gaps with the appropriate form of the adjective in brackets:

1. I was MORE INTERESTED (interested) in this movie than in that one.
2. Going uphill was the MOST TIRING (tiring) experience in my whole life!
3. I really need to get a CHEAPER (cheap) PC. I can't afford that one.
4. This exercise is EASIER (easy) than the one before.
5. I'm going to tell you the FUNNIEST (funny) joke I've ever heard!
6. It's COLDER (cold) today than yesterday, don't you think?
7. This book is the MOST ENJOYABLE (enjoyable) I've ever read!
8. I was MORE SURPRISED (surprised) to hear from you than when you gave me that surprise party last year...