
The Lovely Lady.

Written By Adi Cox (C)2016.

- (1) A Female Perspective.
- (2) Cheeky Miss Cup Cake.
- (3) A Passionate Piece Of Work.
- (4) Well Swallow Me Up!

(1) A Female Perspective.

This girl is writing and the structure of her writing is tied up into her hair. Her hair is dark with a pony tail high up onto the top of her head. Carefully she is crafting and brushing her words as she bunches up her work and then she ties it up into paragraphs, laying it all out into her hair. She has beautiful layers. She is pretty you see.

(2) Cheeky Miss Cup Cake.

There are two types of fruit. There are the natural fruits and then there are fruits with bad attitude. These fruits have been used to cook with. At first I only eat with natural fruit. It is often cooked and prepared in cakes, but then there becomes a shortage of natural fruits and I get some cake that is made from bad attitude fruit. It is a squidgy peach cake. Two sweet squidgy peaches are joined together in a cup. I take the sticky sweet and juicy peaches of cake out of its cup and I taste just how good the bad attitude peaches both are in this cake and they are so nice and they are so naughty that I swear. I savour the flavour as it goes to my head. I eat it all up and it's such a pleasure in bed.

(3) A Passionate Piece Of Work.

We are throwing each other around and I am passionately shouting, "I love you!" You see she has a dark side and I have no fear for her. I am working on her. I keep shouting, "I love you!" And I keep throwing her around and she is love and I am love. There are people watching us and I never let up violently expressing my love for this girl. She is dressed in blue as I throw her around and I shout out, "I love you!"

I say, "watch this." I set it up. I make the white arms of this girl lash out. I make the white arms of this girl swing out. swing out and hit my face so hard and she is alarmed and she is ashamed and she is so sorry. "You See?" I say to the people, "You See?" I say so passionately, "You See!"

(4) Well Swallow Me Up!

This woman, who is obsessed, was on the news. The report just said that she gave flowers by the hundreds and there was a lorry full of flowers being shown on the television. It said that she had an in depth knowledge of flowers and that she knew the names of all the flowers in latin. She would give these flowers to people that she was obsessed with. I was just reading about her in a newspaper whilst sat down on the ottoman. The ottoman gave way and I fell through it.