TATE WAR ROOM

A private community group has been created to bring together some of the best minds in Blockchain. We expect some of the biggest names in the space will be part of this incredible movement, with some surprises already committed. The group will stay private with access only by Admins of the project. This will be hosted on Telegram initially using the private group feature, we then will move on to our own custom messaging platform to facilitate larger units of members and categorise data better. The War Room will bring a number of benefits to its users and host DAO functions. Members will take full advantage of the Ecosystem as a whole, with many Utilities built with members in mind. Access to our Incubation service and investment group will provide the first round of real use case for members, driving satisfaction.
