The following reviews to be written shall follow AniRadio+'s standard which consists of the following:

a. Introduction (this consists of setting the mood of the reader and the author, gives opening remarks or overview of thing being reviewed), b. Main Body (basically consists of the full review including but not limited to plot/storyline, production (art style, music, character designs, visuals, scripting, voicing, etc.), and the overall impact, and c. Conclusion/Ender (concludes the main body, add some more heavy personal opinion and what to look forward for the next review if any).

A typical review for an anime consists of at least 1,000 words from the introduction until the ender. You may add additional information as you like as necessary.
