Story

Once there was a person. His name was "Bill". He lived in New York, U.S.A. He was a very strong man. He could lift two cars at a time, one car in one hand. He wanted to be a hero of New York. Bill was rich, not much but enough to buy weapons to be a hero. He saved the lives of many people and caught many criminals but still, people don't believe that he is a true hero.

One morning Bill saw in the newspaper "There is a new hero in the city. His name is "Fred". Today at 7:00 am, someone stole some money from the bank and Fred caught him very swiftly.”

Bill thought, “A new hero? I should talk to him about becoming a team so catching criminals and robbers will become easy. Unity is also strength.”

Then in the afternoon, Bill flew into the sky searching for Fred. After a while, Bill found Fred on the roof of a bank. Bill got near to him and said, “Excuse me.” Bill could only say this and Fred ran from there with his grapnel. Bill thought, “Why did he run away? Something fishy is going on here.” Then he went to his home.

Now the time was around 7:00 p.m. Bill got the news that someone stole jewellery from a jewellery shop. Bill went to catch him as fast as he could but Fred caught him before he could. Then he said to Bill, “See? I can catch anyone easily. Now, I will not allow the police to take him to jail. I will take care of him. Now I am going to my base.” Then he went away from there in his car. Bill started to follow him because he knew that something was wrong there. How Fred can catch the robber very fast if he lives far away from here? How did he know that the robber was going to steal jewellery from this shop? Why did he take the criminal with him? Then Fred went towards the seaside. Bill followed him.

After a while, Fred parked his car near an old, broken and creepy building. He went inside with the robber and three other people were sitting on a chair and a table in front of them. Fred and the robber also sat on a chair. Bill was watching them secretly from an opened window. Fred started to talk,

“Our plan is a success. No one knows that the robbers are my partners. You will steal and I will catch you quickly because I will know where and when you are going to steal anything, as you will tell me when. For this, the government will give us money and rewards, then we will become rich!” Then everyone said, “Hurray!”

Suddenly one of them saw Bill and said, “Bill was watching us! He is outside the building!” Everyone got alerted. They all went outside to fight. First Bill made all four men unconscious with his laser beam. Suddenly, Fred fired his laser beam at the place where Bill’s heart was present. This made Bill very weak. He crouched down in pain and started to breathe heavily. Fred said, “So, Now I will kill you and no one will hear your voice again. Ha-ha, feeling sad? Oh, Now I will become a great hero in the eyes of people and no one can stop me. Ha-ha-ha-ha-ha! Now it’s time to kill you.” Then he fired his laser beam at Bill’s head and Bill said quickly, “NOOO!” then.....

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

Fred's car smashed on his head and Fred was critically wounded. When Fred fired his laser beam at Bill, he quickly took out his mobile. Then, the laser touched the mobile's screen and got reflected. Then the laser went inside Fred's car engine, touched the battery and it got blasted. So the car flew in the air and landed on Fred.

Now Fred's plan failed. He was a false hero. Fred and his men were put in jail. Now the hero "Bill" can protect and serve the public easily. Everyone now believed that Bill was a true and good hero. Bill will never stop catching and fighting with criminals.
