

Someone says they do something you dont want to happen while you are active (Heart or Mistaken)

That person is opposing player

That person is a moon

"But it was no matter"
explain how you stopped it
But it was no matter for Leo was stronger then the man

Opposing player wants it to happen

"We shall see what comes of it"

Conflict begins

"And Furthermore"...add something more. The previous statement is true, use a theme
And Furthermore whoever kills it wins her hand in marriage

"You ask too far too much" oppoent must offer a second option to their previous statment, you respond to one of them, use a theme

"But Only if.. offer something in exchange for what they want
But only if you never see her again

"it shall not come to pass"
Roll for conflict,

"And that was how it happened"
All statments are true, this ends conflict

"It was not meant to be"
Last two staements are void, this ends the conflict
