A DAY IN THE CAVE

THE A STORY BOOKS

THE "A"

STORY

BOOKS

Reading is COOL!!!!!!!!!!!

Story

Once upon a time, there was a boy named Ali. But one day when he woke up, he saw that he was in a cave!

First, he got worried when he found himself in a cave but then he started to find a way out. After a while, he saw a narrow way. He started to follow that way. Just then he saw a light coming ahead. When he came near the light, he said it was a dead end and light was coming from a torch. He just turned that torch off for no reason.

But when he turned that torch off then suddenly the torch fell off automatically and the wall which was at the end of the way opened like a door.

Then Ali saw a room made up of gold and a lion was sitting on a throne. The lion was wearing a suit like a king. Just then Lion looked at Ali and said,

"Oh! So you have found me." Ali said in a low voice, "I just want to get out of here." the lion laughed and said, "Do you know, I am the lion who kidnapped you and took you to this place? I will let you go if you'll answer my three questions. You will have two chances to answer. Do you agree?" Ali accepted the deal. Lion asked the first question, "Tell me, what 4 multiplied by 8 are?" Ali answered quickly, "It is 32." Lion asked the second question, "Who invented the first electric fan in the world?" Ali answered, "I think Dr. Schuyler Skit Wheeler invented the first electric fan in the world." "Wrong! One chance left." The lion Shouted. "Dr. Schuyler Skaats Wheeler invented the first electric fan of the world." Lion asked the third question, "Who is the inventor of the car?" Ali answered, "Karl Benz invented the first car in the world."
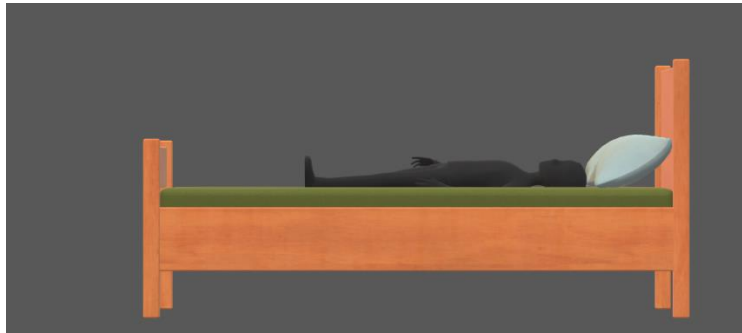

Lion said, "All right, you won. Now if you want to go home then sit on my back." So, Ali sat on his back. When Ali sat perfectly on the Lion's back, the Lion said loudly, "Open sesame!"

Suddenly, the cave began to shake and its roof opened vertically. Then Lion took out his wings. Ali asked, "You also have wings? The lion replied, "Yes, I am a magical lion." Then the lion started to flap his wings and flew in the sky. When the lion went above the roof, he again said loudly, "Close sesame!" Then the roof closed. Ali said, "My house is just ahead and its gate colour is brown." Ali said this to the lion before because he knew that everyone asked about his home location when they were going to drop him at his home.

Finally, the lion dropped Ali at his home and Ali thanked the lion for dropping him home. Then it was night so he decided to sleep. But before sleeping, Ali wrote a diary entry to remember this day. Then he went to sleep.

<--->

A Day in the Cave

The A Story Books

Summary

"One day Ali woke up and found himself in a cave! At first, he got worried but then he started to find a way out. Then he found a narrow way and a light coming from ahead."

Writer: M.Ahmed

Type: Adventure

Visit our site: https://theastorybooks.netlify.app