People need help. Everyone, at some point, will need a little assistance. If you are here, you have taken the hardest step to finding that help. You have admitted it. Very few of us like asking for the assistance we need, but if we wait too long, no amount of assistance will be able to dig us out. We have heard it so often, "I'm okay for now, I can handle it." That is great if you take everything into consideration. We all understand sacrifices will have to be made, but you can only steal from Peter to pay Paul before Peter comes after you and your suffering becomes worse.

If you do not mind, I will ask you to indulge me and allow me to tell you, my story. August 14th, 2014, I was run off the road on my motorcycle and left in a ditch for over 7 hours. I was incredibly lucky, they came back and shut off my battery. You know, Harley Davidson batteries are expensive. I suffered fractures to my face, skull, and neck, along with the right auditory nerve being severed leaving me deaf on my right side. When I awoke, I knew things were going to be different, but I had no idea how different, and how difficult, it was about to become.

I was a mess when I woke up. Signed over my power of attorney, talked to people I do not remember, I even recorded a Facebook post that is still on my personal page, and I do not remember doing it. I had no idea how difficult the next three years were going to be, and Hollywood could not have written a script with more twists and turns.

- We needed help in the home. My wife needed to be by my side when my head would fall off the pillow. I was nowhere near strong enough to lift it on my own.
- Short term disability pays you 60% of a 40-hour work week. This is terrible on its face, but I was working 60 hours every week allowing me to live a life with some of the things I truly desired, motorcycles, trucks, spending money. Short term disability in the end only paid out 1/4 of what my take home was prior to the event.
- Missing pay when a doctor would neglect to put an X in the right box. Every review, all the confusing forms would end up with me missing a week or more in insurance payouts. Everyone tells you to relax, take it easy, do not stress out, yet when you do not know if you can pay rent, or give the front door the hard stare as you pull in to see what disconnect notice has been posted.
- I was told more than once that because, "I made too much money last year," I was unable to receive assistance this year. So, I could not hold up my head, let alone go to work, I was getting a quarter of the money I used to receive, my family was hungry, but we were not eligible to get food benefits for my family.
- Watching the trucks come and go taking everything away that I had worked so hard to obtain. My motorcycles, my truck, my home, and eventually the stress of it all led to the loss of my family.

- The worst thing that happened, something I will never be able to forgive myself for, was not being able to allow my son to take a hard-earned school trip to Germany, Switzerland, and Austria. I would go through the pain for the rest of my days just to have made that one thing happen.

This hurt. A lot! And then you add in the stress of trying to learn how to budget money with a 75% reduction in pay. I worked for 60 hours a week religiously just to afford the lifestyle I wanted. I am going to put this very politely, I sucked with money. My budgeting skills were nonexistent. These were just some of the things that made me sit down and figure out what I was going to do. These events together led to the birth of Community Pay it Forward. I will do anything I can to help others never have to go through this. Do I think that we can solve every problem that arises? Well, not if we do not give it a shot, right?

How Can We Help Your Family, kids, community project?

We want to help people. Understand your needs. Not everyone can offer money, but many might be able to offer other resources that can help you. It is amazing when you have someone come over just to clean the fridge because you cannot leave your injured husband's side. Taking someone a meal when their life becomes a busy, perplexing mess. Or even handing someone a hoodie when the temperatures drop, making freezing weather extremely dangerous.

We are offering families a chance that they have never had. There are programs out there where people can offer you cash, we encourage you to use these programs, weaponizing every resource that you have addressing your issue. Our program is built to help people make every purchase count! This allows people the opportunity to help the community simply by making everyday purchases.

Our program is quickly growing with various programs available, similar situations to yours. Each person has their own concepts, ideas, concerns. Our program allows a circle of your friends, and everyone interested in your situation to be involved I helping you stand back up on your own two feet.

Your situation is serious, we know this. There are people out there who have been through something remarkable like your troubles. Let them know, let them help. We have a couple packages that are here for you. We can do things to help you raise awareness. But you must lead. As a partnership family, our mission is to help as many people and communities as we can. You can find the packages and what comes in each package later in this booklet. Use the QR Code and the badge we provide you with. Let people know how it is at everyday prices. There is a 0 mark up. We just ask that you help us teach people how simple it is to follow and use the program. Together we can make a difference.

Helping Nonprofits and Charities

Smaller nonprofits work just as hard as the large ones do. As all nonprofits do, they struggle at times. The terrible thing is, they rarely have the resources to bounce back from these struggles. Many of my nonprofit friends pay bills straight out of pocket making their mission of support a heavy personal burden on their families. Since nonprofits start from a place of deep sorrow and pain, this can only lead to further hardship and pain. Untold, unlimited hours are spent every day trying to spread the word of how they would like to help others. Community Pay it Forward has a remarkably simple two prong plan to help:

1. If they do not know about you, they will not support you! We want to give you the chance to tell your story. There may be others out there like you, but there is only one program that you started. There is only one story for you to tell, yours. Let us help you tell your story.
2. Give everyone a chance to support you, no matter their financial status. Every family must shop, we are just giving them a chance to shop small and make an enormous difference. That on top of getting better service and products from small businesses that drive the local economy, care about the people, and the community.

We will not accept cash donations for you. We will highlight and link your cash donation portal in your campaign bio page. Note this. Our family, our program works in sales and receipts, not accepting any money for other programs.

What is the next step?

We should meet. Tell us your story, your why, how, and what your goals and mission are. You can schedule the meeting here: <https://calendly.com/fundraising-program/45min> We will then ask you to please fill out this form: <https://form.jotform.com/220596873817166> We will then need you to decide on package you are comfortable with. Each package lasts for one year. And we are proud to work with you to continue our partnership long term. Should you choose a package with a charge, we will reduce the cost every year until it reaches 50%, where it will remain for the duration of our partnership. The packages for nonprofits can be found on the last page of this packet.

We then will share a badge and a QR Code to display on your media outlets and fliers. We will do our best to tell the world about you, but your friends, followers, and supporters will be vital to the campaign's success. The more they know all the ways they can support you, the more they can/ will support.

Our Process for Start-Ups:

Nothing is more frustrating than not having the money to make a necessary purchase needed to improve your company or organization. Money is always short. Budgets, oh budgets! There is always the "Next Big Thing," in business programming or software. Trying to budget for something that you do not know exists, that is a little tough to do. Here is a chance for you to get your name out there and as you are working to make a name for yourself, you are making an impact in the community.

For you to be a company raising money, you must join the giving family. Your sales need to go to another Mission Partner. People cannot shop with you and give money back. We could do so much more for you if the money gifted to us goes to help others in the community. The process otherwise is remarkably like the nonprofit program. By this we mean, Community Pay it Forward has a remarkably simple two prong plan to help. Please see one and two above. We need one other for from you: You can find my form "Welcome to the Family! " At: <https://form.jotform.com/220586747651161> The price rate is also different. You will be available to choose one of the packages from the JotForm above. Use the QR Code and the badge we provide you with. Let people know how it works.

How it Works (Shop-Click-Pick) You will send people to www.CommunityPayitForward.us, visiting the Giving Partners page to find the partner that will fulfill their shopping needs. Every time they shop, your circle can choose to donate to you, helping you and all you are going through. Every purchase generates a referral award. And you will receive a substantial percentage of every referral received.
