

Foreword

I would like to state first and foremost, ALL of this information included here is from a source either online, on a forum, or from a video or interview. These have been fact checked, and I strive to pull information from any credible source I can, and the result is this compilation of fantastic information, which I have organized and arranged in such a way to try and paint the larger picture of what is currently on going. I will state many more times that the information you are reading is the result of many other people's research, time, and dedication throughout the papers, only to stress my gratitude for those who have paved the way for me to compile all of what you are about to read. We live in a world where nothing can be taken at face value anymore, and we must begin to question everything we see and hear, for our own sakes. A deep, deep thank you to every single source that I've been able to pull information from, and to the community at large, who without you guys, and our collective interest of bringing an end to secrecy, this project would be non existent.

- TheTruthCanBeWild

Behind The veil

As time is not in our favor, I will push directly into the subjects of discussion. A man named John W. Whitehead is who sparked my motivation for this project, and whose words are huge part of this paper. I will link his work as well as the work of all others who I have been able to pull information and inspiration from. I hope in turn I am able to inspire more people to start doing their own work in this subject, and that this serves as your first stepping stone. This paper and all of its contents are to serve as an all-encompassing, deeply comprehensive theory as to current times and events, started from the very known beginning until present day. It will allow someone who has never turned over the rock over our country, to see the true nature of what is really going on, without the complexity of diving head first into a rabbit hole of misinformation. The only things that will be discussed here will be things I believe are of the utmost of importance, provided to me through my own research, or through another physical human being. All sources will be cited and credited, because without the work of many, this project would not be achievable. I am but one person, helpless without the rest of you. My goal here is to help you find that path to the truth, hopefully leading you to do your own research down the road, and for us all one day to be able to lift the veil of lies and confusion over us.

There is no longer any doubt, The Deep State - also known as the police state or the military industrial complex, is here. Our system of government has been taken over by a money hungry, military minded behemoth of corporations and billionaires who control everything we see, hear and talk about via news, television, music, and most importantly, the internet. We will delve into the actual systems of control later on. These systems instill fear and what I called, hive mind behavior or thinking, which allows for basically total control of our existence. When in doubt, all you have to do is follow the money trail. Every single US president starting with Franklin D. Roosevelt has been bought out, blackmailed, or coerced and forced to play a role in the Deep States agenda. Dwight D. Eisenhower, at the time a retired 5-star General in United States Army, in his famous speech warned about the disastrous rise of misplaced power by the MIC, because he first hand was made to involve himself in acts that violated what he believed to be against the nations benefit. He was directly involved in dictating national and international policy, and he began to see where this would lead and had to do the only thing he could do at that time. Address the nation. Now enters Donald Trump, the president who swore to drain the swamp in DC. Rather than put an end to corruption, Trump has laid the path out for corporations, the MIC, and the Deep State to feed off of what's left of America.

Recently, for example, Trump spoke on military equipment, and agreed to sell Saudi Arabia more than 110 billion in military weapons, tanks and helicopters for border security, ships for coastal security, intelligence gathering aircraft, missile defense radar, and cyber security tools, saying “Nobody makes it like the US.” This allows people to believe we are helping, rather than continue to fund groups in the middle east that end up harming their own people, towns, and infrastructures, and carry out acts of violence around the world. This is not a new story. Gunwalking is the tactic that was used by the Arizona field office of the US bureau of Alcohol, tobacco, firearms and Explosives (ATF) which ran a series of operations between 2006 and 2011 where the ATF purposely allowed licensed firearm dealers to sell weapons to illegal straw buyers, hoping to track the guns to Mexican cartel leaders and arrest them. This was all done under the umbrella of operation Project Gunrunner. As previously mentioned, the STATED goal of allowing these purchases was to continue to track the firearms as they were transferred to high level traffickers and key figures in the Cartel. Things started to become suspicious when the largest sale of weapons, 2000 firearms in total, were sold to the cartel and only 710 were recovered, and no high level arrests have been made to this date. Guns from this sale and many many others have been found of both sides of the border at many crime scenes between 2006 and 2011, finally only becoming public after the death of US Border Patrol Agent Brian Terry.

On top of all of this, over the next 10 years, Trump wants to slash government programs for the poor ranging from health care and food stamps to student loans and disability payments. The only entity that does not need to worry about loss of funds or programs, is of course, the MIC. The MIC includes 125 billion in “ghost” money, which is used in anything from cover ups to ultra-top secret Special Access Programs, or SAP’s, a trillion-dollar budget for funding global wars, and contractor driven price gouging that raises the prices of everything from gas, to food, to everyday necessities, and that's where the American Taxpayer gets hurts the most. This monster network of corporations, military contractors, and corrupt government officials will only continue to grow. This is how you keep The Deep State in power. The rich get richer, the poor get poorer, the military gets more militaristic, Americas wars will get more endless, and the prospect of peace will grow ever dimmer. Saudi Arabia was, and remains, a breeding ground for terrorists funded and trained by America.

The following is a quote from Bertram Gross, in his work Friendly Fascism, The New Face of America. “...Evil now wears a friendly face than ever in American history.... a new despotism creeping slowly across America. Faceless oligarchs sit at command posts of corporate government complex that has been slowly evolving over many decades. In efforts to enlarge their own powers and privileges, they are willing to have others suffer the intended or unintended consequences of their institutional greed. For Americans, these consequences include chronic inflation, recurring recession, open and hidden unemployment, the poisoning of air, water, soil, and bodies, and more important, the subversion of our constitution. More broadly, consequences include widespread intervention in international politics through economic manipulation, covert action, or military invasion.”

This massive, widespread coup that Gross prophesied is packaged as a well-meaning and overriding concern for National Security.

Over many many years, we have lost our freedom in such small bits and pieces it's almost hard to tell exactly when it all started. Everything has been sold to us in the name of national security and peace, maintained by way of martial law disguised as law and order, and totally enforced by an army of militarized police and a political elite absolutely determined to maintain powers at all costs. The government of the people, by the people, and for the people has perished. It will not be brought back to life without a full and true revolution of the people, and peoples own values. We need to think for ourselves, educate ourselves, and do our own looking behind the curtain. It's right there in plain sight. Laws are changing fast, allowing big corporations to begin the censorship process of the internet, beginning with anyone that does not fit into the narrative that the Mainstream Media (MSM) is pushing. We will delve into these subjects along with others in much more detail in the coming pages.

America is deep in the business of war. Wars waged globally, and wars waged on home turf, are the Deep States primary means of income. Over the past half century, our great nation has been more at war than at peace. There has been at least 1 significant military action per year, ranging from significant fighting in Vietnam, Iraq, and Afghanistan to lesser incursions in such far flung countries as Kuwait, Bosnia, Pakistan, Libya, Grenada, Haiti and panama to just name a few. This does NOT include US covert actions or operations such as the drone strikes in Syria, that being the most overlooked. In order to keep these profits coming in as the enemies around the globe become less and less, as each country gets some form of takeover from American, be that in politics or “government assistance”, The Deep State has turned to waging full on war against the American People.

This is our world right now. Wars waged globally to the tune of trillions, military equipment sold to foreign enemies, local police transformed in a militarized army through millions in grants for weapons, armored vehicles, and training. The public slowly being introduced to the sights and sounds of martial law through training exercise wherein military troops rappel from black hawk helicopters in cities across the country from Miami to Chicago, to domestic military training drills time and formulated to coincide with or portend actual crisis. The citizenry taught to fear and distrust each other and welcome the metal detectors and pat downs in their schools, bag searches in their train stations, tanks and military weapons used by their small town police forces, surveillance cameras on their traffic lights, police strip searches on their public roads, unwarranted blood draws at drunk driving checkpoints, whole body scanners in their airports, and government agents and agencies monitoring all communication via ALL technology. Now if all of this was introduced at once, the country would have revolted instantly. So instead, over the course of many many many years, things have changed step by step, leading us to our current situation. The American people, and the constitution don't stand a chance against this. Not only does the money run deep, extra protection comes from The legislative, judicial, and executive branches that act as if they are for us, but they play both sides while only working for themselves, TOGETHER. From Clinton to Bush, then Obama and now trump, we've been caught in a time loop. We are reliving the same thing over and over, the same assaults on our freedom, the same disregard for the rule of law, the same subservience to The Deep State, and the same corrupt, self-serving government that exists only to amass power, enrich its shareholders, and ensure its continued domination.

I believe another quote from Bertram Gross fits perfectly here. “I am worried by those who fail to remember-or have never learned -that Big Business-Big Government partnerships, backed up by other elements, were the central facts behind the power structures of old fascism in the days of Mussolini, Hitler, and the Japanese empire builders. I am worried by those who quibble about labels... I am upset with those who prefer to remain spectators until it may be too late... I am appalled by those who stiffly maintain that nothing can be done until things get worse or the system has been changed. I am afraid of inaction. I am afraid of those who will heed no warnings and who wait for some revelation, research, or technology to offer a perfect solution. I am afraid of those who do not see that some of the best in America has been the product of promises and that the promises of the past are not enough for the future. I am dismayed by those who will not hope, who will not commit themselves to something larger than themselves, of those who are afraid of true democracy or even its pursuit”

Elections will not save us. They will not be our saving grace. If we do not look to our past, and realize where we are now and why, we will literally walk right into the arms of a totalitarian police state. Elections keep us at bay, and appease the built up frustrations of the people enough to continue on for a while. We argue and argue over whose side are we on, what party do we support, and the list goes on forever. We have to start looking at the big picture, and in the coming pages, we will begin to dive deep into detail into some of the previous subjects.

Pieces of a Puzzle

In order to begin to understand the on goings here on Earth, and how to move forward, we must first talk about the universe we reside in, along with its other inhabitants. We live in a vast universe, comprised of many billions of solar systems, stars, planets, and flying rock. It's very easy to get lost in the physical aspect of everything, and spend a whole lifetime absorbed in it. What we as modern humans have moved away from, is understanding the correlation between everything, the physical world, and the spiritual world. Although no single government has confirmed, nor will they confirm, extraterrestrial beings or entities, if you are here reading this, you already believe. There is no paper proof that tells all, nor is there one person who has all of the information. It's an intuition, or gut feeling. That right there may be one of the most important skills we have as a human being, is the ability to just know when something is true, or it isn't. That ability has been hijacked these days, by misinformation, the media, corporations, and many world governments across the globe. I must be clear in what's to follow, THERE IS NO TRUE PHYSICAL PROOF of any of these subjects to an extent that this can be presented as absolute fact. It cannot be, but if you are here, as I mentioned before, you already have a feeling or a sense we are part of something bigger. When I first began this project, I originally thought it would just be a long paper about politics and our current system of control that we live in. It could not be solely about that. There is no way to understand the physical, real life systems of control without understanding the means and motives behind WHY we are controlled in such a way. That understanding has led me to change direction and make this an all-encompassing read.

We will begin by discussing ET technology that has been discovered, and kept in secret under our noses, since a time dating before the 1900s. Nikola Tesla was one of the first to publicly begin to speak on these subjects. He was beyond his time, and his research proves that. He was deeply interested in the relationship between all living beings, and the frequencies that we rely on to survive and thrive. So much of his work pertained to figuring out free energy, and how to harness that. He came very close to figuring out just that, spending many years working on ways to pull natural energy from the air around us. He called this device a "self acting engine." In his later career, he was struck by a vehicle and reports say he refused medical attention. He was found dead in his hotel on January 7th, of 1943, in New York. Reports have come out stating his death was injury related, which it may well have been, but the whole event absolutely has some loose ends that don't add up. Immediately following his death, an investigation was lead by John G. Trump. ALL of his research was confiscated until some declassification happened in 2016, under the FOIA. (Freedom of Information Act) This is monumental, as there are still papers that are still missing, and many believe they are the papers pertaining to zero point energy and the underlying connection between living things and the Earth. A great entry point into this subject is the day of July 7, 1947. This is the day that everything changed, and the media blackout began. That day, the official story is that a high altitude weather balloon was downed in Roswell, New Mexico. That's the most common story, and what you will find after doing a simple google search on the subject. It only takes a little scratching of the surface and your own research to start to realize that something much bigger happened that day. So we begin our descent down the rabbit hole.

Above is a photo taken just hours BEFORE the crash at Roswell happened that day, and although the quality of the photo isn't the greatest, it allows us to see what truly was captured. This would be one of America's first major UFO sightings, in a long line of cover ups and lies. I cannot provide all of the information pertaining to this, or any subject for that matter, as this book would never be able to be read in a single lifetime. I will touch on the important details, and provide links in the index to EVERYTHING you need to begin your own research. This is only the story, simplified, short and sweet. The US military downed 3 saucers that day, and began a slow process of reverse engineering the technology that was found during that event. ET bodies were recovered, and transferred to a base not far away known as Area 51, and then onwards onto other bases such as Los Alamos. The actual path is very hard to follow, with many many conflicting reports as to where the evidence and bodies of the ETS went. The problem we face is so enormous, it's hard to comprehend. We must understand this day as being the tipping point, NOT the first event. We as humans have been contacted by ETs for as long as we have walked this Earth. Evidence is everywhere, from Egyptian hieroglyphs to ancient Sumerian texts, it's there. Somewhere along the line, we lost our way, and the knowledge we used to possess about the universe. It was a slow, drawn out process, still currently in the works.

The whole point is to control. This is being done because major corporations and world governments are in total control, resulting in MASSIVE amounts of wealth being made off the backs of the hardworking average person. We in a sense keep ourselves enslaved to this system, and truly it isn't our fault. The systems in place have one job, and they do it very well, keep a tight lid on ANY and ALL information that does not fit the mainstream narrative. Merely 2 months after the events at Roswell occurred, on September 18th, 1947, the CIA and the United States Air Force were both formed. This is not a coincidence. Both of the agencies will grow and evolve into what I call massive "research and control" organizations. Just a few years after both agencies are formed, on November 4, 1952, the mother of all surveillance programs is launched, known as the National Security Agency, or the NSA. The CIA is the agency that runs deep, deep, unacknowledged special access programs, in cahoots with most other government agencies. They conduct and run experiments on the population, such as MK ultra. There were so many programs and experiments done under the cloak of MK ultra, it's too much to talk about them individually here. In summary, they did major research into mind control, how to manipulate people through the use of media, advertisements, psychedelic drugs, and hypnosis. Many experiments began to be ran on the public without their knowledge. The focus really began to hone in on LSD, and its effects on the human psyche. In Operation Midnight Climax, the CIA set up several brothels in San Francisco, which were actually CIA safe houses, to obtain a selection of men who would be too embarrassed to talk about the events due to the nature of brothels. The men were dosed with LSD, and each room was equipped with a one-way mirror, and each session was filmed for later research and studies. LSD became a center of focus because under the effects of LSD, a human's brain is open and unfortunately, if looked at in this way, is very open for manipulation in this state. The CIA knew this, and for many many years ran experiments on people without their knowledge. All the while, the public keeps existing in a space where they believe the government is for them, and protecting them.

At this point, technologies that had been reverse engineered since the 50s, were ready for use. Some of these technologies were the first generation of microwave devices (cell phones and home computers), 0-point anti-gravitational devices, and thought manipulation devices. The experiments began to move away from drugs in the late 90s, as the emergence of the internet paved way for new means of control, en masse via the web. For the first time, the people had the most powerful tool in the world at our disposal, and within years the government realized the potential devastating effects it could have on the systems of control if left unchecked. The solution, control the internet. Remember the NSA? This agency truly flew under the radar for many many years, with most people not even knowing it existed at all. All of those years under the radar allowed the NSA to grow to unbelievable proportions, in terms of budget and scale. The NSA, side by side with the CIA, have conducted hundreds if not thousands of joint agency operations across the world, and on home turf, pertaining to surveillance. The agency has access to, and uses on a regular basis, eavesdropping devices on high value targets (such as Presidential palaces or embassies). Collection tactics allegedly encompass "close surveillance, burglary, wiretapping, and breaking and entering". The biggest break in the veil happened when Edward Snowden dropped a bombshell of leaked information on the web, including many documents proving the massive amount of private data that has been collected, the programs that are currently in action today, and future planned uses of some of the technologies we are seeing being implemented in society today. We are nearing present day, were all forms of control and manipulation have been streamlined to near perfection, almost undetectable. At this point in time, our government, and others around the world, have implemented "agents" into every single major news outlet, right down to the local small town levels as well. These "agents" allow or disallow any stories they need to to keep the public narrative on track, and in accordance to what the public is allowed to be shown at that time. Snowden has been removed from the conversation, although he is still out and about, he cannot move freely around this world any longer. The following is a quote from Steve Greer, whos website holds an absolute wealth of information and research into these subjects, which I will link in the index as well. "The truth is that we have free media – so long as it is inconsequential. That is, freedom of the press exists so long as it is exercised within a certain sphere of influence that does not reach a critical mass of significance. Sure, you can say and write anything – so long as it does not get placed in front of the masses in an honest way. The quaint notion of a free press, serving as the Fourth Estate and watching vigilantly over the interests of The People is one of the great lies perpetrated by the government, and by the corporate media itself. Every insider knows this is a lie.

Big Media must be distinguished from the media in general, insofar as the former is utterly corrupted and the latter is sequestered into spheres of limited influence and significance. Mass retail media – the nightly news, CNN, The NY Times, The Washington Post, Newsweek, Time and the like are less free on anything of real significance than the media of many third world countries – or even communist China.”

That's the name of the game here, in the end. It is to silence all opposition, all talk that does not support the sheep like think of the masses, swiftly and efficiently, so effectively that unless you really follow what's being censored on a daily basis, you would have no idea that things are even changing. That's the problem we face. A fight that is being fought in the shadows, because if it was fought up front, nobody would be docile. We would revolt. The problem is when things are done so slowly, at such a pace that no large reaction is stirred about, and everything that happens is controlled and monitored, it allows this process to be fast tracked. We lost net neutrality in December of 2018, and that began to allow companies such as cell phone providers, internet providers, and cable providers complete control over ISP's to websites and streaming services. What this basically means is, you will only see what you are wanted to see. If you support politics to the left or the right, or somewhere in between, or if you believe in human rights or if you don't, everything you do while you are on any form of technology is now controlled & monitored. If you support the democratic party, deep learning codes and algorithms are behind the scenes making sure you are the only seeing exactly what fits YOU. It's hard to comprehend, but this is only the product of systems that are totally bent on control and manipulation, so again, it is NOT our fault. It is like this on both sides of the politics, and on ALL subjects. There is no left or right, democrat or republican, liberal or any other labels you can think of. It is ONE system, meant to divide and separate us all from each other. Things become much easier and more apparent the more of your own research you do.

5G has been a long time in the making, and it's been public information for quite some time. It was first “publicly” announced via the mainstream media by Tom Wheeler on June 20th of 2016, although the information was out long before that. You must understand that 5G is not the newest coolest thing, it is the 5th Generation of wireless EMF technology, packaged as the newest, greatest, safest technology. Microwaves have been studied and used by the military since world war 2, and as scientists and governments around the world began to understand these microwaves, it's true capabilities were discovered also. Microwaves evolved into weapons of crowd dispersal, radar systems capable of tracking targets, and much much more. These are the same exact microwaves that were introduced with the first cell phones. EMF stand for Electromagnetic Frequency or Frequencies. It is a pulse style wave that ALL electronic devices put out, and use to communicate with each other, and server centers or cell towers. The first generation of cell service was 1G, which only allowed voice communications. The level of EMF that was put out by cell towers then was 0.5 mW (Microwaves), enough to cause headaches and disrupted sleep. 2G ushered in talk and text, raising levels even more to about 0.6 to 0.9 mW. This is enough exposure to begin to alter brain function at small levels, with more serious results happening after prolonged exposure to these microwaves. The introduction of 3G changed the game, allowing talk and text to merged with the internet. EMF readings are now at 30 mW. That's right, 30 mW. We have since seen the introduction 4G, which is currently live and covers most of the major countries around the world. 4G has the capability of reaching up to 300 mW, which at levels like that, detrimental effects begin to show on the human body. Reproduction is affected, including the alteration of DNA and the bodies capability to keep up with its own immune system. 5G is a whole new level of microwave exposure. Its microwaves reach levels of up to and more than 400 mW. Now the worst part, the standard that the US and Canada have set for "acceptable" microwave leaks. It is between 6000-10000 mW. This is mind boggling, and very very dangerous. At this level, more health effects begin to show than before. This is thousands of times more potent than even the smallest pulses, and for you to understand the true effects, you must understand what we as humans are. Humans, and our DNA is basically a fractal antenna. What that means is, we are capable of receiving and sending microwaves ourselves. In fact, it's a necessary part of being alive as a human. We use this to interact with the environment, read feelings and emotions from other people, and SO much more. Now, with the levels of microwaves to be introduced by 5G, we will begin to see total alteration of DNA, reduced oxygen intake through our lungs, cancer, memory loss, dizziness, anxiety and cognitive effects. Males will see a reduction in sperm count in men, and women will see serious damage done to eggs. At these levels, the frequencies being emitted have the complete and total ability to manipulate thoughts and thinking. This will be used to further drive ads and sales, public narrative about politics. Truthfully, the full effects are unknown, but the amount of information about it all just floating around and not being discussed, is absolutely stunning. The FCC has moved to change laws to actually make it illegal to speak out against 5G, so our time is numbered here. The website is right here <http://5ginformation.net/call-to-action/> where you can find the exact bill I am speaking about, and what will happen if it were to pass and become law. It's a scary situation that we find ourselves in, and what's worse is there is no public health studies being done. Not a single one. I will link the BIOinitiative report that includes a substantial amount of evidence showing the damage that can be done by EMF waves and 5G itself. On the next page is a graph showing the US and Canada Standards of EMF compared to the technology being used.

Another huge part of control that's been happening for quite some time is the destruction of our food industry. We have moved into an almost full blown diet of processed and fast foods, which comprise of chemicals and GMOs. Even the food that isn't processed still falls victim to the GMO. A GMO is ANY genetically modified organism that has had its genes altered by science in a lab. This can range from a seed of a fruit, to cheese, to even meat. Animals fed with GMO crops become what they eat, a vessel of chemicals that becomes nothing healthy at all. Our diet has become empty calories, meat that has no proper nutrition anymore, and even fruits and vegetables have been genetically modified. All of these things react differently with our body, and to make a long story very short, it is weakening us. A great film to watch for more information on all of this is What the Health, or Rotten. Milk and Dairy act as coagulant, and in large quantities, will literally cake up on your brainstem and pineal gland, which is where the “magic” of being a human happens. Your pineal gland is your gateway to other dimensions, higher conscious, and is the starting point of out of body experiences. We as humans have the ability to telepathically connect with each other and other beings. The governments and control systems in place know this, and this is why nothing has truly changed. Processed vegan products are no different than processed regular foods or fast foods. Processed meats remove all the beneficial aspects of meat, as it's usually dyed red in stores to last longer and appear fresher. The animals are fed growth hormones and are kept in awful conditions until slaughter. All of these negative effects can be avoided, and the solution is so simple. A diet that consists of organic fruits, vegetables, and grains. If you desire meat, which is no problem in itself, only when the meat comes from an unhealthy, unsustainable source, then try and have grass fed meat, or meat purchased directly from a farm. The cleaner your food is, the healthier and more open to see what's going on you will be.

As it stands right now, we have given over control over all major “things” in our life to corporations. These corporations are large, sometimes being the parent company to over 100 different companies that go by different names. The food industry is a major victim to this system, as well as the media. It's all been hijacked. The use of advertisements, personally tailored to us, allows companies now more than ever to hone in on buyers wants, needs, and weaknesses. Food is advertised with bright, bold colors, with “fun” logos, mottos, and designs on the product. All done in the name of hoping that massive amounts of “X” item will be purchased. This system works, and it works very well. We as humans do not realize how susceptible we are to these things, because it has all become the normal. It is now normal to just go to a grocery store and buy anything you could want, without having to worry about where it came from or how it was produced. We have put trust in the news and in corporations that provide us with healthcare, because it's what's been going on for so long. So long that in fact, we have begun to forget how to think and act for ourselves. We trust doctors who tell us we need pills for depression, rather than to just eat better. Doctors overlook depression and call it a common thing, when in fact, we all suffer from depression or anxiety because of all the different things bearing down on us. The media telling us what to watch and believe, the food industry steering us towards the unhealthiest of foods, jobs that overwork and underpay us, resulting in constant financial stress. The picture below shows the very few parent companies that have grown into absolute monsters, who then in turn own and produce the food that all of these companies make.

Made by the same company, slapped with a different name, this is how genetically modified food has begun to run rampant, devastating our environment and health. This is a widespread problem, and the same exact thing is happening through the media, as you can see on the previous page.

What you are looking at is control at its finest. The illusion of options is there, but in reality, there are no options, as everything stems down to being owned and controlled by the same few companies, which makes objectives and agendas so much easier to push. Narratives are pushed through the media, be that major news stories, pushing the fact that terrorism is a threat to scare the masses into literally handing over the rights to their own privacy, and even their rights to bear arms. These are dangerous times we live in, where everything on the surface is not all it seems to be. There is no sure fire way to fix any of this, except talking. Talking to one another about these things, helping each other get to the bottom of things we don't understand, and questioning EVERYTHING. There's no great place to leave this subject as there was to enter it, and I could write hundreds more pages on different events, technologies, and happenings that have brought us here, but that's beyond the point and scope of this. We as people tend to get lost in the finer details of things, refusing to believe or hear things unless there is irrefutable proof, or it's been officially talked about by a government official. I'm here to say that won't happen. What will bring change is us sticking together, as one people, no matter race religion or beliefs. We've been lied to as a whole, and as whole, it's time to move into a world where everyone has the ability to live exactly how they want.

With the knowledge of the previous few pages, we can begin to put more pieces of the puzzle together, and we will start to see the bigger picture. I need to be clear once again, that what is to follow will be brief, to the point information so we do not get lost in the finer details, and we can continue painting the whole picture. Also, everything that is to follow begins to enter the realm of what I like to call, the far out. Although it really isn't far out, many of these subjects will sound out of this world and very foreign if you have not heard about or looked into these subjects. All I ask is that you keep an open mind, and relate everything to the information and evidence in our reality that we have already discussed. We've briefly covered politics, systems of control, behind the scenes operations and military cover ups. Now we will begin to talk about the real reasons as to why these systems are in place, and why we are so controlled. Beginning long before Roswell, and continuing until present day, ET technology has been the focus of many world governments, including our own right here in America. ET craft have absolutely been recovered by our government, and this is when the darker forces start to show themselves. As mentioned before, Roswell was the tipping point. That was the very first time our government actually laid eyes and hands on a real ET craft, including the recovery of ET bodies. I will not push into these details, as the proof and evidence becomes very spotty concerning how many bodies, what kind of craft, etc. etc. All you need to do is dig a little and you will begin to see the truth is something else happened other than what was officially reported. Everything that happened after that was lies and misinformation. Presidents such as Dwight D. Eisenhower, JFK in later years, and others after him, including Clinton and Bush SR, and Bush JR, all tried and failed to press the CIA, NSA, and deep state operatives to release the information, most attempts either resulting in the end of life, or career. Why? Why is the real question behind all of this? Our government knows where we are headed as a population. We as a whole have become violent, unstable, and damaging to everything around us including ourselves and our environment. We do not treat our fellow people with respect or love, and still view the world through through the lenses of race, ethnicity, skin color, and material wealth and belongings. It's truly not our fault, because that's what the plan was from the beginning. We are not heading towards a free world. We are heading towards a world that is controlled and manipulated at every level. We are slowly being introduced to the technologies that our government has been working on for years, to ease us into this new world. AI that will eventually outsmart and replace hard working humans, and a new the 5G network that is rolling out is just the beginning. This brings us to the heart of this chapter, and one of the main points of the whole book itself. We've in a sense failed. For a very long time, other beings and entities have observed us here on Earth, with no intention of interfering in our path. It was hoped that one day, we as humans would shake the reins of tyranny over us, but that day never came. We are long past the point of being able to save ourselves without assistance from another species of beings, which is exactly what we are dealing with today. We are being contacted at an unbelievable rate, and the governments are working just as fast around the world to make sure we have no idea. Before really delving into this, I will provide BRIEF descriptions of the most common, known beings, entities and spirit guides that exist with us in the universe, sharing the same "space" that we do. I will also provide information about the different dimensions that surround us, and exist above and below our own dimension. Let me note and be very clear, what is to follow has been copied and pasted from the website <http://soulsalight.com/> and has not been edited at all by myself. Links will be provided to this if you would like to research these beings and entities on your own, which I highly recommend as the only reason I am providing this information unedited is because there is no better way to word this information than its original source, and it's truly a phenomenal website which I hope every single reader will check out and see for yourself. Again, what follows below has been copied and NOT edited in any way from its original source.

(There really is no way to fully comprehend these universal guides without having an open mind to the possibility that there is more to this universe than we are fully aware of and that includes the existence of other dimensions. Without this, you may be quite perplexed as to why many of these species are unseen from our perspective.)

With the help of telepathic contact from advanced beings, I have attempted to explain the different dimensions and how the species generally express consciousness in each. This is no easy task as words and our 3D view are too limited to express the scope.

Us trying to understand a more expanded dimension is like a dot trying to understand what it would be like being in a cube and everything that opens to its thinking, doing and being from there. It is almost as difficult for a cube to know what it is like being simply a dot. Plus, the dot is no longer just a dot when it is viewed from three dimensions. Therefore, you see that expanding to a higher dimension makes the perspective on everything below it change too. Shifting to a higher dimension requires an expansion of awareness, and once you do it your evolution speeds up exponentially. The lines are also not always so clear cut between dimensions and evolving through them is not necessarily consecutive. There are various perspectives within each dimension, sometimes referred to as densities or frequencies of vibration that also play a role in the dimensional experience.

I have been told that there are twelve dimensions in our universe. Within these there are many probable parallel universal expressions, making our universe what some term a multiverse. Consciousness makes up the universe as a whole and it is constantly expanding. Hence, apparently a thirteenth dimension is being created now. While it appears that one dimension may have sprung from another, one cannot exist without the others, because they make up a cohesive unified whole where all are equally important.

The dimensions have been described to me as being like a spiral formation continually expanding outward. We can relate to this through the golden mean spiral as expressed by the Fibonacci sequence of numbers, wherein the previous two numbers add together to make the next.

1 1 2 3 5 8 13 21 34 55 89 144

Below I describe how the dimensions can be viewed, according to information received through higher dimensional contacts. I list the dimension and then the corresponding Fibonacci number, which has numerological significance for each dimensional perspective. I have shared some of that information, but there are lots more to this and it's fun to ponder for yourself, if you are so inclined. Then I describe the relationship the dimension has with space and time and the general awareness and focus of species at these levels.

Some consider time a dimension of its own, but the guides say that the experience of time and space simply change through the dimensions. Also, and this is the real mind-boggler, all these dimensions are existing at once and being created at once and are dependent on each other, so it becomes hard to define them separately when you realize the significance of this. But here is the attempt.

First Dimension ~ Fibonacci # 1: The point of arrival into being where only the present is known. Physical expression from our view would be at the atomic level as single particles. Awareness is an urge to continue, but is unaware of being separate from others and of a self-identity. Communication is inherent electrical impulses, but unconscious of the meaning of motives.

The Law of Attraction begins forming realities and is influenced by all the energy and creative motives of higher dimensions. This level and the next are where consciousness exists as an impetus and is completely open to becoming form, as is reflected in the number one. Things are being sprouted anew constantly here. This is like the fountain of creation and is the unified oneness. This is the seed level of creation. The Fibonacci number 1 represents the form from which all complexity unfurls.

Second Dimension ~ Fibonacci # 1: The splitting into two or separate particles or cells that then create connections that form elements and more complex expressions energetically. Polarity develops as a push and pull, as well as a union of opposites, and gravity unites matter bodies. Galaxies and solar systems being created out of the Big Bang might be our view of the second dimension being born in a sequential perspective. Time is only seen as forward movement with no ability to reflect on the past and contemplate the future.

Unique expressions and reflection of self as separate from the One and others begins to occur. There is an instinctual impetus at this level to grow with only crude awareness of the process and choices are not apparent. Communication is instinctual or impulse based. Though we do not know it, we greatly influence this dimension with what we choose to give attention to in our 3D world.

We can be helping a spark in 2D become more aware by the attention we give forms around us. From our 3D view this level is like the soup of consciousness waiting to blossom into our 3D awareness. It is what Quantum Physicists might call the Quantum Field. This is where the conscious observer plays a huge influence on what is materialized. It is still Fibonacci number 1 because it remains an initial sprouting phase of creation. You might view 2D as the first stem on a sprouting plant that unfolds with two leaves.

Third Dimension ~ Fibonacci # 2: Awareness expands into three spatial directions and time frames to explore. Past, present, and future awareness within a sequential progression awakens and the environment allows movement up, down and sideways. Physical forms become more complex cooperatives and self-identity develops further complexity. Diversity of consciousness evolves various and more complex species and expressions.

The awareness of cause and effect of thoughts and actions expands. Opposites reveal differences and choices; from basic avoidance of pain and seeking of nourishment, as seen in plants and animals, to more varied human thought. Communication is through conscious physical interaction. The world appears solid, dense and difficult to navigate because of the limited view of space and time. With its opposing sides, 3D can be like being confined in a cube where views are limited and there are seeming laws of physics to be adhered to.

Since the physical body is not yet understood as a container for consciousness, when it degrades, it goes into migrates to an astral state, which is still a part of the third dimension (some have called it the fourth), where its level of awareness then determines its reincarnation. The less aware, three dimensional beings incarnate automatically into something of similar vibration, while those beings that are more aware, have a conscious decision as to where and what they will experience next, though it is still related to a cause and effect or law of attraction model. The Fibonacci number 2 is reflected in the focus on opposites, including good and bad and right and wrong. A big part of this dimensional experience is establishing individual expression and realizing the impact of cause and effect in how reality is lived for the self and others.

Fourth Dimension ~ Fibonacci # 3: A wider view of time and space makes the probable past, present and future visible, so sequential time and space is seen as more malleable. Physical forms become less solid and understood as merely vessels for consciousness. Opposites dissolve and choices are seen as neither good nor bad, and are chosen for the expansion of experience. This dimension is a transition phase from physical to pure energy expression, and is focused on developing the ability to create through consciousness. Collective and individual energetic connections between beings are apparent. Communication becomes increasingly telepathic through empathic and energetic sensitivities and higher mental, emotional and extra-sensory abilities are finely tuned and aid evolution.

Awareness and knowledge gained from lives beyond the present become increasingly integrated into the whole self. The astral field is seen as an energy containment of all consciousness in the given matrix, and is no longer perceived as a separate realm. Species learn to interact with the astral field of locations to understand and collectively create. Beings in 4D learn to transfer consciousness to a new physical form at will instead of having to reincarnate. They retain memories of being in previous bodies. The Fibonacci number three represents a third view from that of simply opposing forces and also the power of choice in creating beyond opposites. 4D beings see beyond the limits of good and evil and learn the power of making higher vibratory choices. It is a dimension of endless creative possibilities and exploration. Many species in this dimension learn to effectively time travel, some with advanced technology, and others through mental advancements. This dimension is a diverse playground that makes ours look simple. It gives a lot of leeway for beings to explore who they are and how they can contribute in the universe.

Fifth Dimension ~ Fibonacci #5: Time and space is experienced as a choice of focus and as multidimensional. No need for a physical form, and consciousness unites with and becomes fully aware of aspects that were separated in lower dimensional perspectives. Knowledge of all lives become integrated. We view this as ascension into a pure energy form. Many call this the dimension of unconditional love or Christ Consciousness, because awareness is fully aligned with that universal frequency and its power to create. Impact of being of service to others and one's effect on the whole becomes paramount. Species usually are still focused around a place of origin and expanding the potential of their own world or species. Communication is by means of focused telepathy and shared experiences.

Many souls become teachers at this level for those developing in 3rd and 4th dimensions. This is the dimension where most of what we call ascended masters exist and other teachers or guides that are focused on aiding evolution. Beings often take on the form energetically of the beings they evolved from in the previous dimensional awareness. Beings can go from the third dimension directly to the fifth and have done so, but it is more common for beings to experience the full power of their creativity in the 4th dimension first and learn how to be fully in tune with higher emotional vibrations before moving on to choose this path. The fifth dimension is service oriented and also where beings find communion with and fine tune their connection to source energy in creating and serving the whole.

Sixth Dimension ~ Fibonacci #8: In 6D multidimensional consciousness collectively creates on a larger scale than self and Species. New level of creativity and imagination add to expanding abilities and more universal perspective on creation. Species extend focus to other worlds and influencing a greater whole. Communication and abilities are unlimited by space and time and there is interest in guiding lower dimensions and developing inter-species relations.

There is still individual awareness, but it is always within a consideration of a larger consciousness, no matter the species evolution. The Fibonacci number 8 governs 6D motives to express more of an infinite nature. The understanding of how the unity expressed in the the number zero, in fact, twists into the number eight, and all is contained in that endless circuitry of energetic transfer.

Sixth dimension awareness is introspective but with a wider view. Beings here aim to learn and grow for the sake of empowering the whole and they comprehend the impacts they have through space and time. They have a drive that is based on knowing the principles of the 5th dimensional unconditional love vibration and the desire to spread this knowing. Beings in 6D want to play a bigger role in creation and that is what moves their activities. A 6D being can appear in whatever form suits their personal and collective creative ventures, but they still do so within their species evolution. Or they may choose consciously to follow another species path for a short while or a long time. There may be a lot of movement through species as this is also a time where beings want to take in lots of new information about creation and its many expressions. Many 6D souls will incarnate into lower awareness to gain experience with different worlds or to assist.

Seventh Dimension ~ Fibonacci #13: Place of formation of matrices for worlds. Springs continually from the expansion of 1- 6D consciousness, and now holds the fabric of worlds intact. There is full awareness of all the previous dimensions and the directive of those above. Beings at this level are pure energy and often did not evolve from physical forms, but were created out of consciousness, as a whole in any given environment, to bring creation to new levels of expression.

Species work entirely collectively with the fibers of light that connect and feed all consciousness and form. Focus is on creating and helping evolution of all realities by infusing them with form and energetic impetus for expression and to continue a collective creation. Species are system model creators and maintainers and energetic support. This dimension is almost like a culmination and accumulation of all previous levels of awareness and is at the same time the building material of the higher dimensions. Orbs and pure light beings exist here and they work to empower all the pieces of creation with its unifying principles and structures often based on sacred geometry.

The Fibonacci number thirteen is a pure expression of the creation impulse of the number one (1st and 2nd dimensions) plus the creative output of the number three (3rd and 4th dimensions) in combination. It is an unbalanced and prime number and thus derives its power from whatever balance is created within it by all the other consciousness helping to form a world or matrix for creative expression. Beings come to this dimension that have a specific inclination to build form and structure. A soul can come from any other dimension to play this role. It can also be a respite for souls that have come from a physical path. It allows them to be a part of creating structure from an inside and collective view, so to speak.

Eighth Dimension ~ Fibonacci #21: Awareness here is of infinite existence and beings are involved in continuing to push the envelope of possibility that is developed within the previous dimensions. This is a level of ultimate creative thought and formation of ideas. Species here are becoming masters of infinite influence by being sparks of new conceptual expression shared throughout the universe. Beings at this awareness may travel throughout the universe and play in a way that would almost seem intrusive to us, but they have an incredibly wide perspective and know the fleeting and yet deep significance of everything happening everywhere.

There is a view of infinity that becomes truly flexible and exudes a playfulness with it all. Often beings in 6D will evolve to have more impact with a greater reach on the creative flow of evolution on many levels. There are twenty-one levels that 8th dimensional beings go through to fully awaken to what they view as the Ultimate Infinite. They take this lightly and quite seriously at the same time. There is a profound sense of balance in 8D, but it is way beyond our idea of balance. There is almost a humor in the Fibonacci connection to the number 21 as reflecting a sort of regression into the first two fundamental dimensions that make up the building material of all. There must be an understanding of the first two dimensions to be creative in 8D. Beings have a sense of humor at this level that we probably wouldn't totally get. Some might say that beings in 8D are akin to that of the omnipotent character in Star Trek episodes, called "Q" who can appear as anything and loves to meddle. But that is only from our point of view. They do not view their role as meddling, but rather inspiring and infusing creative life into the universe, which they do.

Ninth Dimension ~ Fibonacci #34: Consciousness is spent on the completion of cycles and then a spinning outward of energy to create the beginnings of new cycles. There is awareness of larger meaning of all creations and their multidimensional outcomes that naturally follows experiences of previous dimensions. Species here are focused on completing and reflecting on the creation processes thus far throughout the universe and make decisions about the next wave of creations based on the previous cycles performance.

This is a big transitional phase of completing creations and preparing for and launching energy into the next. There are lots of what we might consider to be committees on this level of awareness. Many diverse beings and various species from all areas of the universe come together to bring meaning and closure, or continuance, to what has and is, being created. This is a place of unity of species and a high level of decision making in teams of colorful consciousness.

The Fibonacci number 34 has a deep connection to the number seven $3+4$. Beings at this stage have a strong influence on what happens with matrices that exist as foundations in the 7th dimension and how they will move on or not. You can also see how the 9th rung within the Golden Spiral really becomes expanded and embraces the tighter inner spiral like an enveloping arm. The number 9 itself is a completed spiral. The 9th dimension envelops all the previous ones and represents the completion of most of the creative processes within the universe. You can see the 9th rung completing in the golden spiral in much of nature also. The remaining dimensions might be seen as in Service to the formative first 9 in a way.

Tenth Dimension ~ Fibonacci #55: Consciousness connects back to the Oneness of the first dimension, but with a new awareness of all that was created in 9 dimensions. This is a resting place of unification back to the origin and empowering place where the singularity spawn's creation. Beings are not reaching out to communicate and influence from here, but instead are collectively focused on the next phase of creative expansion from the Oneness.

This is almost like a dimension of spiritual retreat or a vow of silence and contemplation of all universal principles. It is 55 in Fibonacci numerology indicating a balance of two fives. Five being knowledge or wisdom and the 5th dimension knowing of universal love consciousness. The two fives can also cancel each other out which forces awareness back to zero along with the fundamental impetus of the number 1 creating 10.

It is a profound place to be and follows the completion experienced in the ninth dimension but one can also find their way here direct from any dimension above the 4th any time. You rarely hear of beings as guides or channeled, or souls incarnating from the 10th dimension. That is because this dimension is not about reaching out, but rather going inward to the Source of all consciousness in the Oneness. Individuality becomes melded into the bliss of being unified with all Creation.

Eleventh Dimension ~ Fibonacci #89: This dimension is characterized by the purity of seeing the oneness and all creation in unity and of being in service on many levels. The infinite is in balance and no longer in a place of creative urges. Beings become of service to respective worlds in all dimensions. This is the realm of what we call angels, where there is no creation happening, only service to creation. This is a level of messages, signs, encouragement and guidance, where beings are capable of entering all dimensions and becoming a part of each system in service to those creating within. The beings here are messengers of creation.

Like the number eleven implies, there exists two lines of communication or transaction in two directions, in and out. Also seen in the Fibonacci number 89; the 8 is infinite and can be a part of all creative levels, and the 9 is an aid to completing the cycles represented in each creation. This is a powerful number and is in service to the infinitely completing and unfolding within the universe. And there are 89 types of service and energetic messages to relay from this realm. It is in many ways a very structured dimension, with its own hierarchy of actions. The hierarchy of angelic beings that we know from our religious texts and experiences are depictions of this perspective. Beings or souls can come from any level of awareness to the eleventh dimension if their inclination is aligned with its service orientation.

Twelfth Dimension ~ Fibonacci #144: This level of creation sees all things in all spaces created in all times, at once and can travel to any world in any timeline. There is awareness of all dimensions with a powerful and expansive perspective and influence. Consciousness here has a desire to serve and oversee the direction of creation throughout the universe. Beings here have come out of the 9th, 10th and 11th and are form councils to focus their intense energy. They are not dictators, simply guides to various perspectives throughout the multiverse. They influence by counseling and radiating pure energy thought forms.

You will often hear of 12th dimension council messages being channeled and they usually will have 12 to 144 members. They will work with any level of reality and any species. Absolutely nothing is beyond them, so to speak. They know the oneness like they know everything created from it. One might think they are the gods of the universe, but they know better than that. They have the full knowing that we are all the gods of creation. 12D Councils gather in mutually created environments that are special to the group evolutions or purpose. It could appear as anything from a castle, a mountain top sanctuary, a starship, a pyramid sailing through time to a star nebula.

Certain species originally created this dimension from their own evolution (i.e. Felines, Avians and Dragons) who came from another universe, but now there are many souls that have found their way to this level that have evolved in this universe, including some from species we know of, such as Pleadians (first evolved humans), or the winged race of Andromedans, and some Archangels now work in this dimension. These souls have been many things and they can become anything that exists instantly, but they usually have come from the evolutionary path of a certain species. These beings in 12D come from many galaxies in all corners of what we perceive as the universe. It is truly vast you know. And 12D beings enjoy the expanse and diversity and can travel throughout, in the wink of an eye, but councils will focus on aiding evolution in particular areas of the universe.

Thirteenth Dimension ~ Fibonacci #233: A new 13th dimension is being created as our multi-verse expands on all levels of awareness through the dimensions. What do you think its characteristics or awareness will be?

Angel of Creativity: Uriel is known as the Archangel of Creativity, his name meaning “fire of God.” This celestial being kindles artistic fires in the mortal heart. Uriel is the patron angel of literature and music. He also grants the gift of prophecy and therefore inspires our clairvoyant and psychic abilities. He is the chief in the order of Seraphim and the order of Cherubim. Often identified as the angel who “stands at the Gate of Eden with a fiery sword.” He is Golden in color vibration.

Angel of Thought: The name Metatron literally means "the throne beside the throne of God." Metatron is credited with being an archangel who led the children out of Israel and also stopped Abraham from sacrificing his son, Isaac. Metatron helps us communicate with God and brings God's presence to us and opens up our hearts in order to better receive this guidance. He is supervisor of the Akashic Records, the energetic archives where all our thoughts and lives are recorded eternally. The Metatrons Cube holds more secrets to this angelic force as it contains profound knowledge within its geometry. Metatron has been identified with the Prophet Enoch and some say he was Enoch. It has also been said that he was the Angel who provided humanity with the 22 Hebrew letters and the original Tarot.

Angel of Miracles: The first Angel created by God, Michael is the leader of all the Archangels and is in charge of protection, courage, strength, truth and integrity. His name means "he who is like God" and he is the chief over the dominion order of virtues, angel of repentance, righteousness, and ruler of the fourth heaven. It is commonly believed that Michael was the angel that Moses communicated with in the burning bush and that he also saved Daniel from the lion's den. He inspires truth, patience and love in the human heart. In Roman Catholic tradition, Michael is considered to be the patron angel of policemen, guiding and guarding them as they protect us. He is also thought to be the one who gently leads our souls to heaven. Michael is ruler of the Sun and radiates purple, violet, and indigo and holds golden keys to miracles.

Angel of Healing: Raphael is known to be healing to all living beings. The name means, "divine healer." This angel also grants us many gifts, including joy, love, grace and creativity. He encourages self-motivation in living our life purpose. Besides being ruler of the angels of healing, Raphael is considered regent of the sun, chief of the order of virtues, governor of the south, guardian of the west, ruling prince of the second heaven, guardian of The Tree of Life in the garden of Eden and an angel of prayer, love, joy, and light. He belongs to the order of cherubim, the dominions, and the powers. He is said by some to be the friendliest and funniest of all the angels. Raphael radiates green and yellow healing rays.

Angelic Messenger: Gabriel is one of the two highest ranking angels in Judeo-Christian and Islamic lore. Her name means "strength of God". She is a unique archangel in that she is an acknowledged female angelic presence in the higher echelons. Gabriel fosters joy, truth, justice and love. She grants wisdom in interpreting our dreams and visions. Gabriel is the ruler of the Moon as well as navigation, ocean voyages, motherhood, fertility, children, the home, domestic issues, starting new ventures, enhancing psychic powers, astral travel, birth, clairvoyance, dreams, emotions, imagination, inspiration, intuition, secrets, sleep, women's mysteries, and reincarnation. Gabriel embraces us with messages through her angelic pure white light.

Your Special Angel: An unseen hand, a guiding light, a specific angel is attracted and assigned to you based on your soul mission and inclinations. As your soul's spiritual mother, she holds the blueprint of your perfection and knows how you can best evolve. She protects you and brings messages of inspiration. She cannot alter your personal free will, but is permitted to influence you toward your higher good. She stays with you throughout your lifetime and is dedicated to strengthening and encouraging you on your path.

Andromedans : Place of Origin: These are our galactic neighbors, only 2.5 million light years away in the Andromeda Galaxy.

Dimensional Perspectives: Exist from 3D on up to 12D

Appearance: There are many types or races of Andromedans, just as there are many different beings in our Milky Way Galaxy. There are ones from a race of 4-5D humans that have similar features to us, but are hairless. Some even have elongated cone heads. Another, is a race of 4D 3-4-foot-tall blue skinned humanoids with bald round heads and dark eyes, and another is of a master race of at least 7-9-foot-tall winged humanoids existing in higher dimensions. These may have their origin with the Avian races.

Evolution: We are not yet aware of the Andromeda species evolution, but it is as varied and rich as it is in the Milky Way Galaxy.

Qualities: Not privy yet to specifics differentiating Andromedan races. Still learning.

Abilities: Unknown, but that can change anytime.

Specialties: Still gathering from these beings. Each has its own specialty.

Basic Needs: Unknown Focus: Unknown.

Involvement with Earth: The winged beings have been involved with Earth since our first life formed and with humans at various stages of our development. It may be that the Sumerian winged beings depicted on their reliefs are Andromedans. They say they have been invited by the Guardian Archangels of Earth to participate in our progression and that they come to our solar system on the wings of the Archangels who are the gatekeepers to Earth. Perhaps the depictions of archangels are actually images of the winged Andromedans coming as they came into our world and were thought to be the angels themselves.

Guide for Humanity: Andon (8D ambassador of the winged race of Andromedans)

Star seeds: There are less Andromedan souls incarnated here than the beings listed from our Milky Way Galaxy, but there are still more than from other galaxies. Somewhere in the vicinity of 800,000 humans have an Andromedan origin soul. They usually live understated lives and only contain a small bit of their Andromedan energy. The frequency is much different than that of our galaxy and this appears to affect the ease of incarnation and the amount of soul energy that can be maintained in the human form in 3D.

These people are often quiet warriors that are in the background and do not call too much attention to themselves. They are often in supportive roles for Earth masters or are in the shadows playing roles that seem mundane. Within this quiet demeanor they have a great potency and can deeply affect others with their presence. They often fear their own power and are unsure what to do with that internal strength. In just being here, these souls open new galactic energetic pathways between our galaxies.

Arcturians: Place of Origin: A planet of the star Arcturus 36.7 light years from us.

Dimensional Perspectives: Exist from 4D to 6D

Appearance: Arcturians are humanoid, but have different features than us. I see the 6D Arcturians as tall white glowing figures with angled and intense eyes. These Arcturians may be what have been termed Tall Whites. Others who have contact with lower dimensional 4D forms describe them as short with wider faces and denser stature. These could be a different race of Arcturians or simply be their 4th dimension appearance.

Evolution: Not yet aware of Arcturian evolution, other than they evolved to become a highly spiritual species and are considered to be among the most technically advanced in the galaxy. They may actually have come from Andromeda originally.

Qualities: Precise intellect, telepathic, alchemists, analytical, scientific, reserved, deep structured thinkers, code breakers, mathematical, healers, interdimensional travelers.

Abilities: Experts in use of geometry, color and sound vibrations for altering time, space, atmosphere, and states of being. Energetic alchemist, architects, builders and healers. They see beneath the surface of things and use precise methods to create and alter environments including the health of a vessel.

Specialties: Using sacred geometry to move through space and time and shift realities. Their methods of interdimensional travel and communications are used throughout the universe. They are also called upon to create geometrical sound and color forms to alter or transmit to developing worlds. Arcturians are often the masterminds behind the crop circle signatures. They create amazing ships of light that can traverse many dimensions and are sought after.

Basic Needs: Appreciation and being needed. Arcturians know they are good at what they do, and like to be admired for it. They enjoy using their abilities for constructive purposes.

Focus: Designing and implementing their brilliant ideas to be of service in the universe.

Involvement with Earth: The Arcturians are our neighbors and at one point a group inhabited Earth, long before humans become sentient and before Lemuria and Atlantis. It was decided by galactic councils that there would be other experiments to help local species develop on Earth, so they left. But they still retain an interest in Earth's progress and today they make contact attempting to open humanity to new thought, especially via their use of sacred geometry. They design crop circle forms to input new evolutionary frequencies into Earth and her inhabitants.

Guide for Humanity: El Ectarus (6D Ambassador to Earth)

Star seeds: There are many million Arcturian souls born on Earth and a good portion are among the younger generation. It is felt that these starseeds can play an important role as ambassadors to the neighboring 4D Arcturians and also elevate humanities capabilities in their areas of expertise. These starseeds will be the planners and builders of a new society through their innovations. They not only see beyond the present structures and systems; they can also add an understanding of the frequencies inherent in form. They can be cutting edge mathematicians, physicists, geometry artists, architects, community planners, system designers, technology wizards, musicians that have a talent for precise use of tones for affect, and energy healers that use geometry and sound to heal specific organs and mental states. These souls like nothing more than to experiment and see their ideas in action.

Avians: Place of Origin: The Avian Extraterrestrials originally came from another universe. Now ET Bird Beings are found throughout this universe in many forms.

Dimensional Perspectives: Exist from 3D on up to 12D

Appearance: Large birds in many varieties and some human bird hybrids

Evolution: There were already highly evolved Avian Species that entered this Universe from another, billions of years ago. They remain as an elite group of 12D beings. However, many Avians in this Universe have evolved from small birds that were seeded by the 12D Avians on 3D planets in various galaxies. They evolved huge diversity of color, size, and adaptations. Eventually many developed an expanded consciousness because of their ability to see a big picture of their world. Their sentience developed from their visionary perspective and ability to move via thought. Some found themselves able to teleport and soar in their minds to other lands and then planets. This expanded their reach and they found themselves inhabiting new worlds. Later avian species were genetically mixed with humans, as this was an experimental trend in this universe. Birds of Earth are a gift from the higher dimensional Avian beings to help regulate our electromagnetic atmosphere.

Qualities: Visionary, precognitive, teleporters, uplifting, way showers, expansive, freedom lovers, keen intelligence and multidimensional sight, industrious, efficient, excellent observers.

Abilities: Bright intelligence that sees from angles that no other can. Can uplift any situation and take it to new levels of thought. Easily raise vibrations. Free thinkers and feelers that are not bound by confines of group consciousness. Have a memory that holds the essence of everything they encounter.

Specialties: Higher dimensional forms are often called upon for their natural higher perspective and to raise the bar in any situation. They can be many places at once and usually send only an energetic form of themselves around the universe for consultations. Less evolved avians remain on their home planet and evolve their abilities in their own unique ways.

Basic Needs: Freedom and Honor. Do not try to confine a sentient avian being. They honor all life and expect to be honored as well.

Focus: Expanding frontiers of thought and creation. Raising frequency and taking situations and ideas to higher levels of knowing.

Involvement with Earth: Seeded bird species on Earth following the end of the Dinosaurs' reign. Higher dimensional avian beings have dropped in on Earth civilizations to help enlighten to new perspectives, usually through communications with advanced masters or high priests and shamans.

Guide for Humanity: Thoth (12D ambassador collective)

Star seeds: There are only in the hundreds of thousands of avian souls incarnate on Earth. These beings do not prefer to work through this confining method. They often feel uncomfortable in human skin and desire to get out of where they are. It is disconcerting for them to be confined in any way. Those avian souls that have braved human incarnation are here to raise the energetic potential of the race and help them to see beyond the astral influences to higher heights. They are cage breakers and will always be looking for ways out of limiting situations by stretching belief systems. They are the Wright Brothers of humanity. Daring to think the impossible dream. They can be found in any field, but often those requiring high intellect and attention to minute details and observations that others miss. They remember things that others forget. Avian souls can be excellent detectives or spies. They are inventors, scientists, professors, poets, and innovators of all kinds. They sometimes pursue their vision at the expense of more mundane things in life, as they can have a mad scientist tendency and be a bit in the clouds.

Felines: Place of Origin: Originally these beings came from another universe. They are prominent in the Sirius Star System, but exist in other star systems as well.

Dimensional Perspectives: Exist from 3D on up to 12D

Appearance: Bipedal cats or human cat hybrids. Features are similar to Earth felines. Species have taken forms similar to Lions and others look more like our domestic cats with variety of coloration. They can be anywhere from 3-8' tall.

Evolution: Evolved billions of years ago from quadruped cats to bipedal large cats. Developed higher senses and fine-tuned psychic sensitivity as sentience rather than use of physical tools. Later feline species were genetically mixed with humans and have half human bodies with cat features such as tails and feline facial characteristics. These were created from a group of feline genetic engineers. Felines of 6D and higher are energy beings no longer requiring what we perceive as physical form, but they can shape themselves to appear as their original feline form.

Qualities: Curious, adventurous, creative, imaginative, organized, focused, planners, tenacious and intense yet capable of profound relaxation and deep meditation. Independent yet capable of forming close bonds to accomplish goals. While serious about their tasks, they can be quite playful, fun loving, and lighthearted.

Abilities: Highly psychic and telepathic, visionary, and advanced creators. Attune to frequencies and can mold energies to change environments with music, art, dance and theater among all other creative means. Able to connect with other forms of consciousness and co-create with ease.

Specialties: Higher dimensional forms are often galactic travelers and are called upon to shift energies in environments and spark creative flow and psychic abilities. They are also commonly galactic performers, sharing their creative energies in many artistic ways.

Basic Needs: Both comfort and stimulation. This is seen on all levels of development. They love exploring new books of the universe, but they enjoy doing it in comfort.

Focus: Personal growth and evolving consciousness and creativity. Felines find fulfillment in sharing their gifts to inspire new ideas and move energy in new directions or to establish states of tranquility.

Involvement with Earth: They seeded feline species on Earth in times of mammal evolution. Prominent in Atlantis/Lemuria and later in Ancient Egypt as guides to humans who sought celestial contact and assistance in developing extrasensory abilities and advances in creativity.

Guide for Humanity: Sekmet (9D ambassador collective). Revered as a god in Ancient Egypt.

Star seeds: There are millions of Feline souls incarnate on Earth now. They are here to bring creative spirit to new levels within humanity. Souls have come from 4D to 9D and each bring their quality of Feline energy to the planet. Usually the characteristics listed above will show themselves in the human personality. They will often have a profound respect for cats of Earth. Though much less common, some purposely distance themselves from the animals in order to claim their independence from the Earth species (unconsciously). While you would think humans with feline souls might be graceful and coordinated, they often feel clumsy in a human body and unsure of their footing. They also believe they should be able to create with their agile minds, and feel awkward having to do mundane physical tasks. Creative ventures are so important to them that they may miss out on human connection as they pursue their dreams. But what they do will usually have a deep energetic influence on others as their projects carry the feline spirit of enlightenment. These souls love to check out new things, ideas and places. They have a knack for spotting trends and being there before others. They are often up on anything fringe or cutting edge to the point where it could get them in trouble. They are often world travelers, but they must have a cozy nook to come home to. They thrive on stimulating input, but they also want to feel the comforts of familiar territory. Feline souls also cherish their alone time and need solitude on a regular basis. But they can cuddle too, on their terms.

Mantis: Place of Origin: These beings are from the Sombrero Galaxy or M104 which is 28 million light years from earth. Yes, in a galaxy far far away.

Dimensional Perspectives: Exist from 3D on up to 9D

Appearance: These are insectoid beings that have features similar to the Praying Mantis insects of Earth, but they stand upright and are at least 8-9 feet tall. Higher dimensional forms are energy beings that maintain their Mantis shape with colorful light.

Evolution: These beings evolved hundreds of millions of years ago on a planet of insects. They became the first to develop advanced self-awareness. They developed the use of tools but in unison they became highly sensitive to sound and light and its reflection in colors. They used this special heightened awareness and became highly advanced in the connection and use of frequencies to change their environment and to communicate with each other and their surroundings. In their historical past, Mantis were matriarchal. They have strong female figures who dominated their cultures. Higher dimensional beings have created a more balanced arrangement with these energies. However, the feminine force is still regarded highly and one would not want to diminish this power with a Mantis around. And no decision is ever made without the female aspect first being taken in and it has the final say.

Qualities: Sensitive to sound, color, and vibrational nuances, luminous, spiritual, healers, graceful, fluid, artistic, penetrating, influential.

Abilities: The Mantis beings are masters with vibrations of sound and color. They use this mastery to heal and create. They are artists of universal light. They dance through frequencies and alter their surroundings as they do so. Mantis beings create bubble like force fields to travel through time and space. In lower dimensions they create living spherical ships of light. In higher dimensions they can send their light bodies in single bubbles of light across the universe.

Specialties: Mantis beings are called upon to give guidance and direction to assure high quality standards to all kinds of projects. They assure that the frequencies are appropriate and that the atmosphere and players are conducive to the particular outcome that is desired. They are like the mural painters and anthem singers of in the universe. They bring the right elements together.

Basic Needs: Fluidity and Admiration. Mantis beings need the flexibility to do their fluid dance and they truly love their work to be admired and the blessings of it to be received.

Focus: Weaving color and sound to create and enliven the light web of the universe.

Involvement with Earth: The Mantis are assisting, and in many ways overseeing, the Zeta Reticulan hybrid program, and human spiritual advancement project. Like the Zetas, they were asked by Galactic Councils to participate. They are ensuring that universal principles are adhered to as well as giving their expertise in frequency alignment. They are the artists in the hybrid process, if you will. They are often seen in the background during abduction experiences. These are usually 4-5D Mantis beings, but they are tuned into guidance from their higher dimensional kin, who play a part in spiritually guiding them. Prior to this recent involvement, Mantis have had little to do with Earth, other than gifting the planet with the Praying Mantis insect that has since evolved into many glorious colors. These little creatures hold special energy of their Mantis parents. It is no wonder that they are revered by many and are often seen as positive omens.

Guide for Humanity: Kizmet (9D Mantis)

Star seeds: There are over 800,000 Mantis souls incarnated here now and only since the recent hybrid program began. This is a new experience for the race and it is not an easy one. Many of these starseeds feel completely out of place on Earth and in a human body, unless they are of the younger generation who also have Zeta DNA. These souls have it easier as there is a lot of Mantis frequency in their chemistry that is aligned with their being. Those born prior to the 90's, and there are not as many of these, may have had a hard adjustment period in life. They have felt that if anyone really knew what they are like, they would run, so they hide their inner truth in some way. It has been a difficult task for their angels and other guides to get them to open up and share what they came to share. Once they do open up, their intensity, art, and ability to know what needs to be done to create the perfect environment is uncanny. They are usually artistic in some way. They are writers, musicians, poets, designers of space and events. They have a knack for bringing pieces of a puzzle together and making it sing. Their gifts lie in bringing energy, aesthetic appeal, and vitality to whatever they do. They are here to use these gifts to infuse higher frequencies into hearts and environments through form, sound and color. No one can do this like a fluid dancing Mantis soul. Even if they are in the sciences, or some seemingly uncreative profession, they will bring some extra flare to their job. They are also a huge help to the new generation of souls being born with advanced DNA as they help them align with their higher potential.

Pleiadians: Place of Origin: The Pleiades Star Cluster.

Dimensional Perspectives: Exist from 3D to 9D

Appearance: Appear much like particularly beautiful Earth humans, with perfect bodies and pleasingly symmetrical features with a luminosity reflecting their higher dimensional frequency.

Evolution: Evolved millions of years ago as one of the early races of what we would call humankind and look like we do. This form has been modeled throughout the universe. Pleiadian DNA has been used to develop many human beings in this universe, including those of our solar system on Venus, Mars, Maldeck and Earth. There still exists newly developing 3D planets in the Pleiades, but the Pleiadians that communicate with us are usually 6D and 9D. These are dimensions they work well within and from which they contact other worlds. They have light bodies, yet like other higher dimensional ET beings, they can appear in a form that projects what they evolved from. Having a lot more time to evolve than we have, they have refined their natures and are intensely spiritual and giving beings.

Qualities: Intuitive, sensitive, imaginative, radiant, communicative, empathic, soothing, nurturing, mystical, understated creativity, healers, counselors, in tune with natural worlds.

Abilities: Pleiadians are healers on many levels. They can empathize and sooth all pains with their sensitive communication and transfer of light. They communicate by means of light transfer. These beings have a natural radiance that comes from their mystical knowing of how to connect and share Source light.

Specialties: Pleiadians are called upon to seed new worlds with the essence of evolved human form, and to commune with a planet's consciousness and its existing life in order to introduce new beings and ideas in a nurturing way. They embody the divine feminine and often will show themselves in female form to radiate this refined quality.

Basic Needs: Peace and sharing. Pleiadians thrive in places and states of peace and tranquility. They feel best when they are sharing their refined essence.

Focus: Transferring their gifts of radiance throughout the universe through seeding and communicating their healing vibrations and mystical awareness.

Involvement with Earth: Provided genetic and energetic model for early human development. They are the missing link in our evolution to our current form. They were guides for Atlantis and Lemuria and have been involved in the nurturing of many life forms on Earth that began elsewhere, such as whales and dolphins. They are responsible for infusing awareness into the many methods of energy healing discovered by humans over the years. They are playing an important role in reinvigorating our beliefs in the mystical elements of our knowledge and helping us open to celestial contact in non-threatening manners. They radiate light and soothing energy that we are able to feel because of our genetic link.

Guide for Humanity: Katara (of 6D Pleiadian Emissaries of Light collective)

Star seeds: There are many millions of Pleiadian souls incarnate on Earth and have been since Lemuria. These souls are here to remind us of our divinity and our connection to Source consciousness. They come as healers and inspire us to nurture our spirits and that of the planet. These souls are sensitive and usually extremely intuitive. They also light up the room when they walk in and tend to heal without even knowing. They communicate well with others and are good empathetic listeners. Most leave their presence with a new sense of joy and gratitude. These human star souls often have physical beauty and most incarnate as females and exude feminine strength. They can be overpowering for some human male Earth souls, as they radiate such deep feminine mystique. They are often water signs that flow with emotion and passion and connection to the blood of Gaia. Pleiadian souls connect easily to nature. Animals love them and become calm in their presence. These star seeds can also bring the essence of a person's soul to the surface and can reflect their purpose and encourage their mission. They are often found in professions of spiritual mastery, healing, psychology, communications, child care, and fields related to ecology and care for the Earth. They often volunteer for causes and give a lot of themselves.

Zetas: Place of Origin: These beings are a product of this universe. They originally developed in the Zeta Reticuli binary star system, which is about 39 light years from Earth.

Dimensional Perspectives: Exist in 4D and some are evolving into 5D

Appearance: These look like the gray alien image so commonly known today. There are many forms, but they generally all have large heads, big black eyes, spindly bodies, and grayish skin with many color variations. They range in size from 3-6' in height and can have 3-5 long fingers and some are webbed. They are less physically dense than we are, yet retain use of a body form and can change their physical vessels for different purposes.

Evolution: Zetas are ahead of us by a few million years or so. They started in the Zeta Reticuli system, but have become space travelers and many spend their entire existence in space. The variety of Zeta appearances is because of their extensive travel and settlement in different environment and their adaptation to space and time travel. However, since they became aware long ago that their consciousness is not their physical container, they consciously can move into different bodies. They tend to stick with a form that suits their jobs or roles at any given time. They are highly technologically and scientifically advanced. Various gray species have different histories, and some are known to have over emphasized their focus on technology to the detriment of other qualities. But, most have now evolved to be able to integrate with their technology in a symbiotic relationship and have learned to balance their spirituality with their technological dependency. They understand that their tools also have consciousness and they work with that consciousness. These beings have been involved with the evolution of many 3D species, including humans, because of their advances in genetic engineering and their ability to still work within a 3D environment.

Qualities: Telepathic, telekinetic, high mental function. They appear emotionless, but are experts at reading frequency and do not need physical expression to relay feeling. They are scientific problem solvers, see through time and space and are energy transformers.

Abilities: Zetas can integrate with the consciousness of anything, and they create this way. Their ships and equipment respond to their telepathic communication and are considered live beings. They are time travelers and can shift from 3D to 4D and can move others through these dimensions as well, by shifting their frequency. They operate from heightened emotional states, and thus are not influenced by denser emotions. They can manipulate energy fields, which allows them to heal and create mental projections and alter sensations.

Specialties: Zetas are called upon for upgrading species from 3D to 4D. They do this with genetic methods to which there is an energetic component, and through teaching spiritual principles to help species learn to use their psychic acumen. They are evolutionary helpers and also guardians that watch over species progression. Zetas also assist with modulating star seed energies to integrate with 3D physical bodies for incarnation.

Basic Needs: Connection and understanding. Zetas live for their sense of interconnectedness. If they lose this, they feel lost. They also need the understanding that comes with connecting to one another and all beings and hence form collectives that work together to solve problems.

Focus: Advancement and species evolution. Zetas are excited and motivated by evolution and the integration of species and how the soul can evolve by means of experiencing different forms.

Involvement with Earth: The Zetas have been involved with Earth periodically since the first life forms were established here, and with humanity since their earliest evolutionary leaps. They have always been here as guardians and aids in our development and in assisting with DNA upgrades. They have been asked by galactic councils to create an Earth human/Zeta hybrid in order to help humans leap to a new level of consciousness and further the ongoing universal human expression.

The Zetas have obtained a reputation for their much misunderstood abductions and human experiments. It has been surmised by many that they do these abductions to obtain DNA from human beings in order to prolong their own species, but nothing could be farther from the truth. They already have the skill to clone their bodies, which are well adapted for space travel, and shift their souls into new bodies. They are far from a dying species. They do not feel fear the way humans do, and thus they appear cold to this emotion. It is seen by many beings that fear is a detriment to human evolution and galactic relations. Hence, this is one of the attributes the Zetas are attempted to diminish in the new hybrids. It is true that these hybrids will not exist on Earth alone, and that Zeta beings will in some cases transfer their consciousness into these hybrids, as will Earth souls. They are meant to be an evolutionary leap of potential expression for many in the universe to experience. If you think this is playing God, please read the pages on Soul Origin and Purpose.

Guides for Humanity: E2s (4D collective of evolutionary teachers), Meleah (Zeta/Hyman Hybrid from the future)

Star seeds: There are millions of Zeta souls incarnate on Earth. There are also Zeta Hybrids that are humans being born with advanced Zeta DNA. They look just like any human being, though sometimes they have striking features like larger heads and eyes. The updated advanced hybrids are born in the 80's with more Zeta DNA. Later hybrids have even more refined Zeta qualities that can be activated. Many of the Indigo and Crystal children are activating Zeta DNA. Not all the hybrids have a Zeta soul and not all Zeta star seeds are hybrids. Each are playing their roles in spurring the human evolutionary shift. Often the Zeta souls are acting as activators of other's abilities in some way or another. They are often teachers, guides and can be healers as well. They are usually considered "out there" thinkers as they see beyond physical limits. This can make them seem lazy at times, because they do not get why they can't just move things with their minds. Communication can be difficult also, because they don't always compute physical gestures and the limits of verbal language. These starseeds are usually advanced in some way. They think and create using their imagination and by tapping into astral knowledge and surrounding energy fields. These hybrid's and Zeta souls are teaching and becoming the future potential of humanity of Earth. Incidentally, some of these hybrids visit or communicate with Earth from what you consider the future. These hybrids are an evolutionary success story in the future of this galaxy.

Reptilians: Place of Origin: The Draconian beings originally came from another universe after the universe already created stars and planets and the Avian and Feline races were already developing here billions of years ago. They established themselves in the Draco and Orion constellation regions and then set out to conquer other worlds.

Dimensional Perspectives: Exist from 3D on up to 12D

Appearance: The original Reptilian master race is Draconian, which have the form of Dragons. They are huge winged beings of immense power. There are now many forms of Reptilian beings in the universe. Some are fully reptilian, and some are human reptilian hybrids.

Evolution: The Draconian race came in small numbers after this universe was formed. They found and opened the gateway that is in the Lyran Constellation. They were a renegade group whose motives were to find new lands to conquer and to multiply. They became a menace to many evolving worlds and did not abide by limits of interference set by creator beings and angelic consciousness. The Reptilians developed a disturbing reputation in this universe. But, the Draconian Royal lineage has since evolved to a high stature and they cooperate in guiding creation in the universe. There are many Reptilian races that are still war like and a bit rough. While others have evolved to find the power within their heart centers and are a powerful positive force in creating new civilizations.

Qualities: Strength, stamina, intense, influential, bold and aggressive, refined instincts, builders, honorable, brave, loyal, protective. Beneath the tough skin they have hearts of gold when they activate this from within. Prone to outbursts of sentiment or bold opinions that can be overwhelming to other races. Most races have a pentagram of armor in some form or other that protects a glowing Emerald Green Heart Chakra, their most vulnerable and most powerful spot.

Abilities: They tend to see advantages in all situations and can strategize ways to effectively complete any goal. Instincts are acute. They sense motives and some say they smell fear and weakness, but also strengths. Many species are only crudely telepathic, if at all, thus they often depend on telepathic translators in their galactic dealings. But, again, their instinctual prowess serves them well. Many reptilian races have developed the ability to energetically shape shift into other beings.

Specialties: Reptilians will get the job done no matter what it takes. They are social builders and can see how talents can best be used to accomplish tasks. They establish effective hierarchies and rules to make teams succeed. Higher dimensional Reptilians are called upon to bring order and direction to common pursuits. They bring loyalty and sense of duty to endeavors. While they have an impenetrable armor protecting their hearts, and emotionally this is hard to reach, therein also lies their greatest strength of character.

Basic Needs: Respect and Order. Reptilians generally need others to respect their strength and instincts. They have strong desires to bring order out of chaos and desire to be respected for this ability.

Focus: Bringing spirit of accomplishment, duty, loyalty, courage and order to all situations. Evolving Reptilians seek to reveal the strength within their hearts and to use this power to elevate projects. When a reptilian opens their heart it is quite powerful.

Involvement with Earth: The Draconian race created the Dinosaurs on Earth. They were an early experiment for Gaia consciousness. Then it was agreed by universal councils that there was time for new life to blossom on Earth, but that reptiles would remain in smaller forms. Much later, after humans were evolved in sentience, an advanced 3D Reptilian race became involved in enslaving human beings to do their bidding and there was some genetic mixing that occurred without permission from guardians of Earth. This race and other Reptilian beings are trying to rectify this mistake now. Earth humans still have Reptilian DNA. It is hoped that the positive aspects of this can be strengthened in the race. Much of the overly aggressive and militant behaviors of humans came from these genes that were not planned for. There is also much resentment and negative influence from this early Reptilian influence that exists energetically in the astral field of Earth and human collective consciousness.

Guide for Humanity: Crestonia (12D Draconian Queen)

Star seeds: The Reptilians souls on Earth today are often from 5D evolved races that are here to remedy the negative influences from past reptilian beings. They are heart centered with a profound power to use their loyalty and sense of duty to awaken unconditional love on Earth. Hidden beneath what may appear to be guarded nature, lies a huge capacity to transcend differences and find acceptance for all walks of life. These souls are often leaders in whatever they do. They make wonderful group coordinators and event organizers and will usually finish what they start. They can come across too strong, or boisterous, and some may say arrogant. But again, when they let down the guard that covers their heart, they reveal an amazing gift that allows them to see the love and talents of others and lead them to accomplish great things. These souls are often attracted to politics, community groups, the military, corporate structures, building contracting, or anything that makes use of their skills to organize, lead and build something. However, even if they do solitary activities, such as writing a book, they will give it sound structure and will gather everything they need with diligence and internal heart. Note that some can see the Reptilian soul within these humans and will think they are shape shifting. Since humans have sentient Reptilian DNA, it is easy for these souls to incarnate within the human form and their true appearance can be seen by some.)

Returning to my own words, so you now have some very basic information about some of the most common types of beings and spirit guides encountered in the universe. There are more than likely many times more species and types of beings that exist, but have yet to be discovered or present themselves to us. Some theories suggest that as we evolve spiritually as humans, new, more advanced species will present themselves to us, or incarnate here on Earth itself. Some souls that incarnate here on Earth are called Starseeds. These types of humans come in many variances, ranging from small Earth populations to very numerous. A starseed soul has experienced life in other places in the universe on planets, or in non-physical dimensions. There are 3 types of starseeds, and I will briefly describe each one. A typical Starseed will have experienced life anywhere from 5-50 times on Earth. Many of these lifetimes were spent acclimating to life as a human, leading to this point in time and space. As these beings have lived many less times on Earth than the average human, many retain the ability of healing, telepathy, channeling, and all around higher consciousness traits. Old Starseeds usually have lived hundreds of lifetimes on Earth, spanning all the way back to the dawn of humanity or even the planet itself. These are the guardians of Earth and are deeply connected to Sirius who is the spiritual guardian of Earth and humanity. They fill the roles of shamans, prophets, lightworkers, and spiritual teachers. Their knowledge consists of the ancient runes, astronomy, astrology, and numerology. Their life mission is to oversee the evolution of Earth, and it why they have chosen to live so many lives here on Earth. New Starseeds have often had few or no previous lifetimes here on Earth. They are incarnating here at this time of ascension as it is easier to integrate into humanity due to all the ongoing changes happening now. These starseeds are often referred to as Crystal or Rainbow children, and due to few or no lifetimes on earth, their energy fields are quite pure and far reaching because they have not become energetically dense due to life as a human in its current condition. Common characteristics of all Starseeds are as followed: A deep interest in spirituality, the ability for rapid spiritual growth, the realization that Earth is not their true home, they feel drawn to space and the stars, and many of these souls are artistic, sensitive, and possess higher consciousness, they sometimes have dreams or memories of places not on Earth, and some will have contact with spirit guides and UFOs.

These beings are becoming known to us for one reason, and one reason only. To assist in our spiritual evolution, and the evolution of life on Earth. They contact us through mediums, through our own meditation, or through simple signs or nudges from the space around us. Their work is ongoing, and ever changing. We are at a point where things can't wait any longer, they must change. Archangel Michael has recently contacted Earth, and its residents. The message was very clear, that Pleiadians have arrived and they are begging to transmit to Earth. They speak of humanity being sent packets of highly compacted information, that will be transmitted to us through Earth's own frequency, that is going to blow open the gates of our evolution because there is no time left for us to figure it out on our own. This information contains akashic records which contain all past and present knowledge there is to know, and it will help us to lift the veil over our heads. We will be able to actually notice a huge change in the world because of all of this, and it will continue to increase in frequency and pace of happening. Some great YouTube channels to follow live transmissions from Archangel Michael, and many others, include Higher Self, and DNA Awakening. There are many sources to further our own education, and the whole entire point of this paper, as I've said so many times, is only to serve as your personal gateway to your own research. All I am trying to do here is summarize as best I can, in full, what's truly going on in our world, and what challenges we face as humans.

There are many sources to further our own education, and the whole entire point of this paper, as I've said so many times, is only to serve as your personal gateway to your own research. All I am trying to do here is summarize as best I can, in full, what's truly going on in our world, and what challenges we face as humans. What's important to understand is the fact that we have been visited for a very long time, all in the name of observation, and to help us evolve as humans. We continually fail to do so, and that is resulting in the stagnation of the human race. We need to pull together as one, even though what is occurring right now is driving us farther and farther apart. This will be humanity's biggest challenge to date, and it's a race against time, literally. Not only are we facing economic destruction due to the imbalance of rich versus poor, we are also watching our environment be destroyed. Opposite of what you will hear from the media, the average human and their vehicles and waste is not the cause. The true cause is industrial waste on a level so large is hard to comprehend. Its plastic production that won't stop. I personally worked in a factory that produced robots that melted plastic into parts, and the amount of waste I was exposed to was absolutely preposterous. Oil and Gas companies lay waste to entire countries worth of land in the hunt for fuel, which makes the Elites more money than comprehensible. Manufacturers dump unregulated and unchecked into rivers, lakes, and oceans. No form of government will help us; they are part of it all. In fact, waiting to vote, or waiting for an elected official to lead us in the right direction will do nothing but result in our final nail being driven into our coffin. We are heading towards a world where free speech is nonexistent, the media is totally controlled, and all forms of technology only serves to manipulate and sway public opinion of the large scale. As your fellow human, I'm asking you to take this information, do your own research, educate yourself, and help me and the rest of the world fix this, from the bottom up.

Moving Forward

To begin to understand the path forward, we must expose something that may be completely unknown to the vast majority of people on the Earth, but is affecting us all on a regular basis. For quite some time, and even more frequently as of late, people are beginning to experience many weird and unexplained physical systems that make them uncomfortable. The majority of people are completely unaware as to why this is occurring, so they travel the most known path to them, seeking medical help. I will list the most common symptoms below.

1. Hot flashes - as the body vibrates faster it generates heat.
2. Blurred vision.
3. Vertigo.
4. Irregular or skipped heartbeat.
5. Unexplained pains that may linger to be acknowledged or may quickly come and go.
6. Ringing in one or both ears.
7. High pitched frequencies
8. Harmonic tones
9. Temporary deafening
10. Mood swings as emotion blocks come up to be resolved.
11. Extreme fatigue or energy bursts depending on the type of frequency experienced at the time and how the individual is dealing with it.
12. Increased intuition, a sense of knowing or remembering things that guide you through difficulties, and increased 6th sense abilities. (beyond touch, taste, feel, hearing, and sight)
13. Nausea
14. Flu-like symptoms
15. Extreme hunger or lack of hunger
16. Anxiety or increased fight or flight mode in the body.

You may now be asking yourself what is the cause of the symptoms? The answer to that is the Schumann Resonance. The Schumann Resonance is a global electromagnetic resonance named by Winfried Otto Schumann in 1952, after its discovery. More than likely since the birth of our planet, the same frequency has been emitted from our Earth, measuring at about 7.83 hertz, or within very close ranges to this depending on how many weather systems are present on the planet at that moment. As of late, and picking up in intensity and frequency these past few years, there have been disturbing spikes in the Schumann Resonance. The true cause of these spikes cannot be confirmed, but it is very very much related to life itself and the existence of life everywhere in the universe. The Schumann resonance can basically be understood as a frequency that all life forms thrive off of, to receive signals and communications from other beings, other animals, or the environment and the planet itself. When humans were first incarnate here on Earth, we merged our spiritual selves with the consciousness and energetic makeup of Earth to emerge into a physical form, capable of manipulating the energy fields around us, and being directly connected to One Conscious of all that is. The human body has “auto correct system” that can and will recalibrate the being to the environment when needed. When the auric fields of a human are not in sync, it becomes very difficult for the emotional, mental, spiritual, and etheric bodies to sync with the physical body and frequency of Earth. On the flip side, a burst or spike in the frequency of Earth's magnetic frequencies can jostle any energetic blockages in the auric field that can cause our physical bodies to stay at a low or stagnant ELF (extremely low frequency) These bursts are great for clearing out your auric fields, as long as it's in moderation. The basic principle behind this is, that if you raise your frequency, the reality you experience will be much less dense. The goal is to transform the dense, controlled reality we experience in a way that that will unify humanity in a love based, higher consciousness while still existing the physical body. This can only be achieved by allowing the energetic blocks of the past and childhood. These blocks allow us to be stuck in a recurring illusion of denseness and dis-ease in our physical reality. These bursts allow these blockages to surface, to be dealt with, and for us to be able to move on. It will allow the physical body to vibrate harmoniously with the planetary frequency and and to fall into a healthy energy flow which will prevent aging and disease. If you as a human are stuck in old patterns or beliefs, or tempted by complacency in a low frequency, a burst can do one of 2 things. If the human has raised their own consciousness level enough, through an open heart and mind, they will realize something is happening and they will be able to absorb the frequencies as fast as their mind and soul will allow them too. When a frequency is absorbed in the human body, it causes the water in our system to vibrate to the same frequency. This is what is the cause of many of the symptoms previously listed. When this happens, our systems our basically purging themselves, making way for new behaviors, beliefs, and an expanded awareness of the universe and life itself. If a human is completely unconscious and is not caring and compassionate, all these frequencies will do is disturb that person. It is these types of people who will stay at a low frequency and will not be able to receive or benefit from the incoming waves of energy. It is no judgement passed, as some people did not choose to go through this, or they simply do not have enough energy to left to handle it. They will move to another frequency outside the constraints of the physical body and go where they need to in order to continue their journey. There are so many ways to acclimate yourself to these changes, and I will again provide a list of the most common.

1. Meditation - not the kind meant to connect with astral beings or out of body experiences. Peace, pause, and breath meditation, and open eye meditation work great.
2. Grounding or earthing - bare feet on the ground, surrounding yourself with protective crystals and stones, spending time in nature, swimming, and eating grounding foods.
3. Asking your higher being to assist you in accommodation if you are suffering.
4. Drink plenty of pure water.
5. Rest - The body has a unique ability to do much of its needed resetting while resting.
6. Love yourself
7. Care for yourself
8. Gentle exercise to get the blockages moving and renew proper energy flow.
9. Whole foods as opposed to processed or GMO foods.
10. Massage
11. Always listen to your body and what it needs.

If you're asking yourself what all this means or is for, here is a brief explanation. As with everything we have covered so far, and everything we will cover in the coming articles and sections, I stress you please do your own research into all of these subjects. It will further your understanding of the subjects, and the connections between all of them. What a frequency basically is, is the measure of how many “wave cycles” happen in one second.

1 Hz. means 1 cycle per second, 40 Hz. means 40 cycles per second.

If you look at the charts that the website here provides <https://www.disclosurenews.it/en/schumann-resonance-today-update/> you will be able to find each days update on the resonance, and you will also be able to see all archives of the past readings. You will be able to see for yourself how long this resonance has remained unchanged. You will also begin to see for yourself the recent intense fluctuations. Being that this resonance itself is frequency that all life on earth relies on for, it's pretty much common sense to assume that changes in the frequency will result in changes in life on Earth. These blasts or spikes, are being transmitted from a source either elsewhere in the universe, or from a different dimension with higher conscious beings that intend to awaken Earth and its inhabitants from this slumber we find ourselves in. If you take away nothing from any of these articles, take away only this.

We as humans, in our hearts, know something is wrong here. Be that the systems that control us, the way we treat each other, and the way we treat the environment, we have gone down the wrong path. None of which is entirely our fault, but it's up to us to break free. These blasts of frequency will help us do just that.

1% of the entire Earth's population is currently trying to control 99% of it. In America, a few hundred people hold more than $\frac{3}{4}$ of the country's wealth. That doesn't add up, and it's the reason we are suffering. Not just here in the United States, this is the baseline across the globe.

With understanding better what a frequency is, we can better begin how things like 5G, and EMF outputs can affect us, or even begin to manipulate our thoughts and behavior. Moving forward, the best thing we can do is to continue to raise our awareness. The more we do this, the more we will be able to see and expose the things that control us on deep levels every day. We can begin to move back to a more holistic way of living, and a more loving based way of treating each other. Everything, and I do mean, everything that we have discussed across all of these sections, is connected.

Our governments have a deep understanding of secret technologies, the media is totally controlled and drip feed to us at the deeps states will according to their agenda, and our food providers have taken shortcuts that literally shortcut our lives. We have doctors who prescribe medication that does nothing but keep us numb and zombified. A large part of moving forward is being aware. We must take the information we have discussed here and begin to apply it into real life, to begin to lift the veil of secrecy. There are 3 major categories this all falls under, and those would be the media, the military, and the "agenda." It's a broad blanket that we will discuss ways of raising our awareness of, and preventing ourselves from succumbing to the tactics of control. First, I must caution that all of the information discussed here, over the course of all of these papers, has been the root of the problems underlying our modern society today. Once you begin to see the ways we are being affected, it will snowball and the information you need to break free will continue to come to you at a faster pace.

The media is controlled and monitored at the highest and lowest levels. We have already discussed that, and that will not be the point of the discussion here. We are going to talk about the media's influence over people and the effect that has begun to have on everything. We cannot rely on the mainstream media for any form of truth anymore. They are the frontline "soldiers" in the war of information. I will directly include a declassified CIA document showing proof of this. I will provide a direct quote, and the entire declassified document will be included after the sources. The quote is as follows “A) POA now has relationships with reporters from every major news wire, newspaper, news weekly, and television network in the nation. This has helped us turn some “intelligence failures” into “intelligence success” stories, and it has contributed to the accuracy of countless others. In many instances, we have convinced reporters to postpone, change, hold, or even scrap stories that could have adversely affected national security interests or jeopardized sources or methods.” This document was from 1991. It's not 2019, and the media is controlled to a tee at this point. We are lied to about major news stories, blatantly, and to our face. The most widespread problem on this is shootings that happen all over our country. These shootings happen, and immediately a barrage of misinformation floods from every news outlet, overwhelming the watcher with so much information, and stressing over and over false points of a narrative. These shootings instill major fear in people, and are what is allowing the Deep State to continue to chip away at the 2d amendment. SO many laws and restrictions have been put upon the average law abiding gun owner, and now guns themselves carry a major stigma. I will say this once, and only once. A disarmed populace is a controlled populace. You do not ever want to find yourself in a situation where the Deep State uses military control tactics and we have been disarmed. It's the reason our second amendment even stands, to be able to overthrow a government of tyranny. The media's roots run into everything, including the internet now, and cell phone providers. We are only given information that fits the standard of what “they” want us to see. We spoke of ET's, reverse engineered technology, and the fact that the government knows that life exists elsewhere, and they have for a long time. The cannot and will not be upfront about this, and they will use everything in their power to use this subject as MAJOR means of control in what's to come. If you haven't already noticed, things are quietly happening behind the scenes. Just recently, the Navy officially implemented a UFO sighting program for its officers and pilots, which means they are taking steps to show this is a real thing. They also have patented an anti-gravitation device which I will link in the source as well, along with the patent itself. This is heading in one direction, and the documentary Unacknowledged outlines this very well. The government will “scare” us into believing of an outside threat, and will swoop in with the intention of national security. This threat can come from anywhere, at any time, as the government has long had the technology at hand to stage an alien invasion or something of the sorts. What we can do to counter this and be more aware, is to do our own research. You need to see for yourself what a real ET craft will consist of, and what government technology looks like in comparison. You need to know where to get information from other sources, including other people. The only thing that will keep us aware is ourselves, as every form of technology around us is trying to do the opposite.

The military is the strong arm of the Deep State, without even knowing it. The chain of command, and secrecy, has become so obscure and compartmentalized, that the soldiers and men carrying out some of the most secret covert programs, don't actually know what they are truly involved in. This includes even things as major as reverse engineering an alien craft, or studying and developing weapons and technologies that have potential for great harm to humanity. They are the forefront in experimental vaccine tests, which will be forced upon us as a nation as well. This will allow the government direct access to the population of children, and to be able to comprise them from a young age. It's truly sad because vaccines really could save lives, but as with every other form of control, its being used against us, to keep us unhealthy. I have included a link to massive database of research done into vaccines, which is more than enough information to begin to realize that not enough safety research is being done on them. Many studies have linked serious health risks to vaccines. We MUST, as a people, not allow mandatory vaccines to become law. If they do, we are one step closer to losing ourselves completely. Vaccines, as I've said before, can and do save lives, if they contained only the vaccines, not experimental drugs. I will not rant about this subject, as I will let research speak for itself. The physical copy included with this paper contains many, many online links, so I highly recommend you take a look at it online as well as in its physical form here. The soldiers that serve our country are truly brave men and women, honestly believed in the right things, and believing they are acting for the best. It is not their fault, because at military levels, the programming is on a totally different level. We cannot change this, as it would involve going up to bat against our own military, not only unwise, but unsafe and innocent people on both sides will be harmed. Instead we must spread awareness. Talk to anyone willing to listen, Spread the truth and ways to access the truth. United together, for the right reasons, we can still fix things.

The agenda behind all of this, is a totally brand new system of government, including all the global leaders at one table, making for a globalized, single government. It's been happening for quite some time, and it's the reason we are receiving so much extra-terrestrial help at this time. We are at a crossroads, and if we don't wake up, we might not ever get another chance to break free of what keeps us down. 5G is coming, and it's the first step in the new agenda. It will allow for total manipulation of our thoughts, which will keep us spending money through ads, and fighting about politics and petty things we believe matter or truly affect us. It will be the force that is used to steer all of our senses away from the truth, and what's going on. ET technology is currently slowing being disclosed, although not in the manner people hope for. It will be used to destroy the positivity the ET's are trying to bring, and it will be used to make them look as if they are a menace to us. This is NOT true at all, and we need to understand that. We have the ability to make our own contact with them, ways in which won't be discussed here, but look into Steve Greer's work and you will see for yourself. If enough of us make contact, it will break the government's ability to control when and how contact will happen, because on a large enough scale, they won't be able to prevent it.

That's what EVERYTHING we have discussed here is about. No matter what, the end game is always, has always, and the under the control of this system, will always be to control and divide us. We must come together. It's what our planet, and the human race require to progress. We are not alone, as there are many beings out there who want us to succeed. We only will with determination to wake up, determination to change ourselves, and hope for the future amidst all of this chaos. We are facing a full on assault on our lives, our freedoms, and our planet, and it's time to rise up and against this. Peacefully, and with love. That must be the narrative we speak of. We cannot afford to fight any longer, we cannot afford to lose more lives, we cannot afford to destroy the environment any longer. Everything we need is around us, and inside of us. Please, in any way, on any of these subjects, do your own research. Figure out a way to bring the truth to other people in your own way, and show as many people you can the path to the truth. Our answer is to do this together. I am deeply grateful for every website, article, YouTube channel and source that allowed this body of work to come together. Without the population of people already working together to do research, and provide data and links, none of this would be possible. So from the bottom of my heart, thank you. Thank you for reading this, thank you for being part of this, and thank you for existing.

Sources

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/ATF_gunwalking_scandal

<http://soulsalight.com/>

<http://siriusdisclosure.com/>

<https://www.reddit.com/r/conspiracy/>

<https://thenarrowgateweb.com/2017/03/01/35-butterflies-and-rabbit-holes/>

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Project_MKUltra#Experiments_on_Americans

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/National_Security_Agency

<https://in5d.com>

<https://prepareforchange.net/>

<https://www.disclosurenews.it/en/disclosure-news-italy/>

<https://www.mrmdb333.com/>

<https://www.reddit.com/>

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WBpZFqR6Qzk>

<https://www.youtube.com/user/getbuzy1>

<https://www.youtube.com/user/SpiritualAwakeningNt>

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WBpZFqR6Qzk>

<https://www.lewrockwell.com/2017/05/john-w-whitehead/deep-state-plot/>

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=T3iQBU7xFwo>

<http://free-energy.ws/nikola-tesla/>

<https://www.goodreads.com/quotes/471226-when-we-speak-of-man-we-have-a-conception-of>

<http://siriusdisclosure.com/cseti-papers/media-play/>

<http://5ginformation.net/call-to-action/>

https://www.reddit.com/r/conspiracy/comments/bhb0st/us_navy_is_creating_new_guidelines_for_reporting/

<http://siriusdisclosure.com/evidence/bae-documents/>

https://www.reddit.com/r/conspiracy/comments/bjogmx/i_dont_want_to_be_labeled_as_an_anti_vaxxer_but_i/

https://www.reddit.com/r/conspiracy/comments/bji3aw/vaccines_as_business_pfizer_sells_149_billion_of/https://www.reddit.com/r/conspiracy/comments/bjit8u/white_house_has_signaled_it_may_seek_permanent/

https://www.reddit.com/r/conspiracy/comments/bjoqms/homeless_people_and_truck_drivers_w_hose_jobs_are/https://www.reddit.com/r/conspiracy/comments/bjig0q/a_rapid_acceleration_of_information_suppression/

https://www.reddit.com/r/conspiracy/comments/bhb0st/us_navy_is_creating_new_guidelines_for_reporting/

https://www.reddit.com/r/UFOs/comments/bjlu9r/navy_says_releasing_no_ufo_data_to_public_int/

<https://www.eff.org/deeplinks/2019/04/judge-dodges-legality-nsa-mass-spying-citing-secrecy-claims>

<https://bioinitiative.org/>

Documents

<https://patents.google.com/patent/US10144532B2/en>

<http://disclosureproject.org/docs/pdf/CIAMemo.pdf>