

PHOTOGRAPH SUPPLY.
Any photograph in this issue which is indicated "Press and Journal" right can be supplied on the following terms—

| | | | | | |
|----------------|---|---|---|---|---|
| 6 in. x 4 in. | — | — | — | — | — |
| 8 in. x 6 in. | — | — | — | — | — |
| 10 in. x 8 in. | — | — | — | — | — |

 Larger sizes quoted on application. Apply to the Manager, Aberdeen Press and Journal, Limited, Broad Street, Aberdeen. Cash must be received with order. All photographs are strictly copyright and must not be copied or published without the consent of the Aberdeen Press and Journal.

Gundog Trials on Glenbervie Moors :- Governors of College of Agriculture

At the North of Scotland Utility Gundog Association's field trials held on Glenbervie Estate yesterday—Above: Competitors climbing to the moor where the trials took place in driving rain. Left: Startist of Byfleet, Mr B. M. Eastenach Nielson's famous cocker spaniel, which competed for a qualifying certificate. Below: Mr George Clark, Troon, with Miss I. MacRae, Druidraig, Ross-shire, and her spaniel, Druidraig Prince. ("Press and Journal" Copyright)

Mrs T. Blair, Pitmedden, ties the competitor's button on to Mr W. Wilson, Tochieneal, at Glenbervie field trials. ("Press and Journal" Copyright)

New Forth Bridge opened at Kincardine—A general view of the opening ceremony taken from one of the high arches at Kincardine end of the bridge.

At the meeting of Governors of the North of Scotland College of Agriculture held in the County Buildings, Aberdeen, yesterday—Left to right: Mr R. H. Bone, Invergordon; Mr D. C. Murray, Thurso; Mr George Grant, Glenisla; Mr John Mackay (behind), Elgin; Mr Alex. Calder, Orkney; Mr Pat Strachan, Tairland; Mr George Cowie, Turfiff; Mr A. R. Wannan, director of county work; Mr W. K. Leisgat, Turfiff; Rev. Dr Gordon J. Murray, Aberdeen; Mr William Hunter, Stonehaven; Mr John Mackie, Uday, chairman of Governors; Capt. J. H. Louth, Ardo; Mr R. M. Lammon, college secretary; Prof. J. Hendrick, director of studies; Mr A. M. Mackay, Dornoch; Dr William Murison, Peterculter; Mr G. H. B. Pritchard, Beaulieu. ("Press and Journal" Copyright).

Douglas Byng, the famous comedian, in his "Tantivy" scene—A number which set all London laughing—which he will include among his items in "A Magnum of Charlie" at His Majesty's Theatre, Aberdeen, next week.

How to make Halloween cakes—A picture taken during a class at the Aberdeen School of Domestic Science yesterday. ("Press and Journal" Copyright)