Autism is a disorder that affects an increasing number of children. What is the cause of this disorder really is still unknown. . World Autism Day is celebrated around the world. It is only worried that no media write about this day or do so only for information. It's a pity! World Autism Awareness Day - a festival celebrated annually on 2 April at the initiative of Qatar in the person of Her Highness Mozah, wife of Emir Hamad ibn Khalifa al-Sani, supported by the UN General Assembly by resolution of 18 December 2007 (A / RES / 62/139) and published 21 January 2008. Day celebrations are aimed at raising public awareness about autism. The Day celebrations are also an opportunity for global political commitment and more effective international cooperation in this field. The basic assumptions include increasing the potential to meet the special needs of people affected by autism, enabling the development of individual talents and improving access to care and assistance services for the community of people affected by autism. In his message of April 2, 2012, the Secretary-General of the United Nations emphasized that: The annual celebration of World Autism Awareness Day is intended to encourage such action and highlight the unacceptable discrimination, abuse and isolation experienced by people with autism and their loved ones.
