Several Vietnamese businesses, residential complexes, and restaurants have installed their own preventative measures to keep customers safe. For what we visited we either took an organised tour or traveled short distances on a motorbike. Vietnam will fully vaccinate all residents on Phu Quoc before opening, the tourism ministry said, adding that the island had not reported any community infections and had sufficient COVID-19 quarantine and treatment facilities. At the same time, lockdowns in recent months have prompted companies to suspend operations.

Located 17km west of Sa Pa, this village belongs to the Red Dao's people who have maintained their traditional lifestyle, away from the touch of modernity. The picturesque destination is surrounded by lofty hills and overlooks the rolling lush green valleys with plenty of things to do in Sapa. The topography, the terraced paddy cultivation, and the serene-yet-colourful countryside together has made Sapa an idyllic holiday retreat. Halong Bay is a picture-postcard destination with its emerald blue water and marine cliffs scattered throughout with magnificent karst topography. Locally known as 'where the dragon descends into the sea', this Halong Bay has numerous wind and wave-eroded limestone caves, sinkhole lakes, and grottoes. Located 182 km east of Hanoi, this spectacular bay was tagged as World Heritage Site in 1994 and is one of the most popular places to visit in Vietnam.
