

The conclusion of the story :

The story talks about someone who is depressed and has a mental illness and a low iq + problems with life and divorced family (Prim) .

When (Prim) was about to suicide he went to send goodbyes to everyone he knows and appreciate until he approached to (Nicage) one of his best friends .

(Nicage) didn't let go of (Prim) easily and wanted to help (Prim) to cure his depression and raise his iq . it was quite a hard challenge to do but (Nicage) is a scientist that uses biology and physics and chemist to do experiments on animals and to invent things that are unusual . so (Nicage) found a solution for (Prim) to raise his iq and cure his depression within time after doing the experiment . so what was the experiment ?

The experiment was to mess with the nervous system of (Prim) because (Prim)'s reaction is so slow . and what is the part of the body that is responsible of the reaction time ? the brain . and the brain is a part of the nervous system . but (Nicage) cannot control the brain so easily . but he can force (Prim)'s brain to do such things . by messing other parts of the body . like the part that sends signals to the brain which is the nerves . messing with the nerves and making them faster by applying a small voltage to the nerves will make them "electrified nerves" that are faster than a normal human's nerves . a normal human's reaction speed is about 80mil second . and by electrifying (Prim)'s nerves that number will go down to 20mil second . therefor (Prim) will react faster – think faster – more active - and his iq will start raising up . and his depression will slowly fade away. (Nicage) was right and he did the surgery illegally as it doesn't exist in the public . and (Prim) was no better . but the problem that (Nicage) didn't notice was that (Prim) cannot sleep and has to do activities 24/7 hours . you are probably wondering why ?

Its because of his electrified nerves are not satisfied unless its in use (such as activities) . so the brain has no other option other than forcing the body to stay awake until the nerves are satisfied which will never happen . within time (Prim)'s brain got messed up because of his electrified nerves and now (Prim)'s brain is programmed to make time priority number 1 so no matter what . (Prim) wont waste a second standing still and will try to do as much activities as possible . his body stayed stable until 40 days of no sleep and addiction to activates and caffeine . his soul started to freak out (illness) and he could no longer do anything normally and he looked like he is addicted to drugs . (Nicage) tried to hell him and fix the chip but nothing really worked out for him . but then (Nicage) got busted for illegal experiments . and (Prim) got the chip off his body and got alternative medicines and accepted his life and his soul settled down .
