

How Do I Update My World?

The day has lastly arrived: Minecraft's Caves & Cliffs Part II replace has come to each Java and Bedrock Editions of the game, bringing new world era and a few rather lovely new caves.

We've covered the way in which the new terrain era works already when we obtained our mitts on the Snapshot earlier this 12 months, however after several extra tweaks, patches, fixes and updates, the official launch of Caves & Cliffs Part II is a much more stable experience.

To download the brand new replace in your Swap, go to the Minecraft icon on your home display screen, press the + button to open the Choices, go to "Software program Replace" and select "Via the Web". It will verify for the replace, though it might have downloaded it automatically already.

As for updating your current worlds, Mojang have supplied instructions:

How do I replace my world?

On Bedrock Version, once you have updated to 1.18 and go to load up an current world, you will be shown a immediate and requested if you happen to want to make a backup copy of that world. If you do need to make a backup, be sure to hit the immediate and then click by means of to update your world and begin taking part in.

Sadly, some of the features initially deliberate for Caves & Cliffs Part II - just like the Deep Dark biome, the Warden, and archaeology - have been pushed back to the next replace, 1.19, referred to as "The Wild Update".

Here's the changelog for Bedrock Edition (that's the one on Change):

- Increased the world height and depth, including 50% more vertical house to construct and discover
- New cave era to discover beneath your existing worlds
- New cave and mountain biomes like Lush Caves and Jagged Peaks
- Drastically up to date and improved biome, cave, and ore era
- Added a number of new music tracks to get pleasure from during gameplay
- Fixed over 70 bugs, points, and parity changes

When you've got an existing world, Realm, or server, and need to know how these modifications affect your world, try Minecraft's helpful FAQ on world updating.

Have you upgraded your world - or began a new one? Let MINECRAFT SERVERS LIST know your ideas thus far!