

6 Seeds to Heaven

Agents of Mass Prosperity

Illuminating the connections between mind, body & spirit specifically identifying the creative energies of existence that offer healing, health & exuberance.

Forward

The purpose of this text is to give you a higher clarity of understanding as to how and why your body functions. This is not in an effort to tell you how you should live, simply an explanation of how to tap into the creative process that is already happening inside your body every moment of every day. We know that beyond any doubt our cells make up our living body and that they are replaced by the things that we consume, and effected by the things we think, speak, and take action upon.

Feel free to accept any portion of this work that inspires you to learn more about yourself, and if something doesn't make sense, do your own research to see what you find for yourself. This writing is not designed for the purpose of being a fully comprehensive and detailed explanation of creation, more like the cliff notes that will allow you to focus on the things which yield the highest results.

The science in this book (to maintain brevity and not wanting to get lost in technical jargon) is roughly explained, however it will guide you in the correct direction. People who have a desire to get to know their body more intimately will create for themselves the highest and best perspective from which to view the events in their own life. My goal is not to heal you, simply give you the understanding so that you can heal yourself, and so that you understand that healing on every dimension of reality is possible.

Transdimensional healing is something that we have forgotten to explore in the 21 century. We have focused on exploitation of atoms, DNA, cells, people, the planets natural harmony & creation in general. When humanity turns it's attention from the destructive power of implosion based technologies, to their incredible creative potential the entire world will shift.

The trick of this is to get to the “tipping point” where there are enough people in the general population that understand that something is possible and they desire it so strongly that they won't accept less goals and distractions. My goal for all life is healing, health, prosperity & abundance. That's the real reason for writing all this down, what I have spent decades of my life accumulating I wish to pass on to the members of humanity seeking enlightenment. The only feeling better than being a joyful creative person, is teaching others to be joyful and creative in their own way.

Being surrounded by creative and joyful people is worth more than anything money can buy.

May you live in a state of health, act with exuberance and leave a legacy of wealth & wisdom.

Music

It's not secret that music has a profound impact on human consciousness, it can make us happy, or sad, feel like resting, or jumping around dancing. Music brings our senses alive and creates an "atmosphere" emotionally, this is obvious watching any movie with a good sound track.

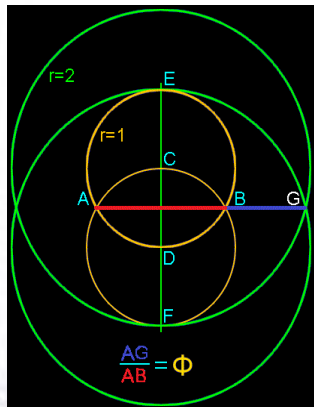

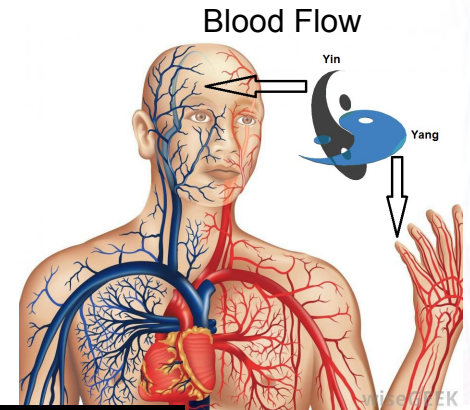

Some people would even go so far as to say the sound and music of the movie is what creates the strongest connection with our imaginations. When I was originally looking into music I figured that was essentially in our heads, I was completely wrong.

After studying musical theory and harmonics you can actually trace the common connection between creation (phi/Fibonacci) and musical scales. The ratios of phi can be seen shaping everything outside of you, phi is shaping the inside of you as well, including your veins.

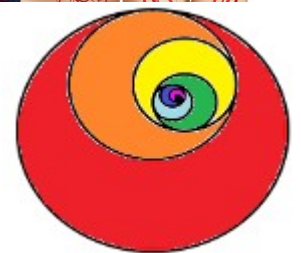

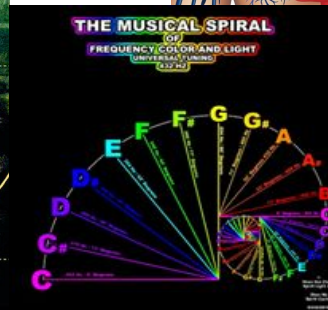

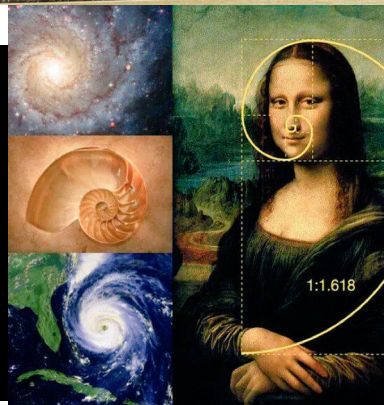

Each sized vein resonates with energy at a specific frequency which is radiant. Anything that has a natural resonance will sympathetically vibrate. That means one tuning fork naturally transfers energy to other similar tuning forks.

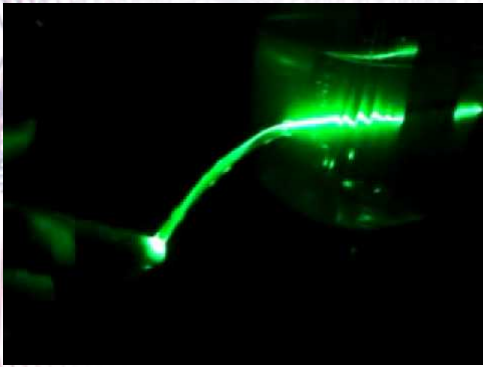

Similarly, people's cardiovascular systems give us a "vibe" based on how their blood is flowing through their veins.

 Water bending light

Water molecules are microscopic magnets that form geometric structure that have the potential to trap light completely at certain angles of reflection. This can be shown by shining a laser through A stream of water. When the laser is angled perfectly the light flows through the stream like you see in fiber optic cable.

The Charge of the energy is very important to the electromagnetism of the body. Compression packs DNA into health, and expansion pulls it apart into cancer.

Your Blood: Liquid Crystal Optics

What few people really understand is the incredible biological communication system within yourself. Your blood is carrying the electromagnetism (bio-photons) created by your heart throughout your body. These light wave frequencies that are conducted through the body vary based on the diameter of the veins through which it is reflecting.

If you had the most advanced fiber optics systems in the world, the liquid crystal optics system your body utilizes would represent the next generation of technology to be discovered.

The Tesla coil is a piece of technology that implodes energy into itself. There are a few small differences between you and the Tesla coil. The secondary coil (your veins) are not copper they are visceral material and blood.

Instead of a transformer you have lungs, instead of a spark gap you have a heart, instead of capacitors your have blood, instead of a top load (draws in streams of electrons) you have a brain which draws in streams of consciousness.

You are in fact a biological super computer which is physically near perfect on every dimension. The purpose of this knowledge is not to tell you what to do, simply function as a software upgrade to the most magnificently designed biological computer, the human body.

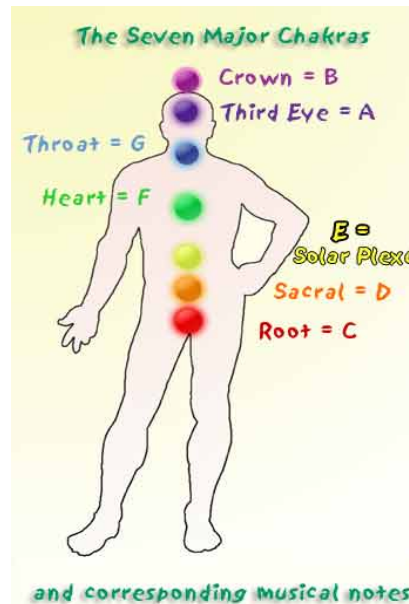

It's shareware, you're welcome. :o)

Cymatics: Picturing Sound

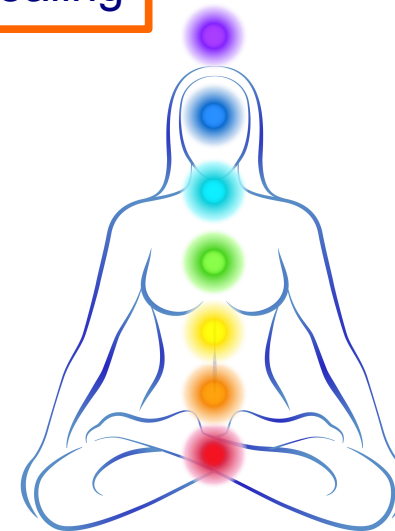

Videos: Chakra Centers; Chakra Healing

The human body is very receptive to sound. Various frequencies in the body are created by the various sized veins that blood circulates through.

Our entire cardio-vascular system is responsive to the central nervous system's impulses. As we have thoughts, use words, or perform actions, we use our influence over the shape of the cardio vascular system (body) as well as dilation/contractions (relaxation/focus) by what we choose to observe, interact with & how we feel about it.

Each person should seek to balance the two energies within them to become a whole being. If they are severely lacking in one type of energy, they may strengthen that by example of another person, but should not rely on an equally imbalanced person to complete their energy through partnership. Two crutches do not allow for walking with ease. Only two strong legs allow for that. By nature, most people will tend to be stronger in some energy and weaker in other throughout life. Some life situations require more of one energy than another to be successful, as they are not completely balanced situations. The goal is not to achieve 50%-50% balance, but to become aware of these energies and be able to utilize them when they are needed.

As you can see, every platonic solid is created from a specific reflection of energy. This is the basis of understanding Cymatics, which involves the reflections (harmonics) of energy within a specific volume (geometry). ALL of reality is geometry (patterns) being created by energetic reflections.

Sounds nest inside of others sounds like Russian nesting dolls. Certain patterns arise from certain frequencies of vibration. The patterns increase in complexity as the frequency generating the pattern become higher.

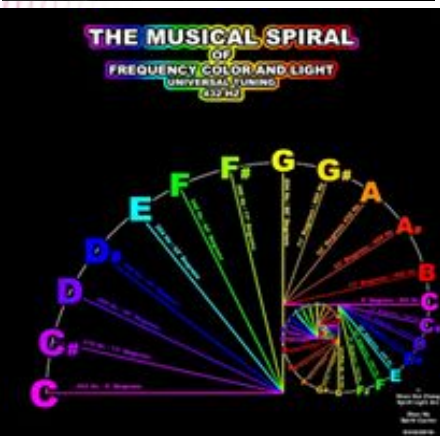

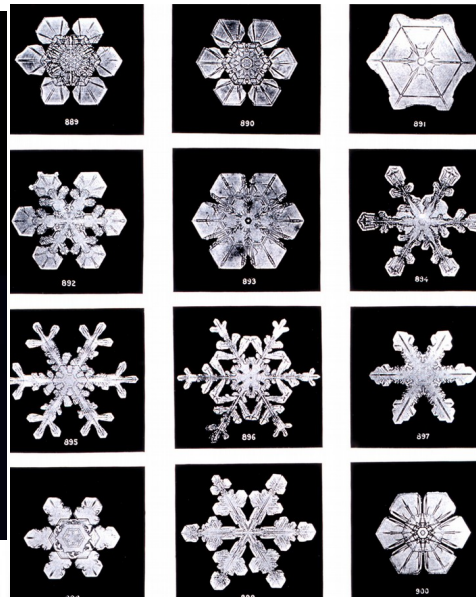

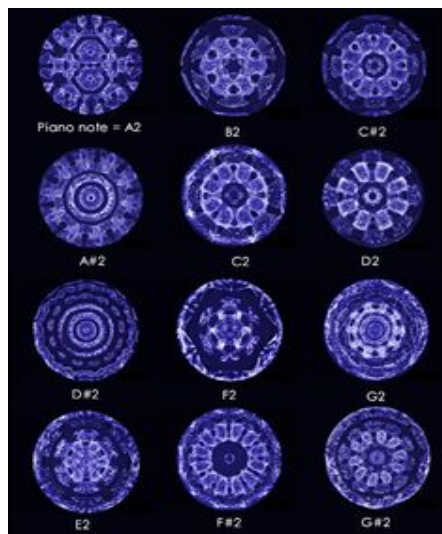

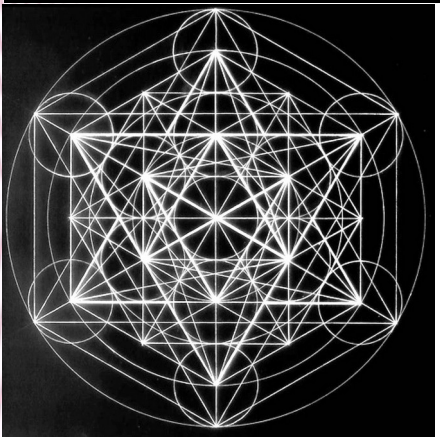

When we freeze water we can see the larger dimensions distinctly as the overall shape, and smaller frequencies creating additional smaller protrusion.

Music by its very nature was created to interact with the human energies. The right form of music can be used like a tool to make the mind more pliable and receptive to audio & visual reshaping.

It has been studied around the world the effect of human consciousness is on water. The only thing that comes close to the impact of music is the impact of language.

Keep this in mind ESPECIALLY with how you speak to yourself. The voice in your head is creating and forming the inside of your body, perhaps that's why they call it in-formation.

Compassion

We just went into quite a lot of detail as to how sound & music are involved in the shaping of human consciousness on an internal level. Compassion is about how to use this knowledge to benefit your body.

First thing that is critical, the proper tuning of music should be at 432hz for your A note. This is significant for a couple of reasons. One reason is cymatics is the idea that a range of frequencies will generate an approximate pattern & specific frequencies resonate with the highest integrity. You could take this to mean that music tuned to 432hz has the greatest ability to help shape your body to be in harmony with all over vibrations in the universe.

Also when looking at the square root of the speed of light, 432hz is the closest whole number and comes within .0001% accuracy. This may not seem that relevant but it has to do with the yin and yang energies of your body being in perfect balance. The Yin (feminine) and the yang (masculine) are the two creative energies that are involved in $E=MC^2$

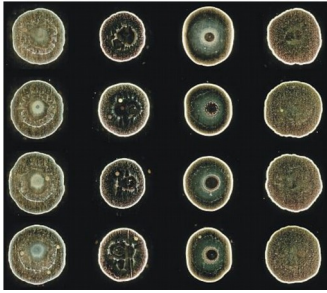

$$\underline{E \text{ (energy)} = \text{mass (volume)} \times C^2(\text{yin/yang})}$$

When these energies are in balance, we become our most creative, compassionate & powerful selves. It is necessary that we recognize that BOTH ARE NECESSARY in everyone for us to experience ultimate human Potential. What humans crave is spontaneity (feminine) and certainty (masculine) by being both simultaneously we have the power to create anything, and overcome any obstacle. In Asia this balance is called “dragon energy” and it is said to be at the heart of every great leader man or woman. I think this is a great way for think of it as well, the spirit of the dragon, fierce but also wise & generous.

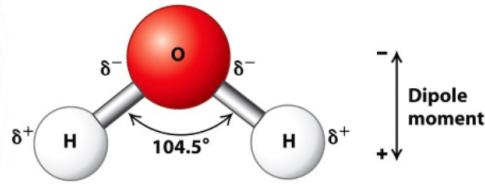

Compassion is the source of all human strength, and from a state of compassion we can observe others and make choices towards our highest potential and the greatest collective good.

What they have learned about water is it has extensive memory. What they realized is that water was so electromagnetically sensitive that every single person left a unique imprint from the electromagnetism created by their heart/mind.

Not only does your heart have an effect on all bodies of water (in yourself and others) your words actually have a formative impact on the world as well. In short we create form in the mind (pictures) and descriptions (senses) with words. Water itself is the most electromagnetically sensitive compound on the planet. This is due to its molecular polarization & resulting Geometry.

Water in natural flowing streams is structured in by all the round surfaces, as to perfectly resonate with universal Geometry.

This should be kept in mind as you it essentially makes you a living vessel that resonates with energy, your own, others as well as all energies in your environment. Be kind.

Photos from the work of Dr. Emoto

Compassion, As easy as sitting in a relaxed state & slowing the breath. There is a direct connection between the heart and the breath & slowing down the heart allows the cardiovascular system to relax fully. Each heart beat sends energy throughout the entire body, love creates the highest harmonic value (perfect mirroring) by virtue of a sine wave (rounded).

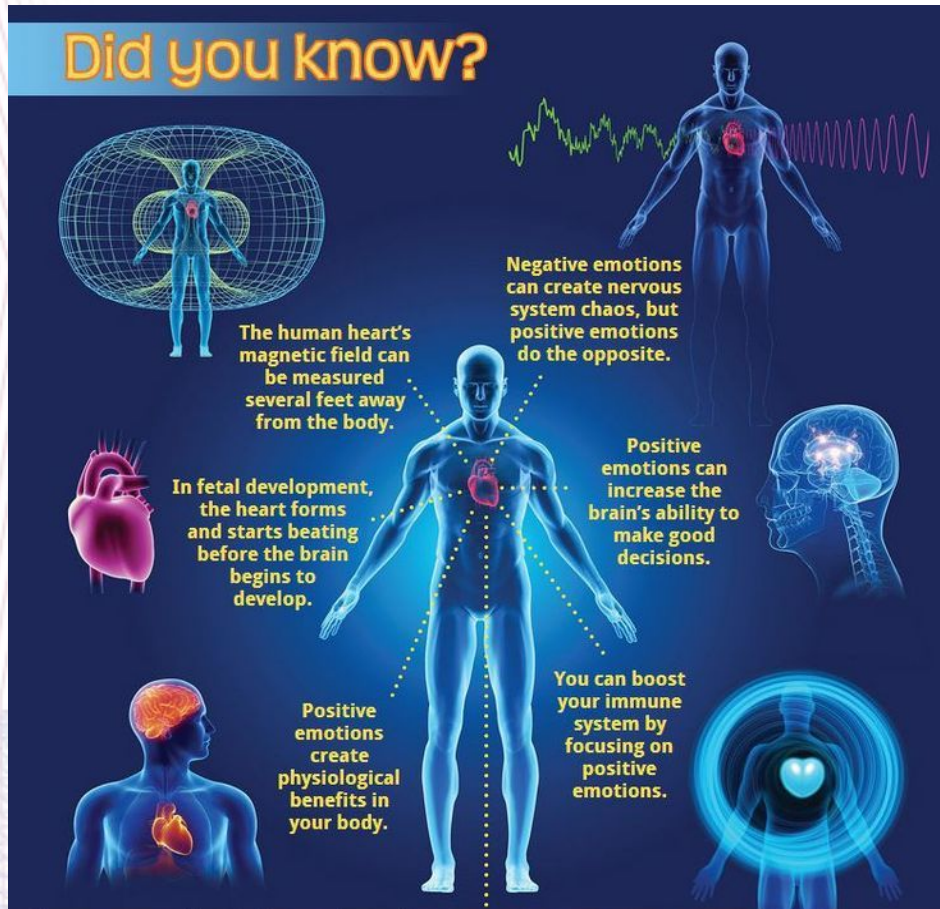

Your heart beat creates an atmosphere that sustains all the cells in your body, by intentionally focusing on maintaining emotional harmony you are essentially feeding your cells with the highest quality and concentration of energy. This is why meditation dramatically effects all areas of performance, slow deep controlled breathing and intentional periods of relaxation is what will allow your cells to maintain the highest state of health.

Only when our cells are in a high state of health can we experience exuberance in the body. When we have lots of extra energy in the body, in a state of vitality this is when we have the most energy to give to others.

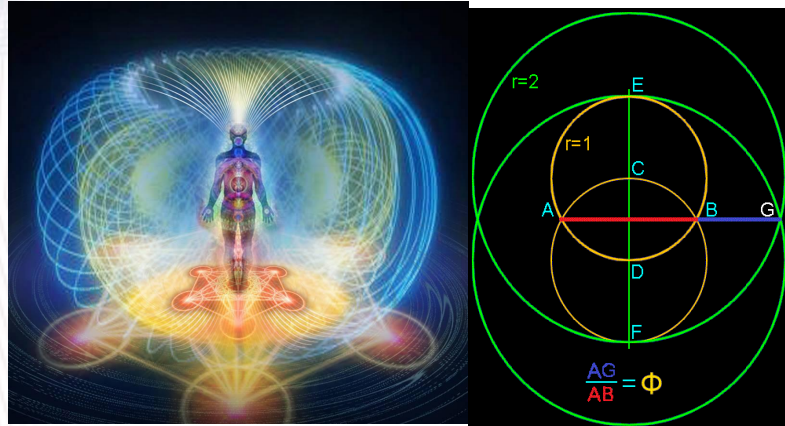

As we practice compassion with ourselves, showing the body love, with positive affirmations and atmospheric music we increase our energetic health. Energetic health represents plenty of potential energy, clarity & enjoyment of life.

By cultivating compassion in ourselves it automatically increases our tendency towards generosity & harmony. These are the two most powerfully influential human energies.

Vision: Clarity of Perception

Phi in the brain (thought pathways), are formed as the neurons align with the lowest resistance to the energy being inducted into the brain. This means that as we experience certain thoughts or emotions with regularity, the brain's neurons adjust to the electromagnetic energy to align with the lowest resistance. This is how emotions create habit, they create perception as well as distortion of perception. This is because love creates sine waves (approximating phi) and anger creates irregular angular waves (causing distortion), which you can see on the next page.

Video: Embryo Development

What is perhaps now more clear, your body is being shaped by the energy moving through it.

The energy that nature instills in us is Phi, perfect distribution & compression (yin & yang). When you allow your body to be shaped by this natural energy of peace it changes the brain.

It has been shown by modern science that meditation has a significant impact on the alignment and activity of the neurons in the brain.

Just like we can work out an arm or a leg, we can actually enhance the clarity of the imagination through practice.

The property of the brain that allows it to reshape itself is called neural plasticity. Through intentional practice ANY person can cultivate exceptional imagination & creative ability in mind, body & spirit.

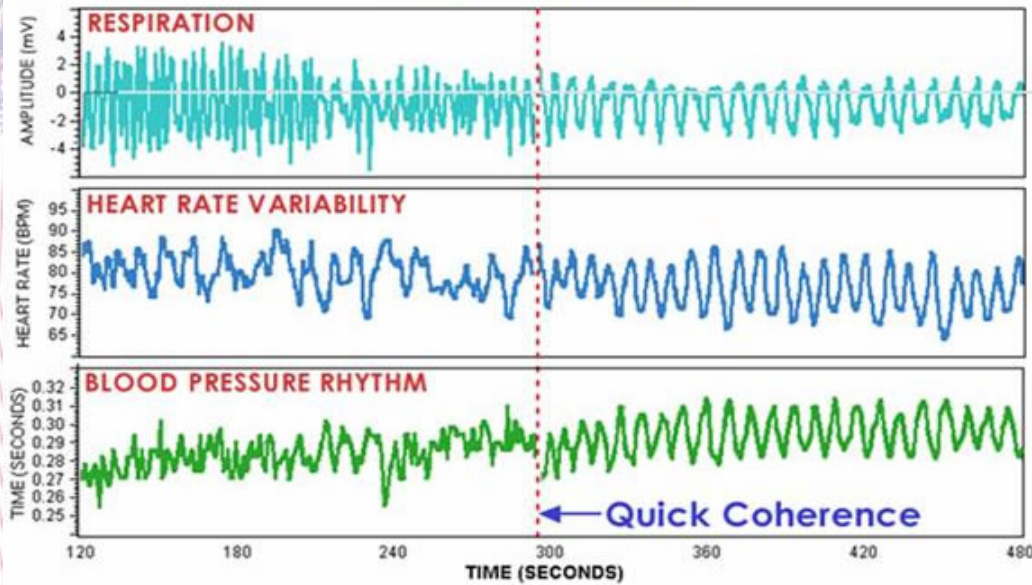

Taking a moment every morning to self reflect and plan your day is important.

Fortifying yourself with meditation establishes your emotional state, your emotions determine your breath, heart rate, brain function, even how blood flows through your body.

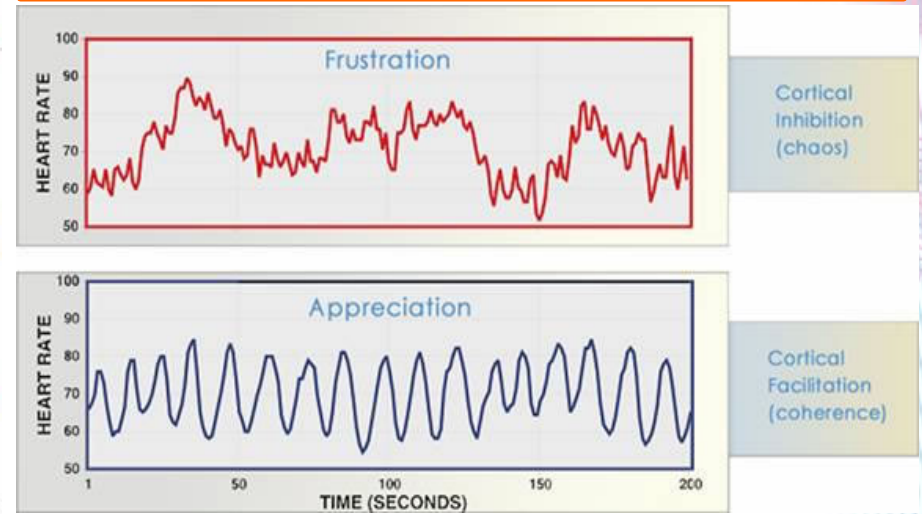

Meditation and intentional gratitude allows our minds to operate more frequently from a state of peace.

The Coherent State

Beta 13-40 Hz
Associated with worry, stress, paranoia, fear, irritability, moodiness, anger. Connected to weakened health and immune system. Fully awake and alert. Nervousness, depression, and anxiety. People spend most of their time in the beta state.

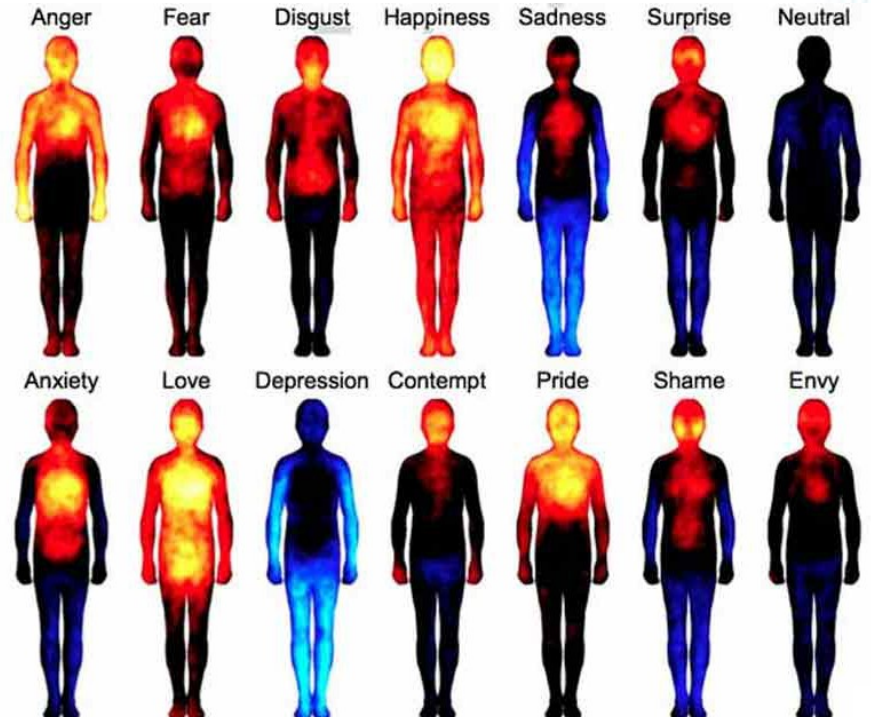

Alpha 7-13 Hz
Meditation and relaxation begins. Effortless creativity flows. Powerful state for memory and super-learning. A harmonious, peaceful state. Habits, fears, and phobias begin to melt away. Tranquility and calm.

Theta 4-7 Hz
Insight, Intuition, Inspiration. Answers to important questions can be found. Feels like you are floating. A wonderful realm to explore. Dream like imagery. Good for problem solving. Feel more connected to others.

Delta 0-4 Hz
Renewal, healing, rejuvenation. Deep, dreamless sleep. Very Rewarding. Said to be the entrance to non physical states of reality. Best state for immune system function, restoration, and health.

The Four Brainwave States

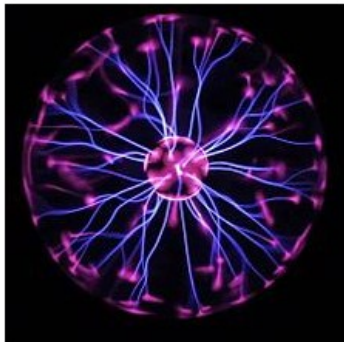

Visualization: A Magnificent Brain

As your heart beats, by virtue of the blood brain barrier, a counter rotational vortex creates a strong magnetic field. This magnetic field flows into the pineal gland (3rd eye) and is compressed into a singularity, what we refer to as the "self". Your heart, your brain, and every aspect of your body was designed to perfectly reflect the universe outside your body. This is what makes the human being tremendously powerful, you can use your perception of past events to influence current & future events. Your brain allows you to make any creative or calculated changes to your reality as you desire, this is called imagination. The more clearly we understand the universe, the more powerful the imagination's influence becomes. As you spend more time in a state of harmony, your brains neurons will also align with harmony. Because harmony is the energy that produces the universe, Tuning our brains to natural harmony allows us to see the Universe as clearly as possible.

Videos: Schumann Resonance; Ionospheric Charge

One In All, All In One

In the 50's when the Schumann resonance was officially discovered & testing was done to see the effect of this frequency. Placing people in special rooms they jammed this frequency to observe the results, unanimously all subjects suffered in an environment that was void of this frequency.

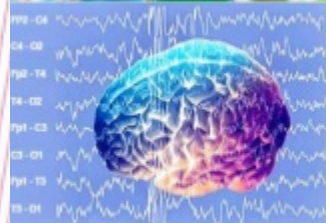

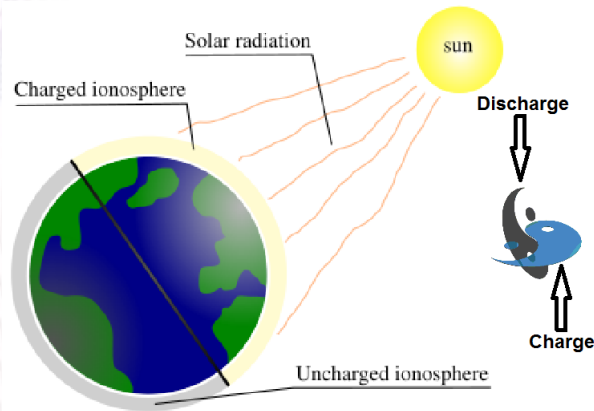

What they initially suspected was that the brain produced these "alpha" wave signals. It became obvious almost immediately we act more as a transceiver for these waves. Like a cell phone picks up a signal and uses that signal to communicate with virtually anyone in the world, while at the same time it does not actually generate the signal.

From this vantage point take note that we all share a collective "pool" of imaginative capacity. By encouraging others to achieve greater heights we allow human consciousness to grow on a collective level.

As humans learn to more fully connect with THE FACT that we are all intellectually connected to the planet, the need and logic of saving the planet holds new weight.

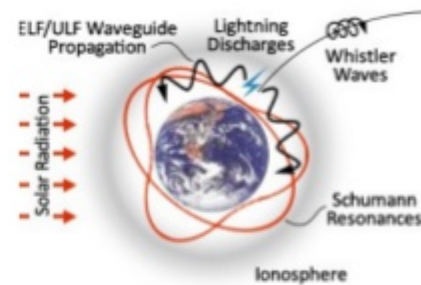

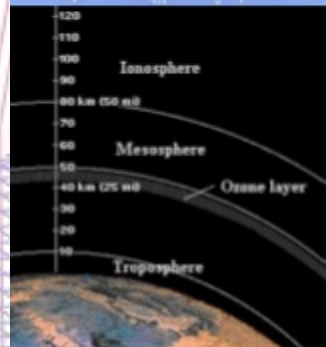

Just as the cells of your body are connected to your heart beat, you are like a cell of Earth connected to the Schumann resonance.

To summarize the Alpha waves that are in every single brain, associated with effortless creativity, high functioning memory & peaceful state of being comes as a benefit, directly from the planet & sun's energetic relationship.

THE IONOSPHERE AND EARTH RESONANCE

The spherical Earth-ionosphere cavity is created by the conductive surface of the earth and the outer boundary of the ionosphere, separated by non-conducting air. Electromagnetic impulses are generated by electrical discharges such as lightning, the main excitation source, and spread laterally into the cavity. Lightning discharges have a "high-frequency component", involving frequencies between 1 kHz and 30 kHz. This produces electromagnetic waves in the very low frequency (VLF) and extremely low frequency (ELF) ranges.

The Schumann resonances occurring over an eight-hour period can be clearly seen at approximately 7.8, 14, 20, 26, 33, 39, and 45 Hz.

Emotion: The key to all motion

What is the primary purpose of meditation? To put simply it is a tool for the purpose of sharpening the spiritual voice at the center of all actions.

We can use the practices of active awareness as well as breathing exercises to heighten our awareness as well as push the boundaries of what is perceived as physically possible. Directly connecting with the body's autonomic nervous system is also possible with consistent practice. Through visualization & practice any human can transform themselves and learn to redirect their inner energies.

Masters of the human energy system find that they are able to approach life with a more empowered perspective. Your consciousness as you know it comes from the energy that is shared between the planet and the sun. When you break it down, all life on Earth is being powered by sun charged oxygen. When you learn how to tap into this power, that is all around you, new levels of human potential can be tapped into. By increasing oxygen levels throughout the body you increase cellular metabolism &

The Wim Hof Method Video Course Is Based On Three Powerful Pillars

Cold Therapy

Learn how to tap into the power of the "cold" to burn fat, boost your immune system, improve sleep quality, increase hormone levels, reduce inflammation and increase the "feel good" chemicals in the brain called endorphins (nature's own mood boosters).

Breathing

The majority of us breathe shallow throughout the day resulting in ill health and low energy levels. The scientific breathing techniques you will learn in this course will significantly improve your energy levels, detox the body and release toxins, relieve stress and tension, and strengthen your immune system.

Commitment

The techniques within the cold and breathing effectively need commitment. With this you can go into any depth of your physiology. It is your choice now.

Increased oxygen levels results in increased power, health & vitality.

Nutrition: The Science of Self Creation

When you look at the body, perhaps the most important thing to recognize is the PH. The PH of our blood allows us to see the concentration of electrons in our blood.

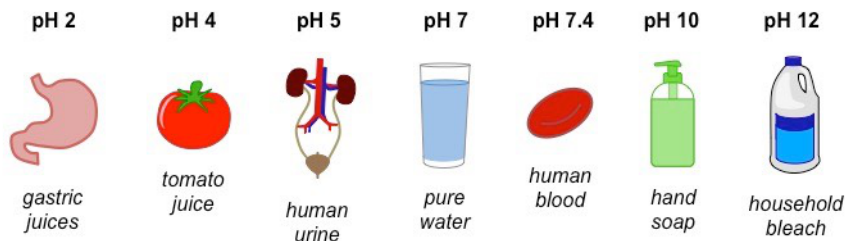

When thinking about electrons, you must understand the flow of charge, that is induced when things are in motion. If something is positively charged (lacks electrons) it absorbs electrons from it's environment as it moves. If something is negative charged (abundance of electrons) it pushes electrons from itself as it moves through the environment.

This is what we would come to expect from Newtonian mechanics, every actions creates an opposite and equal reaction. On the next page you'll see the differences in blood samples between positively charged blood & negatively charged blood.

Videos: Blood Alkalinity; Alkalinity & Cancer

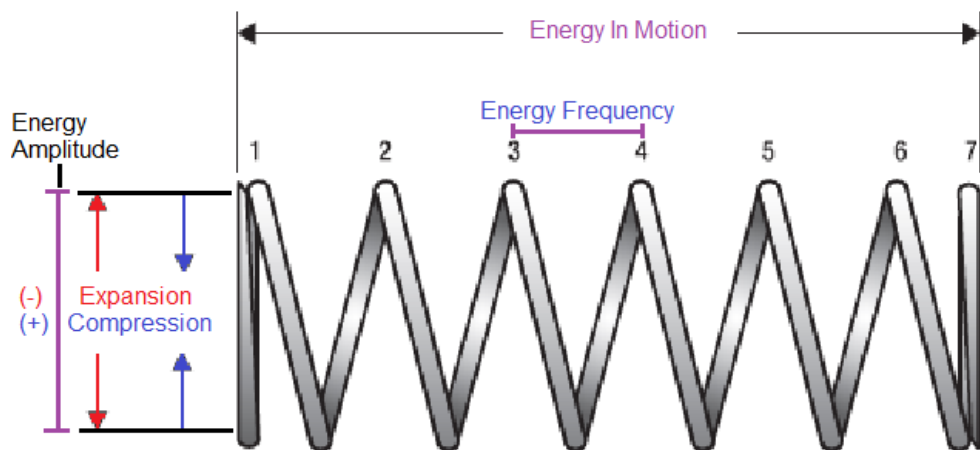

Examples of pH Conditions:

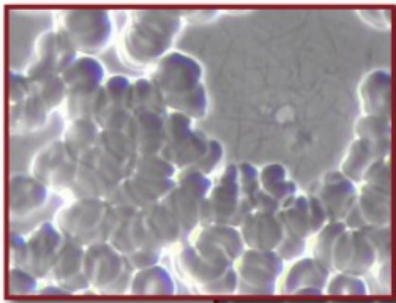

Every single person who has cancer has a pH is that too acidic.

Dr. Otto Warburg won the Nobel Prize in 1931 for proving that cancer can't survive in an alkaline, oxygen rich environment but thrives in an acidic, low oxygen environment.

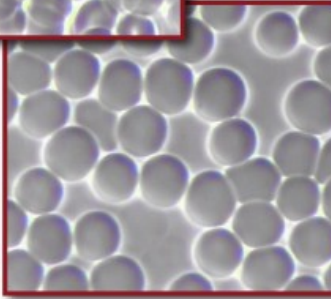

The Charge of the energy is very important to the electromagnetism of the body. Compression packs DNA into health, and expansion pulls it apart into cancer.

Acidic, Cancerous-Condition Live Blood Image

Healthy Alkaline Live Blood Image

The Good news is that your body is naturally very good at maintaining this internal balance. By regularly consuming raw foods that naturally boost alkalinity we create exceptional health. There are MANY types of alkaline foods to choose from when you become familiar with some of your favorites you can create delicious meals.

Alkalize & Live

A healing pH diet is 70 to 80 percent ALKALINE foods - 50% RAW for the enzymes & vitamins, limit sweet fruits, dried fruits are good; and 20 to 30% ACID foods, one half protein - 10% of total. Work slowly toward alkalizing and build on vegetables (salads & steamed vegetables). Limit sweets, yeast, white flour, bread, pasta. You don't need meat every day. Plan ahead for that junk food treat once a week. Ask yourself often, how much do you want this to work?

80% Alkaline (1/2 RAW)
20% Acid

Use Quick Fixes in travel, for short term, or as daily Alkalizing pick-me up.

Special Help

CHEW, CHEW, CHEW: each mouthful 40-50 times will alkalize most foods

GREEN DRINKS: Wheat or Barley grass, Chlorella & Spirulina (or tabs)

LEMON SQUASH: Juice of 1-2 lemons in 1-2 oz. of distilled water

When the body is in it's proper state of alkalinity all cellular function and genetic functions happen more fluidly.

Every type of mineral holds a unique structure. This means that every type of mineral absorbs radiant energy (electrons) and emits it radiantly in a unique way (frequency).

When you think of a human body like an instrument designed to resonate light, minerals (which resonate with electromagnetism) would be like the keys or notes of consciousness.

Inverted Field Produced within conductor

Oxygen (made of 8 spheres like the flower of life) holds a charge from the sun at it's central axis point.

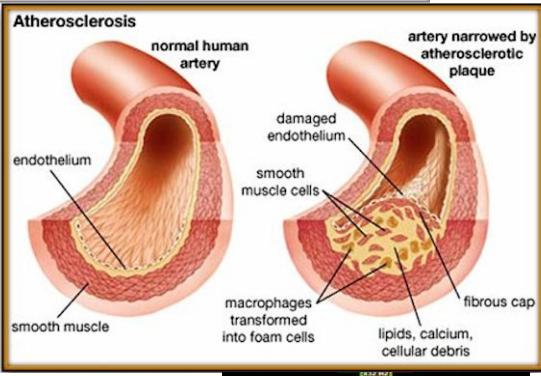

Oxygen molecules bind with red blood cells forming microscopic electromagnets. As red blood cells pass through your veins they induce a charge. This charge is picked up by the vascular lining of endothelium cells, and carry the charge back to the heart, creating the muscle energy for the next beat.

Every time our heart beats it uses it's energy, until that energy is returned back to the heart by virtue of blood flow & back flow emf (electromotive force).

This perhaps makes more sense how how heart attacks are related to stress and nutrition (clogged vascular system). A system that has plaque conducts less energy, like dirty solar panels, and creates more resistance & less flexibility and runs the risk of not having enough energy for the next beat.

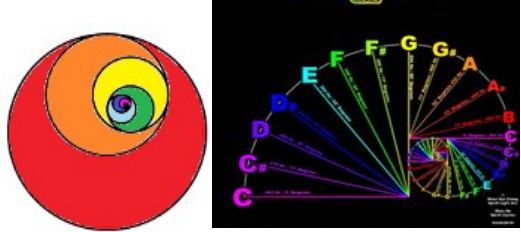

The Health Benefits of Himalayan Pink Crystal Salt

- Controlling the body water levels.
- Promoting stable pH balance in the cells.
- Encouraging excellent blood sugar health
- Reducing the common signs of aging
- Promoting cellular hydroelectric energy creation
- Promoting the increased absorption capacities of food elements within the intestinal tract
- Aiding vascular health
- Supporting healthy respiratory function
- Lowering incidence of sinus problems.
- Increasing bone strength
- Naturally promoting healthy sleep patterns

A high alkaline diet you'll notice is also high in fiber, which will keep your arteries in great health & vibrantly receptive to the full spectrum of your natural intelligence.

MONOSODIUM POISONING occurs from modern preservative methods using highly concentrated amounts of only a handful of salt minerals. Sea Salt is good, Himalayan pink salt is perhaps the perfect mineral salt. A salt consisting of 84 essential minerals in one source.

Cellular Implosion

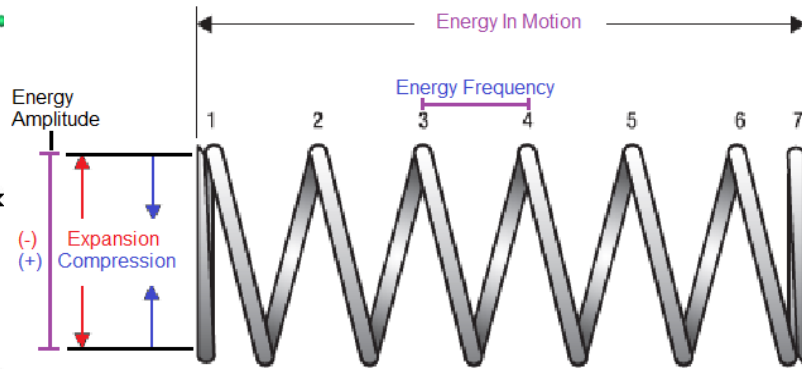

Now that we have taken the time to explore body health I will also explain why this relates to cellular health. As was previously stated, positive charge moving creates implosion (absorbs charge) , below you see a mirrored vortex drawing. This shows the relationship between DNA strands (yin linear) and nucleus of the cell (yang circular).

Imagine that at the center of your cell there was something like a magnetic vacuum that pulled matter into itself. All things are spinning, in order to move more quickly (higher frequency) you move closer to center. If you can remember a time that you were spinning on a rope swing, similarly pulling in your arms and legs makes you spin more quickly.

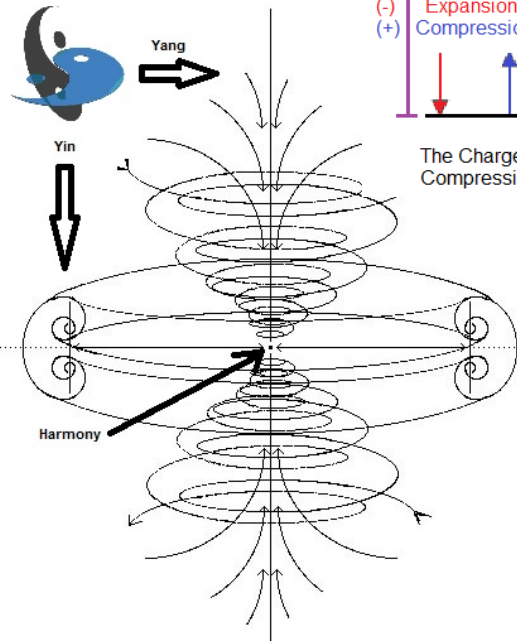

This is also why the subtle force of energetic charge is important to cellular health, the

Double Vortex

The Charge of the energy is very important to the electromagnetism of the body. Compression packs DNA into health, and expansion pulls it apart into cancer.

anatomy of the nucleus

inclination is to implode resulting in tightly packed DNA and healthy cells.

Acidic environments create the opposite effect of pulling the DNA apart, which results in exponential cellular division. Cancer by it's nature is abnormal growth created by a negative (acidic) environment.

The good news, as long as you maintain your PH the nucleus of every cell will be like your magnificent assembly crew. They will dismantle and reassemble anything you put into your body and create your beautiful body.

Think about that for a moment, everything that you put into your body, is what your DNA is creating itself out of. As the DNA resonates it expends molecules that are electromagnetically drawn into the body, repairing broken parts.

As we eat food, it is absorbed into our DNA to essentially make the "spare parts" that are continuously needed by your trillions of cells.

Diet: the Reason for Alkaline Foods

Videos: Transitioning to an Alkaline Diet; Goji Berries & blood health; Essiac Tea & Cancer

Foods that require more acid to break down in the stomach result in a higher acid content in blood which leaches the calcium from the bones. Animal flesh and dairy products especially calcium fortified products cause the stomach to produce extra hydrochloric acid. Counter intuitively acidic foods like tomatoes, lemons & limes help break down other foods in your stomach and results in a lower level of stomach acid used by the body, resulting in stronger bones & healthier cells.

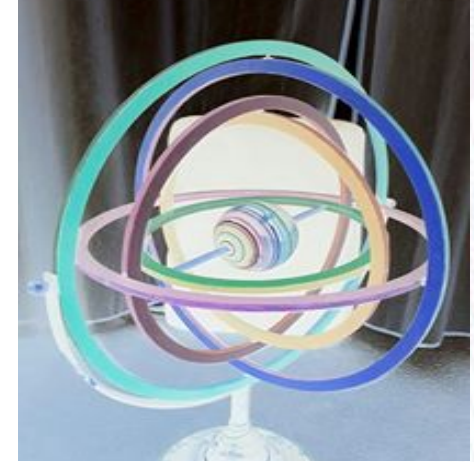

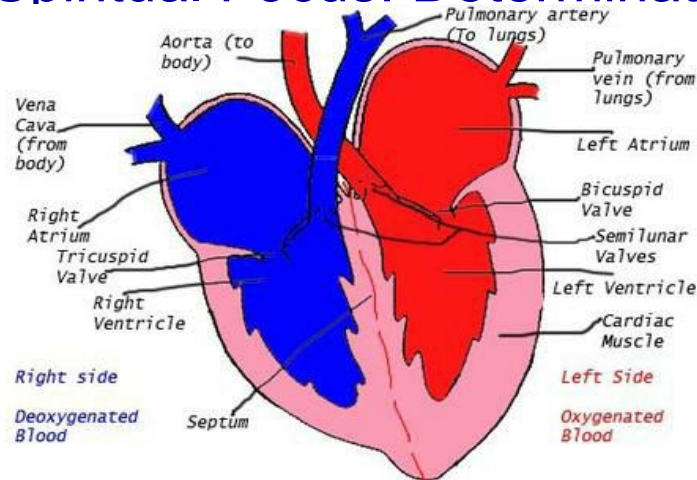

My personal diet consists primarily of beans, rice, grains & greens. This provides variety as there are many kinds these types of foods, they're easy to prepare and season.

The difference in energy level is great, when we begin pulling in the highest quality building ingredients for our cells. Your cells will be more vibrant and alive requiring less sleep. Basically you'll have more potential energy with an optimized diet.

Eat less processed and refined foods and more raw and uncooked greens and fruits.

Spiritual Focus: Determination

There is one part of your body that is unique when it comes to blood flow, the central heart chambers. What makes this part of the body unique is that this is the only place in the body where blood is circulating around itself spherically instead linearly through veins

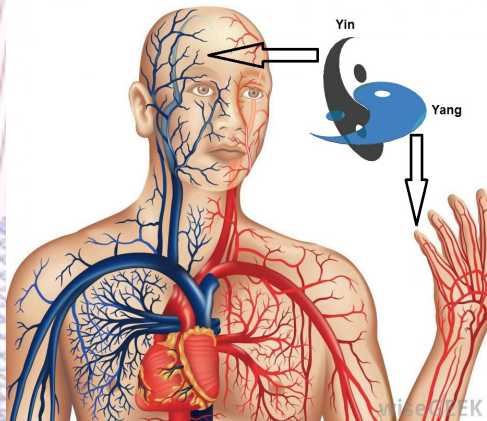

Because there are two halves to the heart which mirror one another, these energies are mirrored across an axis.

Another way for you to perceive this is yin and yang, yin is the photo negative, yang is the standard photo. The photo negative is the inversion, acceptance is perceived as communication, will as imagination and so on. Each energy becomes it's polar opposite resulting in a balance of energy.

This is how you could explain spirit, as the ability to absorb any external energy and understand how to transform that energy within yourself. As we master the art of balancing the physical energies with the spiritual energies in our bodies we become more and more stable in our environment. When a human being understands that they have the ability to create any kind of energy desired in their environment by their reactions alone they are enlightened. Enlightenment is the ability to align ones physical and spiritual circulating bodies, beginning with the heart.

Both the heart and the mind create powerful electromagnetic fields & the hearts EMF is 60 times greater than the brain's. Imagine your heart is a bright burning sun and your mind is a perfect lens, creating brilliance & focus.

Breathing & Stretching

Focus on deep breathing while performing yoga, which means union. The idea of yoga is to make your body like a mirror of the mind, instead of the other way around. When the mind mirrors the body we become confused and distracted from our personal influence.

When the body mirrors the mind, we can be more mindfully conscious of every creative aspect of our body physically & energetically.

As you create a higher state of energy in the body through nutrition & yoga you can physically transform the body, mind and spirit of presence.

Basic Trust

As we increase our personal power in a way that is positive for ourselves we achieve higher states of awareness. As we realize the healing love and power in our own hearts we can share it with others.

When we extend basic trust and allow effective communication we find exponentially more creative ways of being.

When we find balance in these energies, is when we have balance in the heart. When the body is physically strong, flexible and enduring, that is integrity in the body. When we have persistence in our efforts with faith in our imagination & creativity, that is spiritual strength.

The effects of yoga & nutrition to change the body are virtually nothing short of a miracle. I say this from my own personal yoga transformation.

Health: the Natural State of the Body

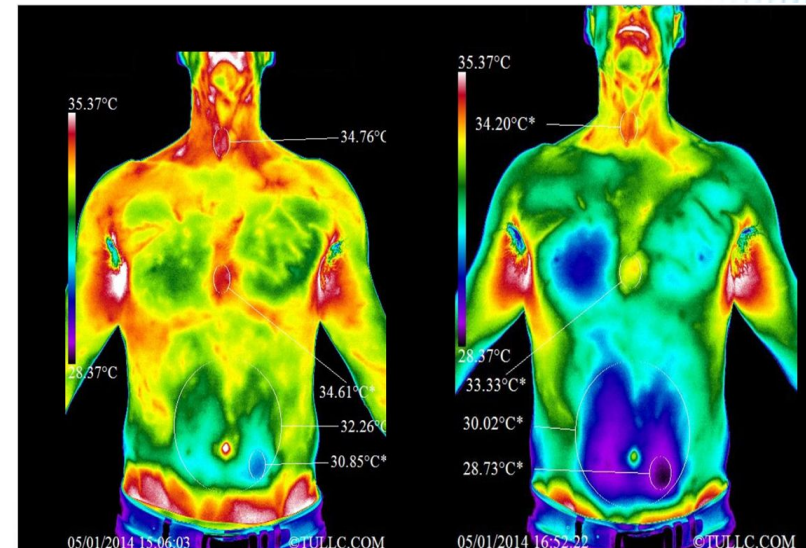

A phenomenon that is widely unrecognized by western science is the effect grounding the body's energy system. Like all electrical systems there is a potential to build up static charge when there is no path for electrical potential to dissipate. We call this grounding because the Earth itself is the largest body of positive charge in our environment. When the human body is grounded, by nature of electricity, energy naturally flows into the Earth from the body. If this charge is left in the body for extended periods of time it results in chronic non localized inflammation.

They bodies organs and joints become inflamed and less able to function normally. Many of the chronic diseases with no apparent cause can be attributed to the effects of prolonged accumulation of charge within the body. In case studies conducted, ALL PARTICIPANTS experience physiological changes as a result of grounding the energy in their body with that of the Earth. Simply by doing breathing, stretching and grounding, we can see profound impacts on the human system. It is possible to sharply shift your experience of reality to be more harmonious. Conversely, energy that is not grounded (routed in, or an octave of, the Schumann has been shown to have negative effects on living systems.

The image on the left is of the mid back and shoulders taken as a baseline on 4-18-05 (prior to ETT use). The arrows denote the most significant area of inflammation, which also correspond precisely with the subject's areas of complaint. The image on the right was taken on 4-22-05 after 4 nights of sleeping on the ETT sleep system. Note the complete resolution in inflammation with a return of normal thermal symmetry.

The Flower of Life: The Power to Empower

The flower of life is a 2 dimensional representation of the armillary sphere used to display nested geometry and leverage between dimensions.

If you take a moment to notice, the colors are arranged in a way so that the photo negative (inversion of color) is the opposite of each color.

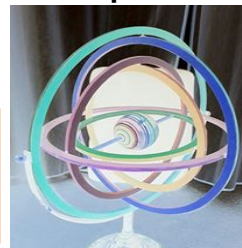

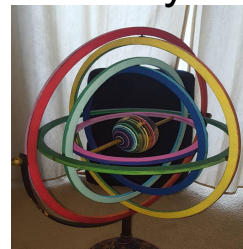

This also shows us how these different types of intelligence (ways of filtering information) and various emotional responses (attitudes of response) relate.

This flower of life pattern shows you how all of these energies arise from one another and how to navigate struggles spiritually.

What I mean by that is sharpening your spirit with the proper attitude and perspective. Imagine if someones willpower is out of control, you don't use your own willpower, only conflict would arise. A wise person would use the opposite, empowerment, connecting with what that person loves; or come to understand how a person came to be as they are, their story (self reflection).

A person who is able to respond to people dynamically (consciously harmonious) is said to be charming and influential. What you might also say is, people like this get unique responses from life. We think that we "know" people, yet we only know them as they relate to us.

People respond differently to different people, even strangers, your attitude CREATES your observation, like music causes emotion, even without conscious consideration.

Video:
Create Energetic Alignmen

The incredible thing about what they've discovered in quantum mechanics, it's chaos theory. Chaos is a little bit misleading, it is deterministic/indeterminable simultaneously. To clarify that, the world is determined by more than one determination, meaning it's unsolvable exactly.

When they were first looking at quantum experiments there was a lot of confusion about this unpredictable behavior. Each scientist that would go to make atomic observations would get consistent results within their experiments, yet none of the researches data matched. What they became aware of was that each person would reach a result consistently, yet every person would yield a different result even if only slightly. What this meant for science was that at a certain point the human being making the observation was more important than what was actually being observed.

What I think we can all learn from this is there is no way of determining exactly what is possible, at a certain point we must determine it. The confidence with which we determine our future is relative to our individual faith. When we are inspired, with a strong sense of compassion, vision & creativity we allow the universe to reflect back to us our highest potential.

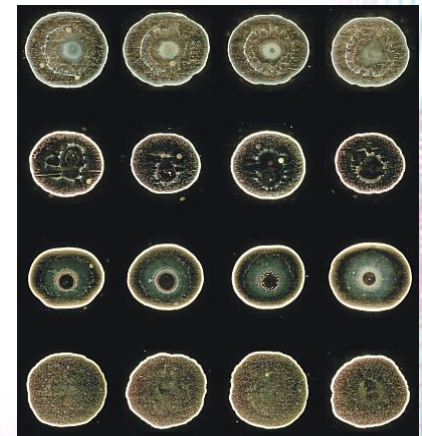

People who live consciously about how they are perceived but more importantly, how they perceive the environment, they tend to be more graceful with their presence. People who are spiritual in their way of being naturally inspire the strength and determination in those around them. We human beings are like cells for the planet, it is important that we are all healthy. As more people become spiritually empowered we will see a swift shift in the way that children are educated and how humans relate to life on the planet.

The important thing to know, NO ONE can predict ANYONES potential in advance, because it is created largely by determination. Your ability to self cultivate and communicate graciously allows you to grow your potential until you're satisfied. There is literally no definable boundary that could define what is possible for you, or anyone else for that matter, stop judging yourself. When you judge something you define it, your spirit is not definable because it is not solid, it is continuously circulating & naturally changing.

You should be the most loving and compassionate person to yourself, how many times have you complimented yourself today, how many times did you judge yourself? It is not necessary to judge yourself harshly, it doesn't help you or anyone around you. Focus your energy on the response from the universe you would like to see, everything and everyone around you will reflect your presence as you are, not as you would like. Be generous, compassionate & harmonious

Empowerment

As you take a breath, you inhale oxygen which is charged by the static electricity in the atmosphere caused by the Schumann Resonance. This charge is what is flowing through your blood That induces charge in the rest of your body and gives your Heart and brain the charge necessary to be phenomenal.

As you observe things and people in your environment with empowerment, the love that you breath into your body is shared sympathetically. Like a tuning fork you can breathe in, and love anyone or everyone. What you love grows as it should in harmony with itself. Practiced meditation and affirmations make easier to be compassionate and courageous with yourself. Using this self love, you can focus your presence to create the inversion of energy of someone that is in need of inspiration or compassion.

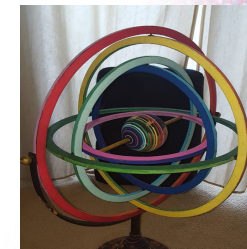

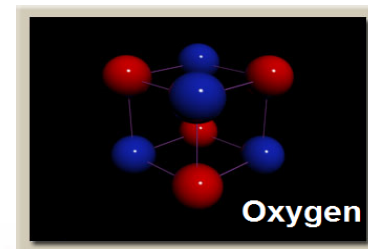

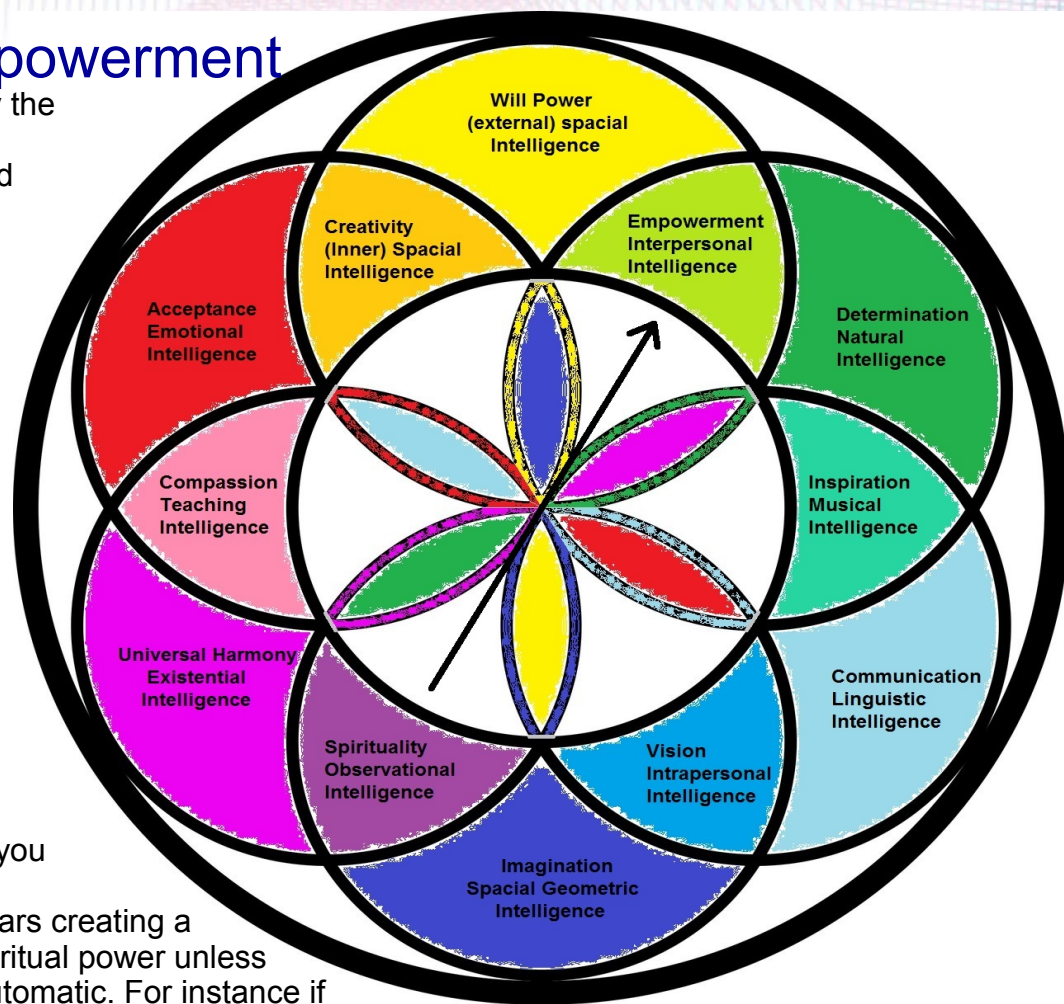

As we practice self compassion and self love we find that more energy is available to give to others. This is the seed of every truly spiritual teaching.

“Give and your Cup will runnith over.”

First give to yourself, tell yourself the things that you'd like to hear with the enough love to be compassionate, patient & creative. If you harness those three energies within yourself you will find obstacles crumble at your feet.

For children this is easy, for adults who have spent years creating a strong voice of self criticism it's harder to create profound spiritual power unless someone they love is in danger, in which case it becomes automatic. For instance if the entire world were not in danger, I may have not spent decades obsessively studying the universe to understand how creation functioned and could be healed. When I first started on this journey 23 years ago, I would not have believed how much intelligence I would pour through to find and answer.

I certainly find it ironic that after all that time the answer was so simple, life is the sound of music. I wish to empower the “song” in all hearts with wisdom.

Global Power

In 1899 Nikola Tesla discovered that it was possible to create a standing wave, a wave that interacts with its own reflection. Nikola Tesla created a resonating tower using multiple diameters of wiring nested, wound around a central antennae. The energy is discharged directly into an aquifer, with mineral rich spring water the resistance to energy is virtually zero (more than 99% efficiency).

Due to the Schumann resonance there is a continuous charge in the atmosphere. Every single second of every day roughly 100,000,000,000watts of power travel from the outer atmosphere, to the Earth's core via lightening. This equalizes the electrical potential difference between the day/night halves of the Earth.

We can tap into this current as it passes through the atmosphere. The simplest way to explain this is based on the point of lowest resistance. We already know that lightning strikes the lowest point of resistance this is why we create lightning rods to keep buildings safe. What Nikola Tesla discovered over 100 years ago was the ability to create a tower that created a super low point of resistance. He was able to induce huge amounts of energy using perfectly timed harmonic reflections (based on Earths geometry) creating an aurora field like the poles. 100,000,000KW of power would satisfy global annual power needs in 90 seconds. This current could also carry communications, a truly world wide web, delivering energy and information anywhere globally.

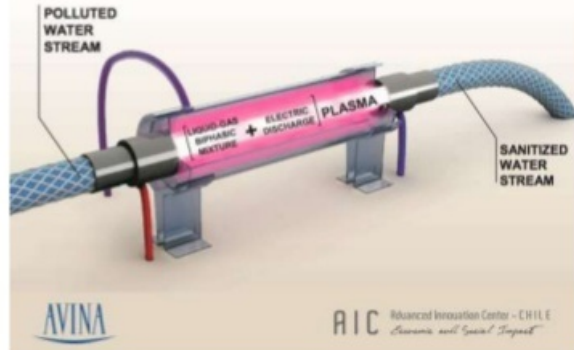

AIC CHILE, PLASMA WATER SANITATION SYSTEM

- First-ever technology to achieve 100% inactivation of bacteria and viruses in a single process
- Low energy consumption: 9.16 Wh/L (vs
- Can sanitize 35 liters of water in 5 minutes at a cost per liter of less than 1/8 of a (U.S.) cent

Comment:

- Great as you can include additional treatment stages (filters...), which is good when you have a water input but not yet ready for off-grid challenges

Plasma Water Sanitation

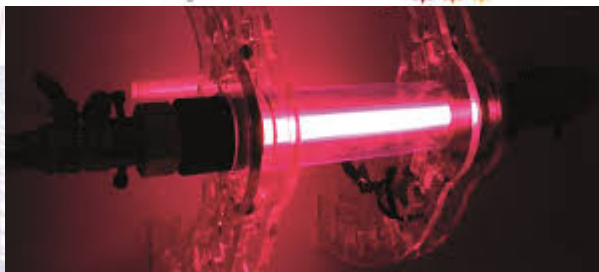

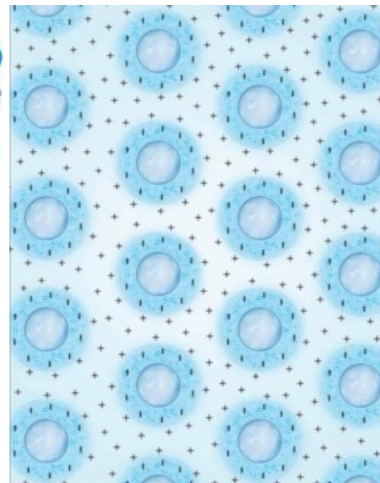

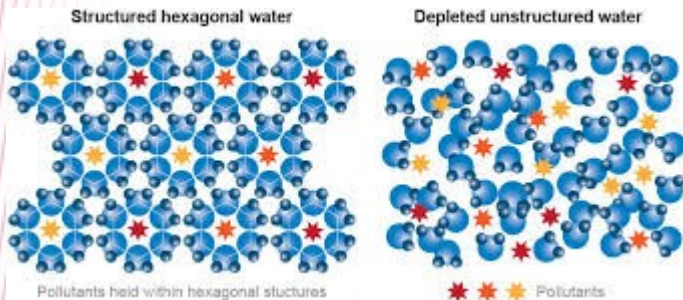

Using a small charge we can induce a relatively large charge within the flowing water vapor. This process is more effective than any technology currently used in the united states for water processing. It eliminates the microbial life from water without using any chemicals at all. Using rough filtering to remove particles and plasma activation to destroy bacteria could save the world billions of dollars in water and health related costs.

The study of the phenomenon of water's ability to absorb chemistry & charge has led to some interesting results. The charge in the water is persistent but not permanent. The higher the charge, the higher the residual antibacterial effects. Freshly plasma activated water is antibacterial and supports healthy body function.

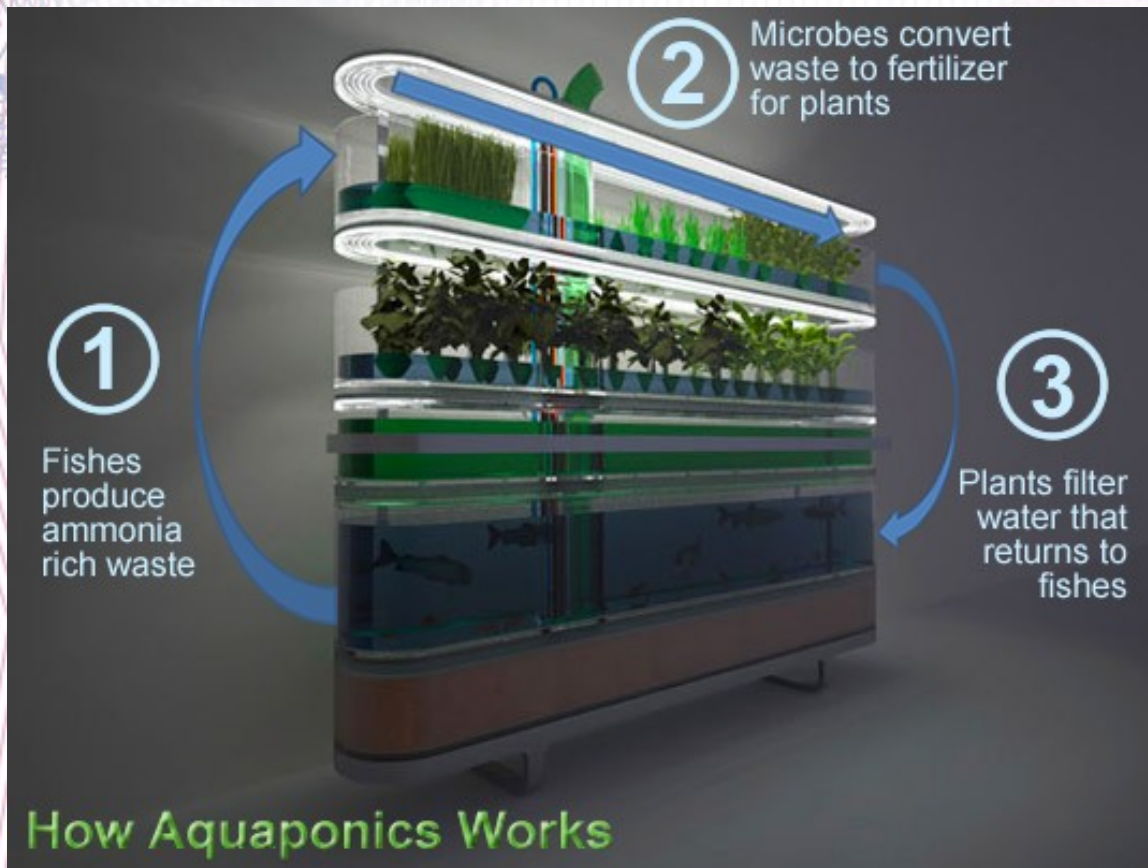

Scientists studying the effects of structured water (created by flowing geometry & magnets) have noted the health benefits and growth rate increases in plants. Plants given structured water grow roughly 25% faster. This structure happens in naturally flowing streams which do not flow at right angles which destroys water structure.

Plasma activated water is relatively new, but it is being used in commercial production in Chile. Being one of the cheapest and healthiest methods of purifying water it's sure to catch on globally. What early scientific trials are showing, the increased static charge of the water resulted in exceptional plant growth (nearly 30% faster) and excellent health.

Water will be the staple of health in the future as it allows us to grow more food that is healthier, and have blood that is vitally charged and free of bacteria.

Videos: Plasma Activation; Plasma Sanitation

Aquaponics

Aquaponics is a way to take agriculture vertical which saves floor space. Not only does this save floor space it allows us to naturally fertilize food & avoid using pesticides.

There is no soil so there is no weeding, and the water circulation is regulated. We can create stand alone food systems where the system keeps the food alive.

We can also use dramatically less water using aquaponics, moving forward water conservation and boosting food production will become major considerations. Stepping in front of these concerns before they become problems will allow us to create a thriving food infrastructure.

I believe that in the future, agricultural knowledge will be more wide spread and people will take greater responsibility for their food health.

Beyond knowledge, I wish to create a world where food is so abundant that every person has access to the highest quality food, that is naturally grown & chemical free. Considering that nutrition is the cornerstone of health, I believe we need to create a culture where healthy food cultivation is normal, instead of the exception.

By creating consumer friendly systems that are compact we can at the very least cultivate the greens that will allow our bodies to get a steady supply of the micro nutrients for blood health. The eventual separation from our consumer supply chain existence doesn't have to be traumatic, we can create something even better.

Our current means of producing food is not sustainable, it will result in the ecological collapse from the pollution in the air & water as well as soil depletion.

Humanity will ultimately survive, how many survive, and the quality of life that they enjoy will be based on the methods and tools they use to survive. What I dream is people using the most efficient tools to achieve prosperity & abundance.

Mortal Oscillation Rate Index

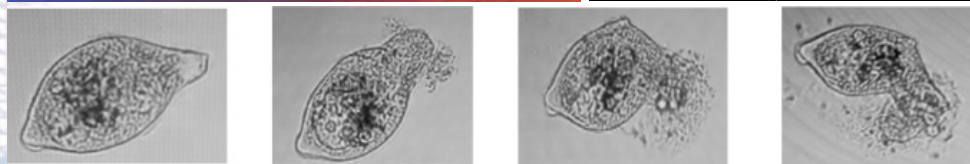

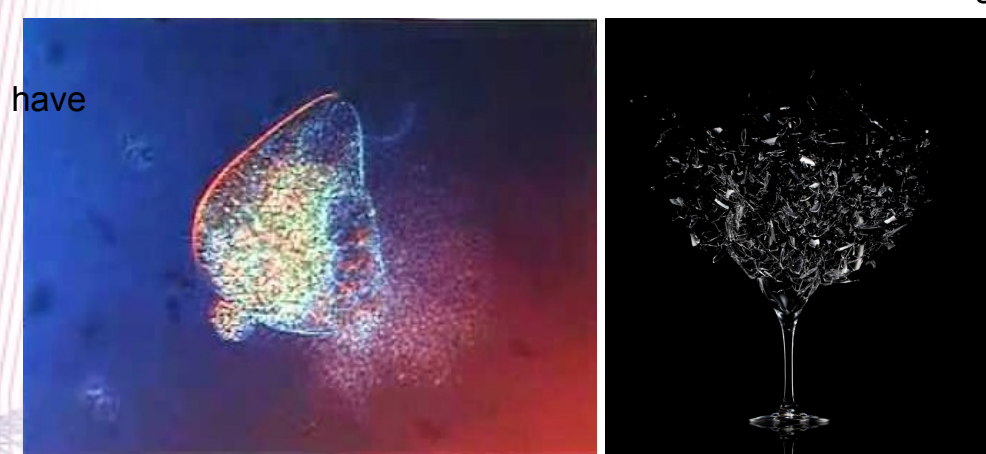

In the 1920's following in the direction of Nikola Tesla, Dr. Royal Raymond Rife created the first electron microscope to study the very small life forms. Just as predicted, every cellular body was excited by a unique resonate frequency. Through intensive study Dr. Rife was able to perfect the device and cured 16 terminally ill patients.

I believe that it is our duty to fully explore this technology and record the resonate frequency of all microbial life which is harmful to human health. Employing this methodology will require the collective efforts of humanity, however once we produce a comprehensive index of known pathogens we can eliminate disease. This is of course of lofty goal but it is achievable, it simply requires time and focused attention.

Imagine a future where the vast majority of disease is eliminated by the water used in every day life, and that any remaining harmful diseases could be specifically targeted. Using sound based technologies we would be able to revolutionize patient care and destroy exorbitant health care costs.

Mortal oscillation technology would effectively decapitate the out of control pharmaceutical industry which has turned human disease into a profit center. We are now on the brink of a new way of understanding the world that will allow us a level of health disease free way of living that we have been searching for.

The key isn't in some patented miracle drug, but in the understanding of the universe and the collective effort to turn that understanding into a greater state of prosperity and abundance. We have a responsibility to future generations to do the very best that we can to create a future which is better than the one given to use.

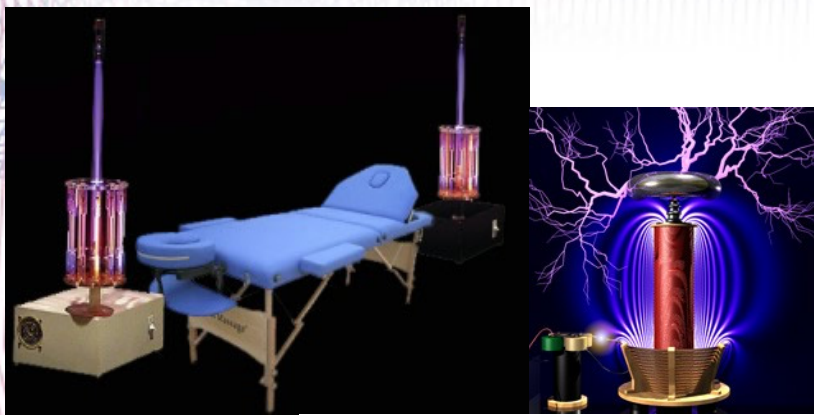

One-cell organism exposed to 1,150 Hz square wave frequency until destroyed

We can end disease & In fulfilling the responsibility that we have to protect the future generations, we will the most exceptional health possible.

Tesla Light Therapy

What few people know is that Nikola Tesla was a Eugenicist. The Eugenicist movement had the public face of creating a better more genetically fit world, had a private face directly tied to fascism and racism.

Nikola Tesla believed in healing, the majority of eugenicist believed in the wholesale extermination of "inferior genetic stock". I believe it was because his humanitarian views that he was largely omitted from history.

Nikola Tesla created light therapy devices, which have been updated and modernized. These devices are designed to create high frequencies pulsations in the air like the tesla coil. The difference is rather than solid state coils (copper) they use specific gases which resonate at frequencies that are in tune with the bodies.

This increased electromagnetic pressure is designed to, over a period of time create greater implosive force within the cellular structure. This of course is designed specifically to effect the DNA to bring the full DNA sequence into electromagnetic alignment.

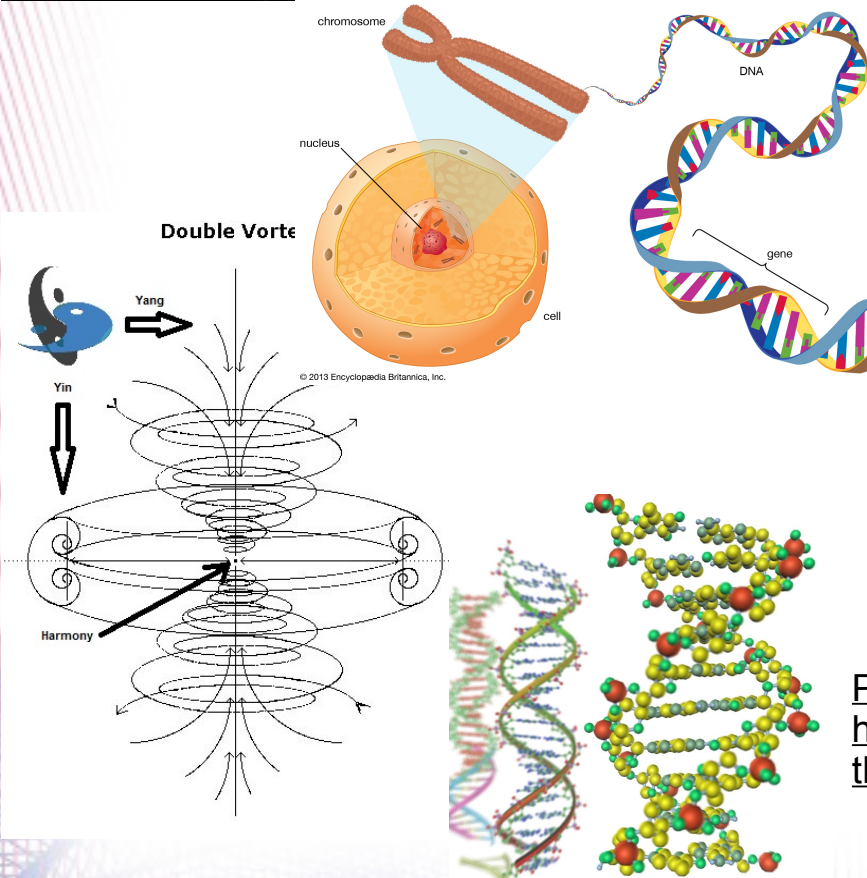

By studying the body we can see that there are patterns and structures created by vibrations of energy. From the heart, to mortal oscillation to genetic vibrations, by seeing these patterns, and learning to copy them, we can become masters of our health.

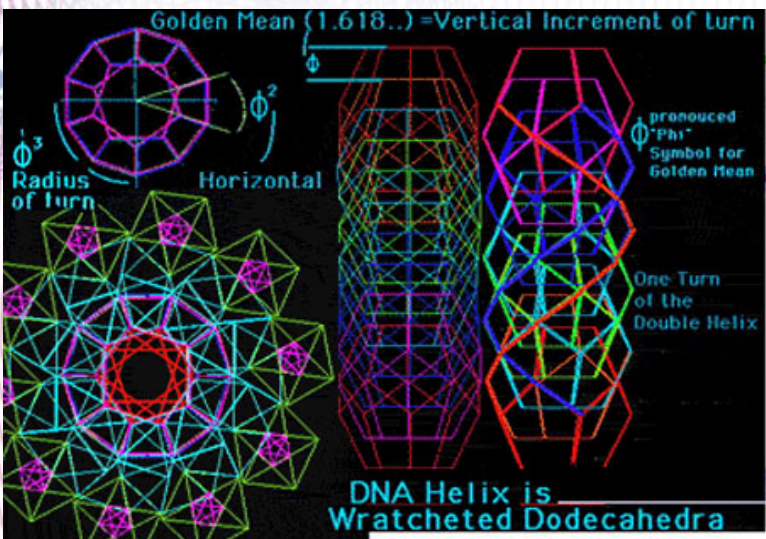

The ultimate pinnacle of healing is to do so at the genetic level, so that cellular & bodily disease never arises. We can create a world that is completely free of mental, emotional, cellular & genetic health. The only thing left now, are the people who are determined to make it happen.

What is incredible is that with CURRENT levels of technology we already have the ability to restructure the cymatic pattern of the DNA to produce any cellular structure. This would give us the ability to heal even what would have recently been considered a permanent injury.

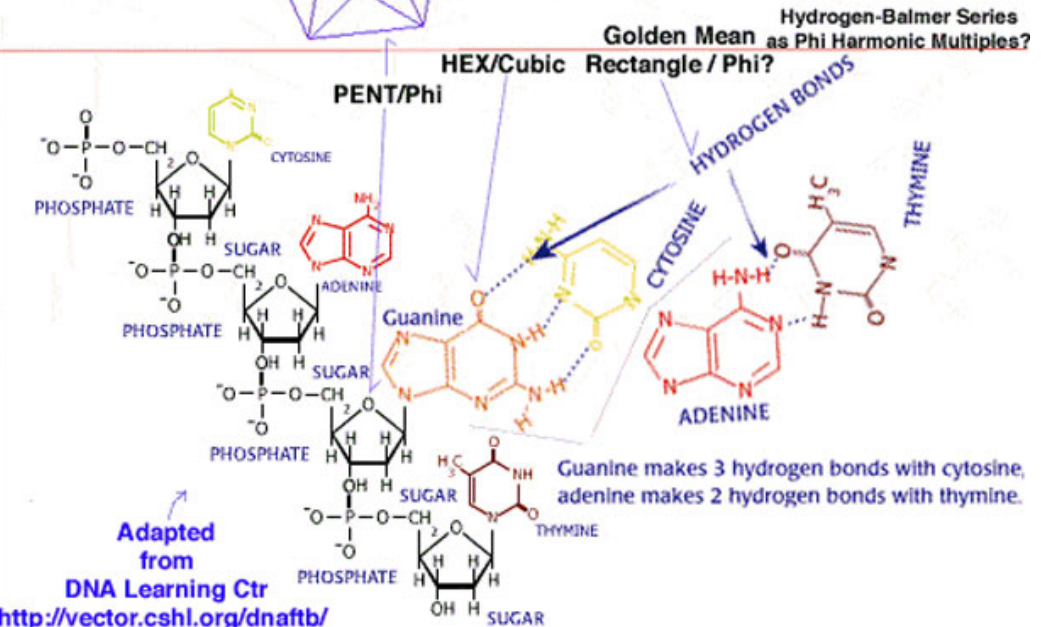

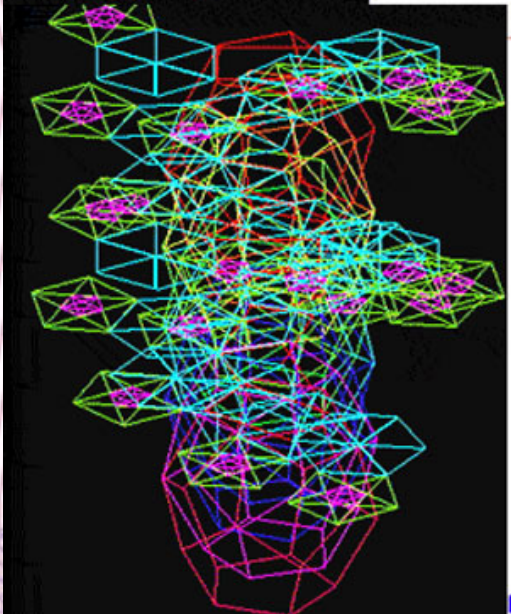

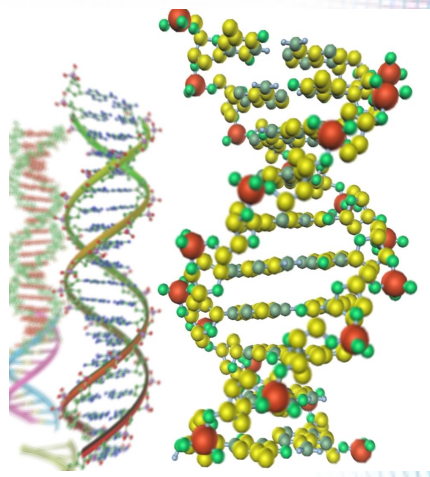

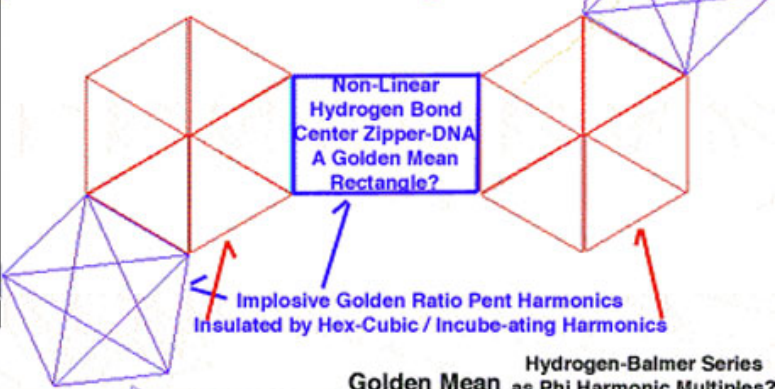

People thrive in a world where the obsession is to encourage health, furthermore everyone suffers in a world obsessed with the punishing of disease.

Dodecahedral Rotation of DNA Double Helix

These fractal patterns of geometry can be observed within every dimension of reality. Within the human DNA you see the interwoven pentagon (linear mind) hexagonal (mirroring heart) and golden means rectangle (connecting body). These are the shapes used as the basic building blocks of the human body. Because all shape and geometry is based on angles & cymatics, it is possible to harmonize the DNA by using proper frequencies in concert.

The Yin, the Yang and the Universal

The voice of creation echoes across eternity and can be seen in the shape and likeness of every persons face, in every leaf, butterfly or hurricane.

To Deny God is to deny all of known creation right before your eyes. To deny God is fools errand.

Every Human is a seed for the flower of life. We are born in universal harmony, through the experience of our lives we grow in spirit (imagination & harmony) and compassion (harmony & acceptance). It is within the potential of every human being to become Christ like, overflowing with spiritual presence & the ability to empower other hearts, and radiant compassion that inspires others to their fullest potential. Put another way, you are born physical, like a seed, and bloom into the spirit of the flower of life.

Luke 21:14

But make up your mind not to worry beforehand how you will defend yourselves.

For I will give you words and wisdom that none of your adversaries will be able to resist or contradict.

"As you enter the city, a man carrying a jar of water will meet you. Follow him to the house that he enters" and say to the owner of the house, 'The Teacher asks: Where is the guest room, where I may eat the Passover with my disciples?'

Luke 21:10-12

He will show you a large room upstairs (mind), all furnished. Make preparations there."

After Thoughts:

I know that this is a lot to take in all at once, I just wanted to be able to lay a complete plan of action to achieve collective human health. You don't have to believe anything that you've read, I invite you to do your own research if you disagree. I hope that this information is relevant to you and gives you a pathway for positive change as well as hope for what is in the future for humanity. I leave you with one of my favorite poems.

The Touch of the Masters Hand

Twas battered and scarred, and the auctioneer thought it scarcely worth his while to waste much time on the old violin, but held it up with a smile; "What am I bidden, good folks," he cried,
"Who'll start the bidding for me?" "A dollar, a dollar"; then two!" "Only two? Two dollars, and who'll make it three? Three dollars, once; three dollars twice; going for three.." But no, from the room, far back, a gray-haired man came forward and picked up the bow; Then, wiping the dust from the old violin, and tightening the loose strings, he played a melody pure and sweet as caroling angel sings.

The music ceased, and the auctioneer, with a voice that was quiet and low, said; "What am I bid for the old violin?" And he held it up with the bow.
A thousand dollars, and who'll make it two? Two thousand! And who'll make it three? Three thousand, once, three thousand, twice, and going and gone," said he. The people cheered, but some of them cried, "We do not quite understand what changed its worth." Swift came the reply: "The touch of a master's hand."

And many a man with life out of tune, and battered and scarred with sin,
Is auctioned cheap to the thoughtless crowd, much like the old violin, A "mess of pottage," a glass of wine; a game - and he travels on. "He is going" once, and "going twice, He's going and almost gone." But the Master comes, and the foolish crowd never can quite understand the worth of a soul and the change that's wrought by the touch of the Master's hand.

Videos: Tesla Coil Resonance Cycles of the Yugas

What was once understood by humanity in general, is the cyclical nature of the universe the different dimensions effecting different aspects of the reality differently. The rotation that we make around our black hole sun (active galactic nuclei) creates the highest Brilliance within human consciousness. We are entering a space where the radiant energy is extremely beneficial to human consciousness and state of compassion. This radiance effects our sun similarly to the tesla coils illuminating effect on a florescent light bulb (container of gas). Because our planets electromagnetic field is created by the harmonic resonance between our sun and planet (Schumann resonance) which is directly tied to the pineal gland's Alpha Wave. It is this seemingly innocuous change that creates an explosion in imagination, brilliance & creativity, like spring time for consciousness.
