Why Survival Island for Minecraft was the Best Fun i've had in a Long Time

I have been playing different games for a while and personally I have started to get a little bored with the same old games, run in, kill things and then get out. die.

I've recently been seeking out a different way to play so I decided to give Minecraft a go. I had heard good things about the sandbox-style gameplay in Minecraft which made me feel positive that it would make a great change in my gaming.

So I downloaded Minecraft and at first thought... oh dear god what have I done. Although the graphics aren't terrible, they are close. Before I knew I was playing for hours, and I loved the game. Minecraft really got hold of me and made me want to play even more.

I eventually started to look for even greater challenges in Minecraft to continue enjoying it. Some of the creations made me feel like there was more to it than I initially thought.

I was able to find the Survival Island Minecraft map. This was exactly what I was looking for, particularly because I am a huge fan of castaway. So I eagerly installed the map and began playing Minecraft, I was excited.

After loading into Minecraft and then the map I though what do I survive here, I guess that is the point.

As I recall the island is comprised of a small base of sand, some dirt, and an oak tree. I felt a certain amount of anxiety that I did not experienced before in Minecraft, all I thought was "I must be able to survive."

After a few more hours of gaming I was fully immersed in the Minecraft Survival Island way, I had underground tree farms and automated cactus farms bonemeal for seeds and a lot of other things going on I was feeling good.

Then all of a sudden, disaster struck! I mined in the wrong direction and opened up water into my underground cavern, oh dear.

I quickly plugged the leak with a bit of dirt and then blocked it slightly more with dirt so that I could ensure that I wouldn't make that same mistake again.

I highly recommend playing the Minecraft Survival Island map as it gives a real edge of excitement that you won't experience from playing normally. You feel anxious and slightly worried about what's likely to happen.
