It is called community or gang stalking, or at work -workplace mobbing

Once a targeted individual is flagged a notification is sent out to the community at large, and the individual is followed around 24/7 by the various communities that they are in. This notification system will follow the targeted individual if they move, change jobs, visit other areas. It let's the community believe that the targeted individual is a person who needs to be watched, followed or monitored. The target is blacklisted and has a ruined reputation and is unable to build or maintain any kind of relationships.

The goal is to control the targeted individual, isolate the individual, and leave the target into a situation where they have no support system. The secondary goals seem to be to make the individual homeless, jobless, or give them a breakdown. Eventually the victim has enough bad references, that he remains unemployed and has lost many friends that he finds it hard to have a normal social life.
