Philadelphia Medical Billing, Credentialing

Medwave is pleased to offer our medical billing and credentialing services to healthcare professionals in the City of Philadelphia, PA and surrounding communities.

In 1843, a student at the “med school of the University of Pennsylvania,” as he called it in a letter to a friend, professed Philadelphia “decidedly the city of the Union for doctors, the facilities for study making it a perfect little Paris.”

The comparison indicated the prominence of the French capital at the time for bedside teaching and anatomical dissection. By that point in the mid-nineteenth century, Philadelphia had become the nation’s foremost medical city, know especially for its wealth of opportunity for medical education.

Even in the period of decline in the early decades of the twentieth century, Philadelphia’s medical institutions never lost their reputation for the highest quality training of medical students, residents, nurses and pharmacists. In fact, the attraction grew as the major centers expanded.

By the later decades of the twentieth century, “health care” and healthcare related education became the region’s dominant industry. White coats, short and long, continue as a persistent visible attribute of the city and region.

Today, the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania is the flagship hospital of Penn Medicine and is located in the University section of the city. It consistently ranks as one of the top hospitals in the country and is the oldest university-owned teaching hospital in the United States.

Two other renowned medical institutions, Einstein Healthcare Network and Jefferson Health recently announced that the Federal Trade Commission would no longer challenge the merger of the two medical systems. This will expand Jefferson to 18 hospitals, improve health education and research opportunities in the region.

Southeast Pennsylvania includes more than 15,000 practicing physicians and has 40 licensed acute care facilities with 38 emergency rooms. Furthermore, the greater Philadelphia area encompasses a diverse line-up of behavioral health organizations, rehabilitation and other specialty hospitals, a mixture of both owned and independent practice groups and a number of accountable care organizations.

Managing the overall administration and reimbursement for all these medical facilities and practitioners is definitely not an easy task. That's why Medwave is offering its expertise in medical billing and credentialing to the range of healthcare professionals in the Philadelphia area.

How can Medwave improve your Medical Billing?

- Streamline claims and collection processing – Our experts efficiently manage your claims to make sure you obtain timely and appropriate reimbursements for the work you've completed.
- Reduce rejections and denials – We cautiously evaluate claims to ensure they are complete before submitting to insurance, reducing rejections and denials.
- Free up your staff – Because we administer the billing process, your staff members can concentrate on caring for your patients.
- Increased cash flow – We maintain a continuous flow of claims going out and cash coming in. You'll typically get paid faster by investing almost nothing in staff training.
- Transparency — You can review compiled data or monitor the process at any time. This gives you up-to-the-minute assessments of how your practice's billing is being processed.
- Data security – Protecting patient data is critical. We take on the responsibility to protect all patient information (HIPAA compliant).

Our expert billers with their pool of knowledge will give your practice the edge in competing with other Philadelphia medical facilities and practices.

What about Credentialing Services?

We are well aware of how the credentialing process can affect your bottom line. Perhaps you have a medical professional just starting up in your practice or you merely want some assistance with the normal functions involved in credentialing — either way, we are here to help.

Here are some of the benefits we offer in your credentialing process:

1. Reduction of application mistakes which could significantly delay the application process
2. Saves you and your practice time, paperwork and frustration
3. Frees up schedule space for staff to work on other tasks
4. You experience an overall decrease in operating costs

Medwave is a reputable credentialing service. We will have better success getting you credentialed (efficiently) than most other groups. This means you can start seeing clients with insurance(s) sooner rather than later. Understanding the value of medical credentialing can assist any medical provider.
