More about Job Browser method- It consists of: searching for competitive jobs (off line and online), making recordings with multimedia tools (video and photo), creating theatre story or case study by using methods of non-formal and informal education. This is an innovative way for professional orientation, identification of soft skills needed for desired jobs, self-assessment and planning further education and profession to young people, including those with fewer opportunities. This method will help young people to learn about their interests, values, skills and personality type. This method is also suitable for young people who are at risk of leaving school and those with low basic skills.
