Chapter One

Put On your Mic

Put on your Mic is the expression of confidence and display of understanding in your capacity. This is the lifestyle and mentality of believing that you capacity is what sharing. This is the understanding that what you have is a solution to your generation. This is the understanding that what you have is an answer to the unanswered question in your generation through your capacity.

This is not just the believe; it is your attitude aligning with what you have choose to believe about your capacity. It is the mentality and attitude that position you in a way to be useful to your generation. This is the attitude of seeing a need your talent and capacity can feed.

This is you giving your talent and capacity a voice to be heard. This is you giving your talent and capacity the chance to grow and improve into a better version of solution. This is you acknowledging your capacity and talent is special and needed. This is you acknowledging that your generation needs you and your talent to survive and sustain success.

This is you acknowledging that you don't know it all, have it all or seen it all but ready to learn, and ask questions for clarity. This is you saying yes to your talent and capacity. This is you admitting that you also need others to survive. This is not the attitude of confidence alone but also a display of humility.

Putting on your Mic is not a one-time deal. It is a continuous practice, thinking pattern, and attitude in your daily learning, preparation, and manifesting of your talent and capacity. It is not the place of competing with other people or trying to prove a point to the set of people that have despised or insulted you.

The first way for you to put on your Mic is not in manifestation of your talent and capacity. It is in discovering and learning the diversity of your capacity. You need to come to a place where you understand your own identity and also knowing your place in this generation. This is the first way of putting on your Mic

The second way of putting on your Mic is in you learning, and getting the necessary training for the sustainability and usage of your capacity and talent. This is another way of putting on your Mic.

The third way is you cultivating a team work mentality; Learning, understanding and accepting the uniqueness in you and other people's capacity and talent. You can't rise all by yourself. You have to be mentored and announced by someone. You must be ready to listen and willing to be taught. You must be ready to be led and humble enough to sit down, and take instructions from your mentor.

IN A CLEAR STATEMENT, YOUR SELF-DISCOVERY AND YOUR ABILITY TO IDENTIFY THE RIGHT MENTOR HOLDS THE STRENGTH TO PUT ON YOUR MIC.

We have a lot of problems and struggles going on in this generation because you think you are not good enough to put on your Mic Putting on the Mic is not the challenge because that is what some people are currently doing and they are creating more pain. Everybody has a Mic and you must be able to discover your own Mic Don't fall a victim of using another person's Mic but be comfortable in using your own Mic.

We have three set of people;

- ✚ People who think they don't deserve to have a Mic.
- ✚ People who think their Mic is inferior and they are interested in using other people's Mic.
- ✚ People who think and active in using their Mic.

Irrespective of where you belong, I want you to understand that there is room for you to become the best version of yourself. This is not a dead end for you but a bend for redirection. There is a way to go about putting on your Mic

If you must put on your own Mic, you must be able to deal with your own fear. What is your fear? Is it the fear of rejection? Is the fear of isolation? Whatsoever your fear might be, don't run away from it. Turn them into a resource for you to use in seeking more knowledge about what you are afraid. Whatsoever you are afraid should inspire you in setting the pace, and direction for learning, training, and preparation. Use it to build yourself, and don't allow it to tear and cripple you from putting on your Mic

If you must put on your own Mic, you must be able to deal with your own worries. Don't bury your worries rather turn them into the quest for understanding your own uniqueness. Let it drive your quest for understand the dimension of your capacity and talent. Don't let your worries stop you from putting on your own Mic

If you must put on your own Mic, you must be able to deal with your doubts. This should inspire you to understand the principle behind how things function according to the dimension of your capacity and talent. Don't let your doubts cripple your decision making in the direction of your capacity and talent. Use your doubts to build yourself and gain the wisdom to handle challenges even if any aspect of your fears, worries, and doubts shows up (either here or in future).

Putting on your own Mic is needed or necessary because that is what justified your birth. Your purpose for existence depends on it. Your direction in life depends on it. The fulfillment of your vision depends on it. The execution of your assignment depends on it. It is not an option but a necessity.

This entire out pouring of knowledge is not for everybody. This eBook is dedicated to poets, singers and public speakers. It is time for you to stand up through your own uniqueness and become the best version of the poets, singers, and public speakers God had ordained you all to be individually. There are many poets but your kind is rare. There are many singers but your kind is rare. There are many public speakers but your kind is rare. You need to value your own capacity and uniqueness.

There is no body that can express passion through poems like the way you do. There is no one that expresses any inspiration like the way you do when you sing. There is no body that can share ideas through public speaking like the way you do. There are people that are better than you and some people that are below you but there is none that is exactly like you.

There is no body that can impact this generation just the way God has wired you to impact this generation. There is no body that can produce the exact solution that your capacity is wired to generate in this generation. There is no body that can produces answers like the way God has designed you to produce in this generation.

There is other place for you to find this person that I have explained and expressed aside you. What you have read so far is all about yourself. This poet is you, this singer is you and this public speaker is you depending on your capacity.

You are better than you think. You are wiser than how you feel presently. There is another dimension of creativity in you that you have not tapped into and now is the time to arise. Stop waiting and start accepting your own uniqueness. You are the change that you have been waiting for – wait no more. Embrace the lifestyle of constant learning, discovering, preparation and impacting your generation. There is no need for arrival mentality because success is a journey and not a stage.

Your past, your mistakes, your flaws and regrets are not strong enough to keep you down if you rise up today through the Grace of our Lord Jesus in putting on your own Mic. The time is now. Make no excuse and stretch to become everything God has created you to become....POET, SINGER OR PUBLIC SPEAKER.

John 15:5

I am the vine; you are the branches. If a man remains in me and I in him, he will bear much fruit; apart from me you can do nothing.

CONFESSION OF FAITH

To give your life to Jesus and establish a personal relationship with him, confess these words: Jesus, I acknowledge you love for me today. I believe you are the son of the living God. I believe that you came to earth, suffered, died and resurrected for my salvation from sin.

Jesus! I am interested in a relationship with you. Reveal the plan behind you saving me. I want to know my calling, purpose and assignment in the Body of Christ and in this generation in Jesus Name.
