Quality over everything. It's a mantra shared by the best builders in the space, and something we'd like to adhere to at Priming as well.

With that said, though we've expanded Beta access, we've paused over the past 2 weeks to ensure that our data quality has complete testing coverage, and that our pipelines have the proper observability and monitoring capabilities needed to provide this quality.

We're back to our core roadmap and are now finalising our single card page, continuing to roll out financial filtering, and pushing towards a lightweight homepage. We'll then turn our attention to the Portfolio experience as our next milestone.

The screenshot shows the Priming dashboard interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'PRIMING', 'Dashboard', and 'Popular' tabs. The main content area is titled 'Gm, Raritycapital' with a sub-header 'Thursday, August 24'. Below this, there's a status indicator 'Parallel markets are bullish' with an upward arrow. A section titled 'WHAT'S HAPPENING TODAY' contains a message: 'Stay up to date with daily news from Echelon, Parallel, and community sources pushed right here. Coming soon.' The 'Overview' section displays a grid of metrics: Prime ($3.56 +21%), Parallel Mkt Cap (Ξ3.21 +21%), Volume ($1.34M +21%), Parallel Volume (Ξ3.21 +21%), Active Wallets (765 +21%), Parallel Txns (Ξ3.21 +21%), and Unique Wallets ($1.34M +21%), Parallel (Ξ3.21 +21%). The 'Transactions' section shows a list of sales transactions for 'Cunning Scipian [SE]' with values like Ξ3.21 and various floor percentages. The 'Popular' section at the bottom features five cards, each for 'Cunning Scipian [SE]' with a value of Ξ3.21 and a change of +Ξ0.11 (+21%).

We can't wait to give broader access to the community, and that process start again next week!

By the way, we've also been dusting off our DeFi hats and have a surprise project on the way that will help everyone earn at least a little more Prime!
